Before You Read

In the last lesson you read about America's war effort in Vietnam. In this lesson you will read about how the United States became divided over the war in Vietnam.

As You Read

Complete a chart on student organizations, issues, and demonstrations of the New Left.

THE WORKING CLASS GOES TO WARWho fought the war?

Most soldiers who fought in Vietnam were called into combat under the country's Selective Service System, or draft. Because the war was growing unpopular, thousands of men tried to avoid the draft. Some men sought out doctors who would give them medical exemptions. Others moved to a different community where there was a more lenient draft board. Some joined the National Guard or Coast Guard to avoid combat.

One of the most common ways to avoid the draft was to attend college. Most men enrolled in a university could put off their military service.

Many university students during the 1960s were white and financially well-off. As a result, a large number who fought in Vietnam were lower-class whites or minorities. Nearly 80 percent of American soldiers came from lower economic levels. Thus, Vietnam was known as a working-class war.

Early on, a high number of African Americans served and died in Vietnam. During the first several years of the war, 20 percent of American soldiers killed were black. Blacks, however, made up only about 10 percent of the U.S. population. This situation prompted protests from many civil rights leaders, including Martin Luther King Jr. Many African American soldiers also endured racism within their units.

The U.S. military in the 1960s did not allow women to serve in combat.
