A New Writing Classroom Listening Motivation And Habits Of Mind Patrick Sullivan:

A New Writing Classroom Patrick Sullivan, 2014-07-15 In A New Writing Classroom Patrick Sullivan provides a new generation of teachers a means and a rationale to reconceive their approach to teaching writing calling into question the discipline's dependence on argument Including secondary writing teachers within his purview Sullivan advocates a more diverse exploratory and flexible approach to writing activities in grades six through thirteen A New Writing Classroom encourages teachers to pay more attention to research in learning theory transfer of learning international models for nurturing excellence in the classroom and recent work in listening to teach students the sort of dialogic stance that leads to higher order thinking and more sophisticated communication The conventional argumentative essay is often a simplistic form of argument widely believed to be the most appropriate type of writing in English classes but other kinds of writing may be more valuable to students and offer more important kinds of cognitive challenges Focusing on listening and dispositions or habits of mind as central elements of this new composition pedagogy A New Writing Classroom draws not just on composition studies but also on cognitive psychology philosophy learning theory literature and history making an exciting and significant contribution to the field

(Re)Considering What We Know Linda Adler-Kassner, Elizabeth Wardle, 2020-01-10 Naming What We Know Threshold Concepts of Writing Studies published in 2015 contributed to a discussion about the relevance of identifying key concepts and ideas of writing studies Re Considering What We Know continues that conversation while simultaneously raising questions about the ideas around threshold concepts Contributions introduce new concepts investigate threshold concepts as a framework and explore their use within and beyond writing Part 1 raises questions about the ideologies of consensus that are associated with naming threshold concepts of a discipline Contributions challenge the idea of consensus and seek to expand both the threshold concepts framework and the concepts themselves Part 2 focuses on threshold concepts in action and practice demonstrating the innovative ways threshold concepts and a threshold concepts framework have been used in writing courses and programs Part 3 shows how a threshold concepts framework can help us engage in conversations beyond writing studies Re Considering What We Know raises new questions and offers new ideas that can help to advance the discussion and use of threshold concepts in the field of writing studies It will be of great interest to scholars and graduate students in writing studies especially those who have previously engaged with Naming What We Know

Sixteen Teachers Teaching Patrick Sullivan, 2020-12-01 Sixteen Teachers Teaching is a warmly personal full access tour into the classrooms and teaching practices of sixteen distinguished two year college English professors Approximately half of all basic writing and first year composition classes are now taught at two year colleges so the perspectives of English faculty who teach at these institutions are particularly valuable for our profession This book shows us how a group of acclaimed teachers put together their classes design reading and writing assignments and theorize their work as writing instructors All of these teachers have spent their careers teaching multiple sections of writing classes each semester or term so this book presents readers with an impressive and perhaps unprecedented abundance of pedagogical expertise teaching knowledge and classroom experience Sixteen Teachers Teaching is a book filled with joyfulness wisdom and pragmatic advice It has been designed to be a source of inspiration for high school and college English teachers as they go about their daily work in the classroom Contributors Peter Adams Jeff Andelora Helane Adams Androne Taiyon J Coleman Renee DeLong Kathleen Sheerin DeVore Jamey Gallagher Shannon Gibney Joanne Baird Giordano Brett Griffiths Holly Hassel Darin Jensen Jeff Klausman Michael C Kuhne Hope Parisi and Howard Tinberg

Teaching Readers in Post-Truth America Ellen C. Carillo, 2018-10-01 Teaching Readers in Post Truth America shows how postsecondary teachers can engage with the phenomenon of post truth Drawing on research from the fields of educational and cognitive psychology human development philosophy and education Ellen C Carillo demonstrates that teaching critical reading is a strategic and targeted response to the current climate Readers in this post truth culture are under unprecedented pressure to interpret an overwhelming quantity of texts in many forms including speeches news articles position papers and social media posts In response Carillo describes pedagogical interventions designed to help students become more metacognitive about their own reading and in turn better equipped to respond to texts in a post truth culture Teaching Readers in Post Truth America is an invaluable source of support for writing instructors striving to prepare their students to resist post truth rhetoric and participate in an information rich divisive democratic society

Democracy, Social Justice, and the American Community College Patrick Sullivan, 2021-07-17 This book provides scholars educators and legislators with a personal classroom level tour of daily life at a community college Readers will accompany the author into the classroom as he goes about his work as an English teacher meeting with classes and corresponding with students on Blackboard and e mail Answering the call for student centered scholarship this book blends traditional academic writing with chapters that feature a rich variety of student work including essays journal entries poems art and responses to creative assignments In this volume Sullivan theorizes the modern community college as a social justice institution By mission and mandate the modern community college has democratized America s system of higher education and distributed hope equity and opportunity more broadly across the nation Economic Inequality, Neoliberalism, and the American Community College Patrick Sullivan, 2017-05-11 This book aims to deepen public understanding of the community college and to challenge our longstanding reliance on a deficit model for defining this important powerful and transformative institution Featuring a unique combination of data and research Sullivan seeks to help redefine update and reshape public perception about community colleges This book gives serious attention to student voices and includes narratives written by community college students about their experiences attending college at an open admissions institution Sullivan examines the history of the modern community college and the economic model that is driving much of the current discussion in higher education today Sullivan argues that the community college has done much to promote social justice and economic equality in America since the founding of the modern community college in 1947 by the Truman Commission The Framework for Success in Postsecondary Writing Nicholas N. Behm, Sherry Rankins-Robertson, 2017-03-03 Illustrates the widespread applications of the Framework for Success in Postsecondary Writing especially the eight habits of mind in helping students to be successful not only in postsecondary writing courses but also in four arenas of life academic professional civic and personal

The Case for Critical Literacy Alice S. Horning, 2024-08-15 The Case for Critical Literacy explores the history of reading within writing studies and lays the foundation for understanding the impact of this critical yet often untaught skill Every measure of students reading comprehension whether digital or analog demonstrates that between 50 and 80 percent of students are unable to capture the substance of a full discussion or evaluate material for authority accuracy currency relevancy appropriateness and bias This book examines how college level instruction reached this point and provides pedagogical strategies that writing instructors and teachers can use to address the problem Alice Horning makes the case for the importance of critical reading in the teaching of writing with intentionality and imagination while sharing glimpses of her own personal history with reading and writing Horning provides the context for understanding what college faculty face in their classrooms and offers a history of critical literacy that explains why to date it has mostly neglected or ignored the diverse statuses of students reading challenges The Case for Critical Literacy explores actionable options to better meet students literacy needs College and university faculty especially writing instructors will benefit from an understanding of what has happened in the field and what needs to change Explanation Points John R Gallagher, Dànielle Nicole
