A Mothers Conviction:

A mother's trial, by the author of 'The discipline of life'. lady Emily Charlotte M. Ponsonby, 1859 Mothers on Trial Phyllis Chesler, 2011-07-01 Completely updated and revised for the twenty first century Mothers on Trial remains the bible for all women facing a custody battle as well as the lawyers psychologists and others who support them This landmark book was the first to break the false stereotype about mothers getting preferential treatment over fathers when it comes to custody In this new edition Chesler shows that with few exceptions the news has only gotten worse when both the father and the mother want custody the father usually gets it The highly praised Mothers on Trial is essential reading for anyone concerned personally or professionally with custody rights and the well being of our children Mother's Milk Bernice L. Hausman, 2014-02-04 Mother's Milk examines why nursing a baby is an ideologically charged experience in contemporary culture Drawing upon medical studies feminist scholarship anthropological literature and an intimate knowledge of breastfeeding itself Bernice Hausman demonstrates what is at stake in mothers infant feeding choices economically socially and in terms of women's rights Breastfeeding controversies she argues reveal social tensions around the meaning of women's bodies the authority of science and the value of maternity in American culture A provocative and multi faceted work Mother's Milk will be of interest to anyone concerned with the politics of women's embodiment The Conviction of the Innocent (EasyRead Large Bold Edition) , Child Welfare Timothy Ross, 2009-04-10 Child welfare workers often need cooperation from other agencies that have their own goals and regulations The tangle of red tape that can result frustrates staff and robs youth of confidence in the system Child Welfare sets forth real world examples to guide interagency collaboration

Brody (Professor of criminal justice), 2014 A Wounded Daughter's Survival Deborah Leigh Alexander, 2011-08-04 For many years author Deborah Leigh Alexander lived in denial It was hard for her to understand how the emotional abuse she suffered during her childhood affected her adult life In this memoir Alexander takes a step back and relives her childhood in order to break free of the emotional bondage and to forgive heal and grow A Wounded Daughter's Survival recounts her personal and family history and comes to terms with the dysfunction that permeated her relationship with her parents Alexander narrates how she lived through many damaging and sometimes violent encounters in her formative years including overwhelming feelings of rejection by her parents Using personal anecdotes to illustrate how God has worked in her life she shares her experiences with her faith and how she found comfort and guidance in the Bible and through prayer This true and personal account sheds light on how emotional abuse truly damages lives By sharing her experiences of survival discovery and healing Alexander provides hope that a functional future is indeed possible A New Homicide Act for England and Wales? Great Britain: Law Commission,2006-04-04 This consultation paper reviews the law relating to homicide in England and Wales and sets out a number of provisional proposals in order to establish a more rational and coherent framework of legislation Issues discussed include the existing law and problems with it the definition of murder and manslaughter partial defences including provocation diminished responsibility and duress the fault element in murder and the concept of intention and the doctrine of double effect The paper proposes the creation of a new Homicide Act to replace the Homicide Act 1957 to establish clear definitions of murder and the partial defences to it as well as defining manslaughter within a graduated system of offences the ladder principle to reflect seriousness of offence and degrees of mitigation For example the offence of murder should be divided into two categories of first degree murder with a mandatory life sentence and second degree with a discretionary life sentence maximum Responses to the consultation paper proposals should be received by 13 04 2006 Rights of the Child, Mothers and Sentencing Alice Macharia,2021-02-22 This book draws international attention to the autonomy of the child accompanying incarcerated mothers and those they leave behind in the community despite being dependent on the convicted caregiver Adopting a child rights perspective the study explores how courts could go about sentencing mothers of young children for the commission of criminal offences whilst protecting the rights of the child as envisaged under the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child UNCRC Drawing on the author s experience as a sentencer in the Kenyan court and with reference to domestic regional and international law the book argues that children s rights are presently left in abeyance when their mothers are sentenced to imprisonment and that greater efforts should be made to recognize and give effect to the child s existence as an autonomous equal holder of human rights despite being dependent on the convicted caregiver It explores the application of precedence as well as the court s discretion in view of the dependent child and concludes that policy reform in this respect calls for change in attitude and approach on women and children s issues Observing that internationally most women imprisoned with their children fall beneath the custodial threshold set by law the research examines how current sentencing practices could be reformed and suggests harnessing the Power of Mercy Committee the Sentencing Guidelines and progressive practices from developed countries in protecting the child s rights by imposing non custodial sentences for the offending mothers It is concluded that in all jurisdictions strict accountability for the dependent child should be situated with the judiciary and that the same should be pronounced as a mandatory legal requirement The book will be a valuable resource for academic researchers and policy makers working in the area of international children s rights law and criminal law From Madness to Mutiny Amy Neustein,Michael Leshner,2005 A powerful expose of the family court system s prejudice against mothers trying to protect their sexually abused children The Psychology of Female Violence Anna Motz,2008-01-07 First Published in 2000 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company ABA Journal ,1988-02-01 The ABA Journal serves the legal profession Qualified recipients

Mnookin, 1992 Questions about how children fare in divided families have become as perplexing and urgent as they are common In this landmark work on custody arrangements the developmental psychologist Eleanor Maccoby and the legal scholar Robert Mnookin consider these questions and their ramifications for society The first book to examine the social and legal realities of how divorcing parents make arrangements for their children Dividing the Child is based on a large representative study of families from a wide range of socioeconomic levels Maccoby and Mnookin followed a group of more than one thousand families for three years after the parents filed for divorce Their findings show how different divorce agreements are reached from uncontested dealings to formal judicial rulings and how various custody arrangements fare as time passes and family circumstances change Numerous examples of joint custody and father custody are considered in this account along with the mother custody families more commonly studied and in most cases the point of view of both parents is presented Among families in which children spend time in both parental households the authors identify three different patterns of co parenting cooperative conflicted and disengaged They find that although divorcing parents seldom engage in formal legal disputes they are generally unable to cooperate effectively in raising their children Full of interesting findings with far reaching implications this book will be invaluable to the lawyers judges social workers and parents who more and more often must make wise and informed decisions concerning the welfare and care of children of divorce , Mothers in Prison Phyllis Jo Baunach, 2020-02-13 Several years ago Terry Moore a young first offender at the Florida Correctional Institution for Women gave birth to a baby whose father was a prison guard Mrs Moore won the right to have her baby stay with her in prison until she was released a few months later Although this incarcerated mother was reunited with her child shortly after giving birth many inmate mothers are not able to be with or see their children on a regular basis during incarceration Little is known about this significant and emotionally traumatic problem that confronts nearly two thirds of incarcerated women Building upon previous work this extraordinarily insightful volume offers fresh perspective on issues which surround the separation of inmate mothers and their children using questionnaire standardized scales and individual taped interviews The author examines issues such as the impact of separation by race the child s whereabouts at the time of the crime the child s placement and legal custody during the mother s incarceration inmate mothers interest in resuming the parental role after release child rearing attitudes of inmate mothers and the effects of the involvement of drugs on the mothers relationship with their children Through interviews with administrators staff and inmates Dr Baunach provides a detailed descriptive analysis of the development and operations of programs to retain mother child bonds in women s prisons in a variety of states Dr Baunach discusses day long overnight weekend visitations foster care placements and similar problems of the sort that mothers in prison uniquely must face The work also has a strong policy content providing unique and practical recommendations for policies and programs benefiting inmate mothers and children

Leadership as a Habit of Mind Barbara Mackoff, Gary Wenet, 2005 Leadership as a Habit of Mind is an insightful and original work The book is compulsively readable for its stories of personal experiences that have shaped the way leaders think and act Even better it offers a new concept habits of mind that will help other leaders and would be leaders to understand their own formative experiences and use them wisely HOWARD SCHULTZ Chairman and Chief Global Strategist Starbucks Coffee Company What an amazing way to think about leadership These fascinating real leader stories persuasively teach that sustainable public victories come from the inner work of private victories Dr STEPHEN R COVEY author of The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People A deeply moving book about leaders who know how to move leaders to great possibilities Spiritual and practical Complex and profoundly simple An important and unique addition to the leadership literature WARREN BENNIS Distinguished Professor of Business University of Southern California and author of Managing the Dream and On Becoming a Leader The mystery of leadership gets a jolt of real life enlightenment thanks to Mackoff and Wenet s sparkling new book The authors supply a big missing piece what really goes on inside a leader s head by tapping into some of the best leadership talent around and giving us a front row seat to the way these people think Instead of offering the same tired old profiles and how tos this book bristles with energy originality and oomph NANCY K AUSTIN coauthor A Passion for Excellence Enlightened leadership comes from within as Drs Mackoff and Wenet s provocative new book clearly illuminates This intelligent well researched book should be required reading for executives and entrepreneurs alike it is an invaluable guide for those who aspire to inspire the people and organizations that will flourish in this new century JANE ADAMS author of Women on Top and Making Good Conversations with Successful Men Wrongfully Convicted (Updated and Expanded Edition) Kent Roach, 2025-01-07 Canada s leading authority Kirk Makin journalist and author explains Canada s national tragedy of wrongful convictions how anyone could be caught up in them and what we can do to safeguard justice Canada has a serious problem a significant but unknown number of people have been convicted for crimes they didn t commit There are famous cases of wrongful convictions such as David Milgaard and Donald Marshall Jr where the system convicted the wrong person for murder But there are lesser known cases people who feel they have no option but to plead guilty and people convicted of crimes that were imagined by experts or the police that never in fact happened Kent Roach cofounder of the Canadian Registry of Wrongful Convictions award winning author and law professor has dedicated his illustrious career to documenting flaws in our justice system His work reveals that the burden of wrongful convictions falls disproportionately on the disadvantaged including Indigenous and racialized people those with cognitive issues single mothers and the poor This original and eye opening book makes a compelling case for change that governments have so far lacked the courage to implement Canadians would benefit from better legislative regulation of police and forensic experts and the creation of a permanent and independent federal commission investigate wrongful convictions and their multiple causes But do we have the political will Roach's research and the real life but hard to believe cases outlined here point to systemic failings in our legal system Many of the wrongfully convicted are still waiting for the promise of justice It is an issue that affects all Canadians
