A Prehistory Of Ordinary People:

A Prehistory of Ordinary People Monica L. Smith, 2010-12-15 For the past million years individuals have engaged in multitasking as they interact with the surrounding environment and with each other for the acquisition of daily necessities such as food and goods Although culture is often perceived as a collective process it is individual people who use language experience illness expend energy perceive landscapes and create memories These processes were sustained at the individual and household level from the time of the earliest social groups to the beginnings of settled agricultural communities and the eventual development of complex societies in the form of chiefdoms states and empires Even after the advent of civilization about 6 000 years ago human culture has for the most part been created and maintained not by the actions of elites as is commonly proclaimed by many archaeological theorists but by the many thousands of daily actions carried out by average citizens With this book Monica L Smith examines how the archaeological record of ordinary objects used by ordinary people constitutes a manifestation of humankind s cognitive and social development A Prehistory of Ordinary People offers an impressive synthesis and accessible style that will appeal to archaeologists cultural anthropologists and others interested in the long history of human decision making

Archives of Times Past Cynthia Kros, Geoffrey

Blundell, Jan Boeyens, Sekibakiba Peter Lekgoathi, Amanda Esterhuysen, Grant McNulty, Rachel King, Hlonipha Mokoena, Lize

Kriel, Fred Morton, Muchaparara Musemwa, Ndukuyakhe Ndlovu, Sifiso Mxolisi Ndlovu, Himal Ramji, Justine Wintjes, 2022-02 Archives of Times Past explores particular sources of evidence on southern Africa's time before the colonial era. It gathers recent ideas about archives and archiving from scholars in southern Africa and elsewhere focusing on the question: How do we know or think we know what happened in the times before European colonialism? The essays by well-known historians, archaeologists, and researchers engage these questions from a range of perspectives and in illuminating ways. Written from personal experience, they capture how these experts encountered their archives of knowledge beyond the textbook. The essays are written at a time when public discussion about the history of southern Africa before the colonial era is taking place more openly than at any other time in the last hundred years. They will appeal to students, academics, educationists, teachers, archivists, and heritage museum practitioners and the general public.

Surviving Hitler and Mussolini Robert Gildea, Olivier Wieviorka, Anette Warring, 2006-09-19 Examining how far everyday life was possible in a situation of total war and brutal occupation, this book's theme is the social experience of occupation in German and Italian-occupied Europe and, in particular, the strategies ordinary people developed in order to survive. It adopts a comparative approach and also discusses the Second World War.

Capturing Nursing History Sandra B. Lewenson, Eleanor Krohn Herrmann, 2007-11-16 Winner of the 2008 AJN Book of the Year Award, Named an Outstanding Academic Title for 2008 by Choice. This well-written and well-edited book fills a unique gap: one of the precious few books that focus on science or medicine and one of even fewer that cover the history of nursing. Three Stars Doody's Book Review Service. While there have been many research texts in the nursing literature and nursing history is both taught in courses and of popular interest to practicing nurses, there has never been a hands-on text that describes the process of doing historical research in nursing. This book, contributed by well-known and respected nurse-historians, provides the necessary direction, guidance, and examples needed to conduct historical research. It covers such topics as historiography, biographical research using artifacts in historical research, doing archival and other data searches, doing international historical research, and locating funding sources for historical research. Case studies will be used throughout to illustrate various methods and describe how, why, when, and where historical research is used in nursing. Features of this edition: Provides direction and tools for conducting historical research. Describes types of research including biographical and oral histories. Covers frameworks used to study historical events such as social, political, feminist, intellectual, and cultural. Addresses contemporary issues such as preserving and storing digitalized and tape-recorded data and obtaining institutional review board (IRB) approval for research and addressing ethical and legal issues in historical research. Includes case studies that provide a how-to guide to conducting research.

Women, Gender, and History Education Marie-Hélène Brunet, Kristina R. Llewellyn, Rose Fine-Meyer, 2024-11-07 This is the first edited collection to focus on women, gender, and history education in Canada. The aim of this edited collection is threefold: to offer a historical analysis of women and gender in K-12 teaching and learning of history; to provide an examination of women and gender in relation to contemporary pedagogy curriculum and resources in K 12 history education and teacher education and to explore the future of history education when informed by intersectional feminism and gender theory Readers are introduced to the ways in which women s historical narratives have been repeatedly marginalized despite the efforts of feminist activists and educators This collection is the beginning of a long overdue conversation about women and gender in how we teach and learn about the past

A History of the Human Community: Prehistory to 1500 William Hardy McNeill,1990

Reality TV Annette Hill,2014-11-13 Reality TV is popular entertainment And yet a common way to start a conversation about it is I wouldn t want anyone to know this but Why do people love and love to hate reality TV This book explores reality TV in all its forms from competitive talent shows to reality soaps examining a range of programmes from the mundane to those that revel in the spectacle of excess Annette Hill s research draws on interviews with television producers on the market of reality TV and audience research with over fifteen thousand participants during a fifteen year period Key themes in the book include the phenomenon of reality TV as a new kind of inter generic space the rise of reality entertainment formats and producer intervention audiences fans and anti fans the spectacle of reality and sports entertainment and the ways real people and celebrities perform themselves in cross media content Reality TV explores how this form of popular entertainment invites audiences to riff on reality to debate and reject reality claims making it ideal for students of media and cultural studies seeking a broader understanding of how media connects with trends in society and culture

Teaching History

Hilary Bourdillon,2013-10-31 Against a background of controversy surrounding the teaching of history this reader gathers the current thoughts of the leading practitioners The development of school history up to the national curriculum and beyond is traced and the main issues concerning history teachers today are examined These issues include access to history the definition of British history in a multicultural society gender and the place of history with the humanities Progression and attainment are discussed as is the development of pupil s historical understanding and practical approaches to teaching history to 11 18 level pupils are explored

Marriage and Family Elizabeth Peters,Claire M. Kamp Dush,2009

Family life has been radically transformed over the past three decades Half of all households are unmarried while only a quarter of all married households have kids A third of the nation s births are to unwed mothers and a third of America s married men earn less than their wives With half of all women cohabitating before they turn thirty and gay and lesbian couples settling down with increasing visibility there couldn t be a better time for a book that tracks new conceptions of marriage and family as they are being formed The editors of this volume explore the motivation to marry and the role of matrimony in a diverse group of men and women They compare empirical data from several emerging family types single co parent gay and lesbian among others to studies of traditional nuclear families and they consider the effect of public policy and recent economic developments on the practice of marriage and the stabilization or destabilization of family Approaching this topic from a variety of perspectives including historical cross cultural gendered demographic socio biological and social psychological viewpoints the editors highlight the complexity of the modern American family and the growing indeterminacy of its boundaries Refusing to adhere to any one position the editors provide an unbiased account of contemporary marriage and family

A History of the Human Community William Hardy McNeill,1997 An intellectually and stylistically unified overview of world history this text draws a global portrait of the human past showing how each part of the world fits into the overall balance in each successive age

Native to the Republic Minayo Nasiali,2016-10-20 In Native to the Republic Minayo Nasiali traces the process through which expectations about living standards and decent housing came to be understood as social rights in late twentieth century France These ideas evolved through everyday negotiations between ordinary people municipal authorities central state bureaucrats elected officials and social scientists in postwar Marseille Nasiali shows how these local level interactions fundamentally informed evolving ideas about French citizenship and the built environment namely that the institutionalization of social citizenship also created new spaces for exclusion Although everyone deserved social rights some were supposedly more deserving than others From the 1940s through the early 1990s metropolitan discussions about the potential for town planning to transform everyday life were shaped by colonial and later postcolonial migration within the changing empire As a port and the historical gateway to and from the colonies Marseille s interrelated projects to develop welfare institutions and manage urban space make it a particularly significant site for exploring this uneven process Neighborhood debates about the meaning and goals of modernization contributed to normative understandings about which residents deserved access to expanding social rights Nasiali argues that assumptions about racial social and spatial differences profoundly structured a differential system of housing in postwar France Native to the Republic highlights the value of new approaches to studying empire membership in the nation and the welfare state by showing how social citizenship was not simply constituted within imagined communities but also through practices involving the contestation of spaces and the enjoyment of rights

A History of Psychology Thomas Hardy Leahey,2017-10-02 A History of Psychology places social economic and political forces of change alongside psychology s internal theoretical and empirical arguments illuminating how the external world has shaped psychology s development and in turn how the late twentieth century s psychology has shaped society Featuring extended treatment of important movements such as the Enlightenment and the Scientific Revolution the textbook approaches the material from an integrative rather than wholly linear perspective The text carefully examines how issues in psychology reflect and affect concepts that lie outside the field of psychology s technical concerns as a science and profession This new edition features expanded attention on psychoanalysis after its founding as well as new developments in cognitive science artificial intelligence and behavioral economics Throughout the book strengthens its exploration of psychological ideas and the cultures in which they developed and reinforces the connections between psychology modernism and postmodernism The textbook covers scientific applied and professional psychology and is appropriate for higher level undergraduate and graduate students

Scotland: A

History from Earliest Times Alistair Moffat, 2015-09-22 In this book Alistair Moffat brings vividly to life the story of this great nation from the dawn of prehistory through to the twenty first century. Ambitious, richly detailed and highly readable, Scotland: A History From Earliest Times skilfully weaves together a dazzling array of fact and anecdote from a vast range of sources. The result is an imaginative, informative, balanced and varied portrait of Scotland seen not just through the experience of the kings, saints, warriors, aristocrats and politicians who populate the pages of conventional history books but also through that of ordinary people who have lived Scotland's history and have played their own important part in shaping its destiny.

Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing Kelly Boyd, 2019-10-09 The Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama. Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day, including individuals from related disciplines like Jürgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate. Additionally, the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national, regional and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality. In addition to the Western tradition, it includes substantial assessments of African, Asian and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies.

A Taste for Gardening Lisa Taylor, 2016-03-16 Is the garden a consumption site where identities are constructed? Do gardeners make aesthetic choices according to how they are positioned by class and gender? This book presents the first scholarly analysis of the relationship between media interest in gardening and cultural identities. With an examination of aesthetic dispositions as a symbolic mode of communication closely aligned to people's identities and drawing on ethnographic data gathered from encounters with gardeners, this book maps a typology of gardening taste, revealing that gardening, how plants are chosen, planted and cared for, is a classed and gendered practice manifested in specific types of visual aesthetics. This timely and original book develops a new area within cultural studies while contributing to debates about lifestyle and lifestyle media consumption, class and methodology. A must read for anybody concerned with or intrigued by the cultural construction of identification practices.

Cultural Sociology of the Middle East, Asia, and Africa Andrea L. Stanton, 2012 In our age of globalization and multiculturalism, it has never been more important to understand and appreciate all cultures across the world. The four volumes take a step forward in this endeavour by presenting concise information on those regions least well known to students across Europe, the Middle East, Asia and Africa. The volumes convey what daily life is like for people in these selected regions. Entries will aid readers in understanding the importance of cultural sociology to appreciate the effects of cultural forces around the world and to learn the history of countries and cultures within these important regions.

Key Features: Topics are explored within historical context in three broad historical periods: prehistory to 1250, 1250 to 1920, and 1920 to the present. One volume each is devoted to the regions of the Middle East and Africa, and then one volume to East and Southeast Asia, and a final volume to West Central and South

Asia The volumes include extensive use of photographs and maps to explain cultural and geographic content Each volume has its own volume editor with expertise in that particular region Key Themes Arts Culture and Science People Society and Dynasties Religion and Law Family and Daily Life Conflicts and Wars Politics and Government Health and Education Economy Trade and Industry National Geography and History
