A Poetics Of Homecoming Heidegger Homelessness And The Homecoming Venture:

A Poetics of Homecoming Brendan O'Donoghue, 2011-05-25 This investigation addresses a pressing anxiety of our time that of homelessness Tersely stated the philosophical significance of homelessness in its more modern context can be understood to emerge with Nietzsche and his discourse on nihilism which signals the loss of the highest values hitherto Diverging from Nietzsche Heidegger interprets homelessness as a symptom of the oblivion of being The purpose of the present enquiry is to rigorously confront humanity's state of homelessness and at the same time illumine the extent to which Heidegger's thought engages with this pervasive phenomenon In questioning the nature of homelessness Heidegger's preoccupations with nihilism and modern technology prove crucial Moreover his attempts to overcome or prepare for the overcoming of this state of homelessness are also of great import to the current investigation Adorno and Levinas offer scathing critiques of Heidegger's thought as it relates to the motifs of homelessness homecoming Heimkunft and the German Heimat for they associate it with provincialism paganism and a pernicious form of politics In providing these critiques they bring to light the risks involved in undertaking a homecoming venture and they also show how a great thinker can err greatly While acknowledging the importance of these criticisms the present study reveals how Heidegger's various discourses on homelessness and homecoming bear fruitful insights that can contribute not just to a Germanic sense of homecoming but to a sense of homecoming that humanity at large can relate to and be enriched by "Into Life." Franz Rosenzweig on Knowledge, Aesthetics, and Politics, 2021-07-26 The articles collected in Into Life Franz Rosenzweig on Knowledge Aesthetics and Politics focus on the significance of Franz Rosenzweig's work far beyond the realms of theology and philosophy of religion They engage with a wide range of issues in philosophy and offer new insights both by presenting an array of unpublished and underestimated sources and by bringing Rosenzweig's thought into dialogue with new approaches and interlocutors such as Stanley Cavell William Alston Carl Schmitt and Martin Heidegger The result is a refreshing and original perspective on the work of one of the most significant thinkers of the twentieth century Architecture, Culture, and Spirituality Thomas Barrie, Julio Bermudez, Phillip James Tabb, 2016-03-09 Architecture has long been understood as a cultural discipline able to articulate the human condition and lift the human spirit yet the spirituality of architecture is rarely directly addressed in academic scholarship The seventeen chapters provide a diverse range of perspectives grouped according to topical themes Being in the World Sacred Secular and the Contemporary Condition Symbolic Engagements Sacred Landscapes and Spirituality and the Designed Environment Even though the authors approach the subject from a range of disciplines and theoretical positions all share interests in the need to rediscover redefine or reclaim the sacred in everyday experience scholarly analysis and design The Homelessness of Being Prashan Ranasinghe, 2025-03-14 The Homelessness of Being invites readers to consider what it means to be human This dialogue between sociology and the early and middle phases of Heidegger's writings argues that to be human is to be homeless This homelessness is not one of materiality of being houseless but one that is ontological the homelessness that constitutes the essence of humanity where one is disconnected from the essence of one's self or being Prashan Ranasinghe theorizes this homelessness as an indeterminate nothingness where the notion of being is unsettled because it is an amalgam of something and nothing More broadly the book adds to existing debates about whether especially after the global pandemic the social sciences have failed to explore everyday affects such as anxiety and boredom as revelatory of the essential homelessness of being human It will interest philosophers sociologists and scholars engaging with Heidegger's ideas Heidegger and Kabbalah Elliot R. Wolfson, 2019-10-01 While many scholars have noted Martin Heidegger's indebtedness to Christian mystical sources as well as his affinity with Taoism and Buddhism Elliot R. Wolfson expands connections between Heidegger's thought and kabbalistic material By arguing that the Jewish esoteric tradition impacted Heidegger Wolfson presents an alternative way of understanding the history of Western philosophy Wolfson's comparison between Heidegger and kabbalah sheds light on key concepts such as hermeneutics temporality language and being and nothingness while yielding surprising reflections on their common philosophical ground Given Heidegger's involvement with National Socialism and his use of antisemitic language these innovative readings are all the more remarkable for their juxtaposition of incongruent fields of discourse Wolfson's entanglement with Heidegger and kabbalah not only enhances understandings of both but more profoundly serves as an ethical corrective to their respective ethnocentrism and essentialism Wolfson masterfully illustrates the redemptive capacity of thought to illuminate common ground in seemingly disparate philosophical traditions Imagining Ithaca Kathleen Riley, 2021 By examining an eclectic range of creative works spanning the century following the Armistice of 1918 Imagining Ithaca presents a narrative of imaginings and experiences simple and complex relating to home longings for home and things absent homecoming and exile Mapping Home in Contemporary Narratives Aleksandra Bida, 2018-09-22 By offering an analysis of the idea of home across the individual interpersonal social and global scales Mapping Home aims to show the extent to which self concept is deeply tied to constructions of home in a globally mobile age The epistemological link between dwelling as knowing oneself and the experience of welcome as key to being able to map one's place's in the world are examined through Martin Heidegger's concept of dwelling Zygmunt Bauman's notion of liquid modernity Jacques Derrida's exploration of hostile hospitality and Kwame Anthony Appiah's sense of cosmopolitanism as border crossing conversation To further explore these ideas the book draws on multimodal literature and films that span genres including gothic horror fantasy and science fiction thoughtful comedies and politically nuanced tragedies The quality that deeply links the texts is their ability to illuminate the stabilities and mobilities through which home not only mediates but also integrates an individual's diverse experiences of belonging in different locations as well as on different geocultural scales from the intimate household to the more abstract hometown or homeland and beyond A Search for Belonging Marc Ripley, 2017-11-28 As one of the foremost Spanish directors of all time Luis Buñuel's filmography has been the subject of innumerable studies

Despite the fact that the twenty films he made in Mexico between 1947 and 1965 represent the most prolific stage of his career as a filmmaker these have remained relatively neglected in writing on Buñuel and his work This book focuses on nine of the director's films made in Mexico in order to show that a concerted focus on space an important aspect of the films narratives that is often intimated by scholars yet rarely developed can unlock new philosophical meaning in this rich body of work Although in recent years Buñuel's Mexican films have begun to enjoy a greater presence in criticism on the director they are often segregated according to their perceived critical value effectively creating two substrands of work the independent movies and the studio potboilers The interdisciplinary approach of this book unites the two focusing on films such as Los olvidados Nazarín and El ángel exterminador alongside La Mort en ce jardin The Young One and Simón del desierto among others In doing so it avoids the tropes most often associated with Buñuel's cinema surrealism Catholicism the derision of the bourgeoisie and the approach most often invoked in analysis of these themes psychoanalysis Instead this book takes inspiration from the fields of human geography anthropology and philosophy applying these to film focused readings of Buñuel's Mexican cinema to argue that ultimately these films depict an overriding sense of placelessness overtly or subliminally enacting a search for belonging that forces the viewer to question what it means to be in place

Heidegger and Homecoming Robert Mugerauer, 2008-10-21 Martin Heidegger's philosophical works devoted themselves to challenging previously held ontological notions of what constitutes being and much of his work focused on how beings interact within particular spatial locations Frequently Heidegger used the motifs of homelessness and homecoming in order to express such spatial interactions and despite early and continued recognition of the importance of homelessness and homecoming this is the first sustained study of these motifs in his later works Utilizing both literary and philosophical analysis Heidegger and Homecoming reveals the deep figural unity of the German philosopher's writings by exploring not only these homecoming and homelessness motifs but also the six distinctive voices that structure the apparent disorder of his works In this illuminating and comprehensive study Robert Mugerauer argues that these motifs and Heidegger's many voices are required to overcome and replace conventional and linear methods of logic and representation Making use of material that has been both neglected and yet to be translated into English Heidegger and Homecoming explains the elaborate means with which Heidegger proposed that humans are able to open themselves to others while at the same time preserve their self identity

At The Existentialist Café Sarah Bakewell, 2016-03-03 Shortlisted for the PEN Hessel Tiltman Prize Paris near the turn of 1932 3 Three young friends meet over apricot cocktails at the Bec de Gaz bar on the rue Montparnasse They are Jean Paul Sartre Simone de Beauvoir and their friend Raymond Aron who opens their eyes to a radical new way of thinking It's not often that you miss your bus stop because you're so engrossed in reading a book about existentialism but I did exactly that

The story of Sartre Beauvoir Camus Heidegger et al is strange fun and compelling reading If it doesn't win awards I will eat my copy Independent on Sunday Bakewell shows how fascinating were some of the existentialists ideas and how fascinating often frightful were their lives Vivid humorous anecdotes are interwoven with a lucid and unpatronising exposition of their complex philosophy Tender incisive and fair Daily Telegraph Quirky funny clear and passionate Few writers are as good as Bakewell at explaining complicated ideas in a way that makes them easy to understand Mail on Sunday All Religion Is Inter-Religion Kambiz GhaneaBassiri, Paul Robertson, 2019-07-11 All Religion Is Inter Religion analyses the ways inter religious relations have contributed both historically and philosophically to the constructions of the category of religion as a distinct subject of study Regarded as contemporary classics Steven M Wasserstrom's Religion after Religion 1999 and Between Muslim and Jew 1995 provided a theoretical reorientation for the study of religion away from hierophanies and ultimacy and toward lived history and deep pluralism This book distills and systematizes this reorientation into nine theses on the study of religion Drawing on these theses and Wasserstrom's opus more generally a distinguished group of his colleagues and former students demonstrate that religions can and must be understood through encounters in real time and space through the complex relations they create and maintain between people and between people and their pasts The book also features an afterword by Wasserstrom himself which poses nine riddles to students of religion based on his personal experiences working on religion at the turn of the twenty first century Giving Beyond the Gift Elliot R. Wolfson, 2014-02-03 This book explores the co dependency of monotheism and idolatry by examining the thought of several prominent twentieth century Jewish philosophers Cohen Buber Rosenzweig and Levinas While all of these thinkers were keenly aware of the pitfalls of scriptural theism to differing degrees they each succumbed to the temptation to personify transcendence even as they tried either to circumvent or to restrain it by apophatically purging kataphatic descriptions of the deity Derrida and Wyschogrod by contrast carried the project of denegation one step further embarking on a path that culminated in the aporetic suspension of belief and the consequent removal of all images from God a move that seriously compromises the viability of devotional piety The inquiry into apophatic transcendence and immanence in these Jewish thinkers is symptomatic of a larger question Recent attempts to harness the apophatic tradition to construct a viable postmodern negative theology a religion without religion are not radical enough Not only are these philosophies of transcendence guilty of a turn to theology that defies the phenomenological presupposition of an immanent phenomenality but they fall short on their own terms inasmuch as they persist in employing metaphorical language that personalizes transcendence and thereby runs the risk of undermining the irreducible alterity and invisibility attributed to the transcendent other The logic of apophaticism if permitted to run its course fully would exceed the need to posit some form of transcendence that is not ultimately a facet of immanence Apophatic theologies accordingly must be supplanted by a more far reaching apophaticism that surpasses the theolatrous impulse lying coiled at the crux of theism an apophaticism of apophaticism based on accepting an absolute nothingness to be distinguished from the nothingness of an absolute that does not signify the unknowable One but rather the manifold that is the pleromatic abyss at being's core. Hence the much celebrated metaphor of the gift must give way to the more neutral and less theologically charged notion of an unconditional givenness in which the distinction between giver and given collapses. To think givenness in its most elemental phenomenological sense is to allow the apparent to appear as given without presuming a causal agency that would turn that given into a gift. House and Home

Thomas Barrie, 2017-03-16 House and home are words routinely used to describe where and how one lives. This book challenges predominant definitions and argues that domesticity fundamentally satisfies the human need to create and inhabit a defined place in the world. Consequently, house and home have performed numerous cultural and ontological roles and have been assiduously represented in scripture, literature, art, and philosophy. This book presents how the search for home in an unpredictable world led people to create myths about the origins of architecture: houses for their gods and house tombs for eternal life. Turning to more recent topics, it discusses how writers often used simple huts as a means to address the essentials of existence. Modernist architects envisioned the capacity of house and home to improve society, and the suburban house was positioned as a superior setting for culture and family. Throughout the book, house and home are critically examined to illustrate the perennial role and capacity of architecture to articulate the human condition, position it more meaningfully in the world, and assist in our collective homecoming. The Duplicity of Philosophy's Shadow Elliot R.

Wolfson, 2018-04-24 Martin Heidegger (1889–1976) is considered one of the most influential philosophers of the twentieth century. In spite of his well-known transgressions, his complicity with National Socialism, and his inability to show remorse or compassion for its victims, in The Duplicity of Philosophy's Shadow Elliot R. Wolfson intervenes in a debate that has seen much attention in scholarly and popular media from a unique perspective. As a scholar of Jewish mysticism and philosophy who has been profoundly influenced by Heidegger's work, Wolfson sets out to probe Heidegger's writings to expose what remains unthought. In spite of Heidegger's explicit anti-Semitic statements, Wolfson reveals some crucial aspects of his thinking, including criticism of the biological racism and militant apocalypticism of Nazism that betray an affinity with dimensions of Jewish thought: the triangulation of the concepts of homeland, language, and peoplehood; Jewish messianism and the notion of historical time as the return of the same that is always different; inclusion/exclusion and the status of the other; the problem of evil in kabbalistic symbolism. Using Heidegger's own methods, Wolfson reflects on the inextricable link of truth and untruth and investigates the matter of silence and the limits of speech. He challenges the tendency to bifurcate the relationship of the political and the philosophical in Heidegger's thought but parts company with those who write off Heidegger as a Nazi ideologue. Ultimately, The Duplicity of Philosophy's Shadow argues the greatness and relevance of Heidegger's work is that he presents us with the opportunity to think the unthinkable as part of our communal destiny as historical beings. Rethinking Dwelling Jeff Malpas, 2023-02-23 Over the last twenty years, Jeff Malpas' research has involved his engagement with architects and other academics around the issues of place architecture and landscape and particularly the way these practitioners have used the work of Martin Heidegger In Rethinking Dwelling Malpas primary focus is to rethink of these issues in a way that is directly informed by an understanding of place and the human relation it With essays on a range of architectural and design concerns as well as engaging with other thinkers on topics including textuality in architecture contemporary high rise construction the significance of the line the relation between building and memory and the idea of authenticity in architecture this book departs from the traditional phenomenological focus and provides students and scholars with a new ontological assessment of landscape and architecture As such it may also be used on other spatial or topographic disciplines including geography sociology anthropology and art in which the spatial turn has been so important

(Extra)Ordinary Presence Markus Gottwald, Kay Kirchmann, Heike Paul, 2017-08-15 Taking its cue from contemporary western debates on presence in the social sciences and the humanities this volume focuses on presence both as everyday experience and as an experience of intense moments It raises questions about diverse social configurations of presence as well as about the specific cultural repertoires which encode articulate and shape discourses of presence The contributions take as a premise that phenomena of presence are connected to particular forms of knowledge Especially tacit knowledge pre-determines experiences of individual and collective presence and becomes tangible in moments of presence or presentification

Jesus the Epic Hero, Karl Olav Sandnes, 2022-08-29 The ancient cento genre was prone to be used on all kinds of subjects New texts were created out of the classical epics Empress Eudocia followed this practice and composed the story of Jesus in lines lifted almost verbatim from Homer's epics Jesus and his relevance to her audience is thus presented within the confines of style and vocabulary offered by the Iliad and Odyssey The lines picked to convey her theology are often clustered around key Homeric motifs or type scenes such as warfare homecoming feast reconciliation hospitality Jesus waging war against all evil and Hades in particular runs throughout this Homeric and simultaneously biblical epic The story starts in the Old Testament which is conceived as a divine counsel on Mt Olympus where a plan to save sinful humanity is presented The narrative then follows the biographic lines of the canonical gospels with John's Gospel holding pride of place in the way she renders and interprets the Jesus story The story told suspends both the geography and time of Jesus Eudocia preaches the story she tells She emerges in this poem as one of the most if not the most prolific female theologian and preacher in the first Christian centuries
