A Rhetorical Conversation A Rhetorical Conversation:

The rhetoric of conversation, ed. by S. Jenner George Winfred Hervey, 1860 The Art of Dialectic Between Dialogue and Rhetoric Marta Spranzi, 2011 This book reconstructs the tradition of dialectic from Aristotle's Topics its founding text up to its renaissance in 16th century Italy and focuses on the role of dialectic in the production of knowledge Aristotle defines dialectic as a structured exchange of questions and answers and thus links it to dialogue and disputation while Cicero develops a mildly skeptical version of dialectic identifies it with reasoning in utramque partem and connects it closely to rhetoric These two interpretations constitute the backbone of the living tradition of dialectic and are variously developed in the Renaissance against the Medieval background The book scrutinizes three separate contexts in which these developments occur Rudolph Agricola's attempt to develop a new dialectic in close connection with rhetoric Agostino Nifo's thoroughly Aristotelian approach and its use of the newly translated commentaries of Alexander of Aphrodisias and Averroes and Carlo Sigonio's literary theory of the dialogue form which is centered around Aristotle's Topics Today Aristotelian dialectic enjoys a new life within argumentation theory the final chapter of the book briefly revisits these contemporary developments and draws some general epistemological conclusions linking the tradition of dialectic to a fallibilist view of knowledge

Contemporary Rhetorical Theory John Louis Lucaites, Celeste Michelle Condit, Sally Caudill, 1999-01-01 This indispensable text brings together important essays on the themes issues and controversies that have shaped the development of rhetorical theory since the late 1960s An extensive introduction and epilogue by the editors thoughtfully examine the current state of the field and its future directions focusing in particular on how theorists are negotiating the tensions between modernist and postmodernist considerations Each of the volume's eight main sections comprises a brief explanatory introduction four to six essays selected for their enduring significance and suggestions for further reading Topics addressed include problems of defining rhetoric the relationship between rhetoric and epistemology the rhetorical situation reason and public morality the nature of the audience the role of discourse in social change rhetoric in the mass media and challenges to rhetorical theory from the margins An extensive subject index facilitates comparison of key concepts and principles across all of the essays featured

Michael Oakeshott and the Conversation of Modern Political Thought Luke Philip Plotica, 2015-02-23 One of the seminal voices of twentieth century political thought Michael Oakeshott's work has often fallen prey to the ideological labels applied to it by his interpreters and commentators In this book Luke Philip Plotica argues that we stand to learn more by embracing Oakeshott's own understanding of his work as contributions to an ever evolving conversation of humanity Building from Oakeshott's concept of conversation as an engagement among a plurality of voices without symposiarch or arbiter to dictate its course Plotica explores several fundamental and recurring themes of Oakeshott's philosophical and political writings individual agency tradition the state and democracy When viewed as interventions into an ongoing conversation of modern political thought Oakeshott's work transcends the limits of familiar ideological labels and his thought opens into deeper engagement with some of the most significant thinkers of the twentieth century including Ludwig Wittgenstein Charles Taylor Michel Foucault and Hannah Arendt Attending to these often unexpected or unrecognized affinities casts fresh light on some of Oakeshott's most familiar ideas and their systematic relations and facilitates a better understanding of the breadth and depth of his political thought

Conversational Rhetoric Jane Donawerth, 2012 In Conversational Rhetoric Jane Donawerth traces the historical development of rhetorical theory by women for women studying the moments when women produced theory about the arts of communication in alternative genres humanist treatises and dialogues defenses of women's preaching conduct books and elocution handbooks

Humanism and the Rhetoric of Toleration Gary Remer, 2010-11-01 Religious toleration is much discussed these days But where did the Western notion of toleration come from In this thought provoking book Gary Remer traces arguments for religious toleration back to the Renaissance demonstrating how humanist thinkers initiated an intellectual tradition that has persisted even to our present day Although toleration has long been recognized as an important theme in Renaissance humanist thinking many scholars have mistakenly portrayed the humanists as proto Enlightenment rationalists and nascent liberals Remer however offers the surprising conclusion that humanist thinking on toleration was actually founded on the classical tradition of rhetoric It was the rhetorician's commitment to decorum the ability to argue both sides of an issue and the search for an acceptable epistemological standard in probability and consensus that grounded humanist arguments for toleration Remer also finds that the primary humanist model for a full fledged theory of toleration was the Ciceronian rhetorical category of sermo conversatio The historical scope of this book is wide ranging Remer begins by focusing on the works of four humanists Desiderius Erasmus Jacobus Acontius William Chillingworth and Jean Bodin Then he considers the challenge posed to the humanist defense of toleration by Thomas Hobbes and Pierre Bayle Finally he shows how humanist ideas have continued to influence arguments for toleration even after the passing of humanism from John Locke to contemporary American discussions of freedom of speech

The Rebirth of Dialogue James P. Zappen, 2012-02-01 Dialogue has suffered a long eclipse in the history of philosophy and the history of rhetoric but has enjoyed a rebirth in the work of Hans Georg Gadamer Martin Buber and Mikhail Bakhtin Among twentieth century figures Bakhtin took a special interest in the history of the dialogue form This book explores Bakhtin's understanding of Socratic dialogue and the notion that dialogue is not simply a way of persuading others to accept our ideas but a way of holding ourselves and others accountable for all of our thoughts words and actions In supporting this premise Bakhtin challenges the traditions of argument and persuasion handed down from Plato and Aristotle and he offers as an alternative a dialogical rhetoric that restructures the traditional relationship between speakers and listeners writers and readers as a mutual testing contesting and creating of ideas The author suggests that Bakhtin's dialogical rhetoric is not restricted to oral discourse but is possible in any medium including written graphic and digital

Law, Hermeneutics and Rhetoric Francis J. Mootz Iii, 2016-04-22 Mootz offers an antidote to the fragmentation of contemporary legal theory with a collection of essays arguing that legal practice is a hermeneutical and rhetorical event that can best be understood and theorized in those terms This is not a modern insight that wipes away centuries of dogmatic confusion rather Mootz draws on insights as old as the Western tradition itself However the essays are not antiquarian or merely descriptive because hermeneutical and rhetorical philosophy have undergone important changes over the millennia To return to hermeneutics and rhetoric as touchstones for law is to embrace dynamic traditions that provide the resources for theorists who seek to foster persuasion and understanding as an antidote to the emerging global order and the trend toward bureaucratization in accordance with expert administration violent suppression or both The

Rhetorical Turn Herbert W. Simons, 2011-02-15 We have only recently started to challenge the notion that serious inquiry can be free of rhetoric that it can rely exclusively on hard fact and cold logic in support of its claims Increasingly scholars are shifting their attention from methods of proof to the heuristic methods of debate and discussion the art of rhetoric to examine how scholarly discourse is shaped by tropes and figures by the naming and framing of issues and by the need to adapt arguments to ends audiences and circumstances Herbert W Simons and the contributors to this important collection of essays provide impressive evidence that the new movement referred to as the rhetorical turn offers a rigorous way to look within and across the disciplines The Rhetorical Turn moves from biology to politics via excursions into the rhetorics of psychoanalysis decision science and conversational analysis Topics explored include how rhetorical invention guides scientific invention how rhetoric assists political judgment and how it integrates varying approaches to meta theory Concluding with four philosophical essays this volume of case studies demonstrates how the inventive and persuasive dimensions of scholarly discourse point the way to forms of argument appropriate to our postmodern age Social

Constructivism as a Philosophy of Mathematics Paul Ernest, 1997-11-20 Proposing social constructivism as a novel philosophy of mathematics this book is inspired by current work in sociology of knowledge and social studies of science It extends the ideas of social constructivism to the philosophy of mathematics developing a whole set of new notions The outcome is a powerful critique of traditional absolutist conceptions of mathematics as well as of the field of philosophy of mathematics itself Proposed are a reconceptualization of the philosophy of mathematics and a new set of adequacy criteria The book offers novel analyses of the important but under recognized contributions of Wittgenstein and Lakatos to the philosophy of mathematics Building on their ideas it develops a theory of mathematical knowledge and its relation to the social context It offers an original theory of mathematical knowledge based on the concept of conversation and develops the rhetoric of mathematics to account for proof in mathematics Another novel feature is the account of the social construction of subjective knowledge which relates the learning of mathematics to philosophy of mathematics via the development of the individual mathematician It concludes by considering the values of mathematics and its social responsibility

first generation of pragmatists for a unique set of rhetorics that would serve the needs of a developing democracy Analyzing pragmatism s historical development this book provides information on its association with an alternative but significant and often overlooked tradition Rhetorical Citizenship and Public Deliberation Christian Kock,Lisa Villadsen,2015-06-29

Citizenship has long been a central topic among educators philosophers and political theorists Using the phrase rhetorical citizenship as a unifying perspective Rhetorical Citizenship and Public Deliberation aims to develop an understanding of citizenship as a discursive phenomenon arguing that discourse is not prefatory to real action but in many ways constitutive of civic engagement To accomplish this the book brings together in a cross disciplinary effort contributions by scholars in fields that rarely intersect For the most part discussions of citizenship have focused on aspects that are central to the liberal tradition of social thought that is questions of the freedoms and rights of citizens and groups This collection gives voice to a republican conception of citizenship Seeing participation and debate as central to being a citizen this tradition looks back to the Greek city states and republican Rome Citizenship in this sense of the word is rhetorical citizenship Rhetoric is thus at the core of being a citizen Aside from the editors the contributors are John Adams Paula Cossart Jonas Gabrielsen Jette Barnholdt Hansen Kasper M ller Hansen Sine N rholm Just Ildik Kaposi William Keith Bart van Klink Marie Lund Klugeff Manfred Kraus Oliver W Lembcke Berit von der Lippe James McDonald Niels M ller Nielsen Tatiana Tatarchevskiy Italo Testa Georgia Warnke Kristian Wedberg and Stephen West The Consequences of Economic Rhetoric Arjo Klammer,Deirdre N. McCloskey,Robert M. Solow,1988 The papers in this volume are drawn from a recent conference at Wellesley College for both theoretical and applied economists which explored the consequences of rhetoric and conversation within the field of economics Beyond Rhetoric and Realism in Economics Thomas A. Boylan,Paschal Francis O'Gorman,1995 Boylan and O Gorman inject a fresh empiricist voice into the debate on economic methodology They strike a reasonable middle ground between the extremes of scientific realism and the rhetoric of economics Purpose, Practice, and Pedagogy in Rhetorical Criticism Jim A. Kuypers,2014-02-07 This edited volume fills a void in the literature concerning the purpose practice and pedagogy associated with performing rhetorical criticism Literature regarding these issues predominantly purpose exists primarily as scattered journal articles and as sections within chapters of textbooks on rhetorical criticism This book brings together 15 established rhetorical critics each of whom offers well thought out and argued opinion pieces that stress the more personal nature of criticism The purpose of this book is to serve as a disciplinary resource and as a teaching and learning aid Accessibility across areas of expertise and experience is stressed in this book Critics range from junior faculty to emeritus and represent a broad spectrum of views on criticism In this sense the book offers a snapshot of the views of a wide swath of successfully practicing contemporary rhetorical critics Rhetoric, History, and Women's Oratorical Education David Gold,Catherine L. Hobbs,2013-05-02 Historians of rhetoric have long worked to recover women s education in reading and writing but have only recently begun to explore women s speaking practices from the parlor to the platform to the varied types of institutions where women learned elocutionary and oratorical skills in preparation for professional and public life This book fills an important gap in the history of rhetoric and suggests new paths for the way histories may be told in the future tracing the shifting arc of women s oratorical training as it develops from forms of eighteenth century rhetoric into institutional and extrainstitutional settings at the end of the nineteenth century and diverges into several distinct streams of community embodied theory and practice in the twentieth Treating key rhetors genres settings and movements from the early republic to the present these essays collectively challenge and complicate many previous claims made about the stability and development of gendered public and private spheres the decline of oratorical culture and the limits of women s oratorical forms such as elocution and parlor rhetorics and women s responses to rhetorical constraints on their public speaking Enriching our understanding of women s oratorical education and practice this cutting edge work makes an important contribution to scholarship in rhetoric and communication McCloskey's Rhetoric Benjamin Balak,2006 This unique book examines the use of rhetoric in economics focusing on the work of one of the discipline s most recognizable names Deirdre McCloskey It analyzes her major texts and evaluates their methodological and philosophical consequences
