Nestwork Jennifer Clary-Lemon, 2023-08-01 As more and more species fall under the threat of extinction humans are not only taking action to protect critical habitats but are also engaging more directly with species to help mitigate their decline Through innovative infrastructure design and by changing how we live humans are becoming more attuned to nonhuman animals and are making efforts to live alongside them Examining sites of loss temporal orientations and infrastructural mitigations Nestwork blends rhetorical and posthuman sensibilities in service of the ecological care In this innovative ethnographic study rhetorician Jennifer Clary Lemon examines human nonhuman animal interactions identifying forms of communication between species and within their material world Looking in particular at nonhuman species that depend on human development for their habitat Clary Lemon examines the cases of the barn swallow chimney swift and bobolink She studies their habitats along with the unique mitigation efforts taken by humans to maintain those habitats including building barn swallow gazebos and artificial chimneys and altering farming practices to allow for nesting and breeding What she reveals are fascinating forms of rhetoric not expressed through language but circulating between species and materials objects Nestwork explores what are in essence nonlinguistic and decidedly nonhuman arguments within these local environments Drawing on new materialist and Indigenous ontologies the book helps attune our senses to the tragedy of species decline and to a new understanding of home and homemaking Tense Times Lee M. Pierce, 2023-08-29 How the syntax used in US political discourse creates the very crises it describes American public culture is obsessed with crisis Political polarization economic collapse moral decline the worst seems always yet to come and already here Tense Times argues that the ways we discuss these crises especially through verb tenses not only contribute to our perception and description of such crises but create them Past Present Future These are the three principal verb tenses the category of syntax that allows us to discuss time that account for much of what is written about our crisis culture Lee M Pierce invites readers to expand their syntactic inventory beyond tense to include aspect duration and mood attitude Doing so opens new possibilities for understanding crisis discourse as Pierce demonstrates with close readings of three syntaxes the historical present the past imperfective and the retroactive subjunctive Each mode produces a different experience of crisis and can help us understand our current political reality The book investigates a dozen widely circulated discourses from the past decade of US political culture from Beyoncé's controversial hit single Formation to the presidential campaign slogans of Hillary Clinton and Donald Trump from the dueling rallies of Glenn Beck and Jon Stewart at the National Mall to the Ground Zero Mosque controversy and the 2007 2008 bailout Taking a comparative approach that integrates theories of syntax from rhetorical literary affect and cultural studies as well as linguistics computer science and Black studies Tense Times suggests that the public's conjuring of crisis is not inherently problematic Rather it is the openness of that crisis to contingency the possibility that things could have been otherwise that ought to concern anyone interested in language politics American culture current events or the direction this country is headed The Routledge Handbook of Language and Persuasion Jeanne Fahnestock, Randy Allen Harris, 2022-09-30 This handbook provides a wide ranging authoritative and cutting edge overview of language and persuasion Featuring a range of international contributors the handbook outlines the basic materials of linguistic persuasion sound words syntax and discourse and the rhetorical basics that they enable such as appeals argument schemes arrangement strategies and accommodation devices After a comprehensive introduction that brings together the elements of linguistics and the vectors of rhetoric the handbook is divided into six parts Part I covers the basic rhetorical appeals to character the emotions argument schemes and types of issues that constitute persuasion Part II covers the enduring effects of persuasive language from humor to polarization while a special group of chapters in Part III examines figures of speech and their rhetorical uses In Part IV contributors focus on different fields and genres of argument as entry points for research into conventions of arguing Part V examines the evolutionary and developmental roots of persuasive language and Part VI highlights new computational methods of language analysis This handbook is essential reading for those researching and studying persuasive language in the fields of linguistics rhetoric argumentation communication discourse studies political science psychology digital studies mass media and journalism The Handbook of Communication Ethics Amit Pinchevski, Patrice M. Buzzanell, Jason Hannan, 2024-12-02 The second edition of this handbook offers a thoroughly updated

A New Handbook of Rhetoric Michele

Kennerly, 2021-09-09 Like every discipline Rhetorical Studies relies on a technical vocabulary to convey specialized concepts but few disciplines rely so deeply on a set of terms developed so long ago Pathos kairos doxa topos these and others originate from the so called classical world which has conferred on them excessive authority Without jettisoning these rhetorical terms altogether this handbook addresses critiques of their ongoing relevance explanatory power and exclusionary effects A New Handbook of Rhetoric inverts the terms of classical rhetoric by applying to them the alpha privative a prefix that expresses absence Adding the prefix to more than a dozen of the most important terms in the field the contributors to this volume build a new vocabulary for rhetorical inquiry Essays on apathy akairos adoxa and atopus among others explore long standing disciplinary habits reveal the denials and privileges inherent in traditional rhetorical inquiry and theorize new problems and methods Using this vocabulary in an analysis of current politics media and technology the essays illuminate aspects of contemporary culture that traditional rhetorical theory often overlooks Innovative and groundbreaking A New Handbook of Rhetoric at once draws on and unsettles ancient Greek rhetorical terms opening new avenues for studying values norms and phenomena often stymied by the tradition In addition to the editor the contributors include Caddie Alford Benjamin Firgens Cory Geraths Anthony J Irizarry Mari Lee Mifsud John Muckelbauer Bess R H Myers Damien Smith Pfister Nathaniel A Rivers and Alessandra Von Burg groundwork for strangeness as a lens under the broader interdisciplinary umbrella of rhetoric and composition and shares a series of rhetorical devices for practically thinking about how compositions are made unique Jimmy Butts explores how strange novel weird and interesting texts work and offers insight into how and why these forms can be invented created and stylized to generate the effective delivery of rhetorical messages in fun divergent ways Using a new theoretical framework that strangeness is inherent within all rhetorical interactions and is potentially useful Butts demonstrates how rhetoric is always already coming from an Other offering an ethical context for how defamiliarized texts work with different audiences Applying examples of seven figures for composing in and across written aural visual electronic and spatial texts the WAVES

Rhetoric in Tooth and Claw Debra Hawhee, 2016-11-21 We tend to think of rhetoric as a solely human art After all only humans can use language artfully to make a point the very definition of rhetoric Yet when you look at ancient and early modern treatises on rhetoric what you find is surprising they re crawling with animals With Rhetoric in Tooth and Claw Debra Hawhee explores this unexpected aspect of early thinking about rhetoric going on from there to examine the enduring presence of nonhuman animals in rhetorical theory and education In doing so she not only offers a counter history of rhetoric but also brings rhetorical studies into dialogue with animal studies one of the most vibrant areas of interest in humanities today By removing humanity and human reason from the center of our study of argument Hawhee frees up space to study and emphasize other crucial components of communication like energy bodies and sensation Drawing on thinkers from Aristotle to Erasmus Rhetoric in Tooth and Claw tells a new story of the discipline s history and development one animated by the energy force liveliness and diversity of our relationships with our partners in feeling other animals

Rethinking Communication in Social Business Craig E. Mattson, 2018-08-31 Social entrepreneurship increasingly assumes a position of strength in the dynamic milieu of late modern democratic societies A plethora of companies have now arisen everything from mighty social enterprises like Warby Parker and TOMS to tiny outfits like Clean Slate and Bright Endeavors whose business focused approach to social problems is not merely additive but integral to their missions These companies respond not only to a felt proliferation of humanitarian and environmental predicaments but also to enormous shifts in in public feelings and technological sensibilities These predicaments and make social entrepreneurs urgently needed and remarkably complicated But if social entrepreneurs deal with that complexity with a business as usual approach to making the world better imitating for example corporate social responsibility initiatives by transnational companies they will lose their vital distinctiveness and efficacy Drawing on a transdisciplinary perspective close rhetorical analysis and qualitative interviews with social entrepreneurs this book argues that one good way to keep social business disruptive is to rethink how organizations model their communication Instead of assuming a conventional theory of communication neatly organized around the relations of senders and receivers social entrepreneurship should enact a performative model of communication in which messaging and action are affectively woven This book offers suggestions for making this performative model sustainably disruptive in relation to questions that pester social entrepreneurs how to tell the company story how to raise awareness how to address complex audiences and how to solve problems
