Information Structure and Sentence Form Knud Lambrecht, 1996-11-13 Why do speakers of all languages use different grammatical structures under different communicative circumstances to express the same idea Professor Lambrecht explores the relationship between the structure of the sentence and the linguistic and extra linguistic context in which it is used His analysis is based on the observation that the structure of a sentence reflects a speaker s assumption about the hearer s state of knowledge and consciousness at the time of the utterance This relationship between speaker assumptions and formal sentence structure is governed by rules and conventions of grammar in a component called information structure Four independent but interrelated categories are analysed presupposition and assertion identifiability and activation topic and focus beyond lexical processing autobiographical memory the representation and interaction of syntactic knowledge and the consequences of bilingualism The volume demonstrates the theoretical significance and real world practical implications of research into bilingual language processing and will be a valuable resource for seminars and courses from advanced undergraduate level upwards Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports ,1983 Lists citations with abstracts for aerospace related reports obtained from world wide sources and announces documents that have recently been entered into the NASA Scientific and Technical Information Database Chinese Lexical Semantics Qin Lu,Hong Gao,2016-01-11 This book constitutes the thoroughly refereed post workshop proceedings of the 16th Chinese Lexical Semantics Workshop CLSW 2015 held in Beijing China in May 2015 The 64 regular and 4 short papers included in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 248 submissions They are organized in topical sections named lexical semantics lexical resources lexicology natural language processing and applications and syntax Consciousness and Action Control T.
