The Central Government-Funded Teacher Education Policy in China Yi Liu,2023-10-20 This book utilises expectancy value theory and undermining effect of extrinsic reward theory to examine the impact of the Central Government Funded Teacher Education CGFTE policy on Chinese pre service teachers motivations for choosing the teaching profession Quantitative data analysis revealed six distinct categories of motivations to teach teacher influence job advantages extrinsic social value altruistic personal interest intrinsic others suggestions and fallback career These categories were further exemplified in ten narrative stories The findings indicate that the CGFTE policy attracts high school graduates with higher intrinsic motivation to enrol in teacher training programs but it seems ineffective in increasing their intrinsic career choice motivation It is argued that the CGFTE policy which emphasises extrinsic benefits but limits professional development does not have a significant negative impact on pre service teachers motivation to choose teaching This conclusion is supported by the offsetting effects of the policy s restrictive and encouraging aspects as explained by expectancy value theory and the qualitative data Nevertheless the intrinsic motivation of policy funded pre service teachers did not improve as much as that of their self supported counterparts indicating potential undermining effects of the policy The study concludes by discussing the implications of these findings for enhancing the CGFTE policy teacher training and career education in China The book will be an essential read for students and scholars of higher education Chinese studies and educational studies in general

Politics Timothy J. Demy,Jeffrey M. Shaw Ph.D.,2019-09-19 With respect to the countries of the world this work addresses two basic questions How does religion affect politics in this country and How does politics affect religion in this country Although there are many books on the topics of religion and politics reference works that consider the two together are few with those that do exist primarily addressing theory rather than trends The present work does the latter contextualizing them within regional and national boundaries In so doing it recognizes the power of political and religious ideas and movements on individuals communities and nations making the work a valuable resource for several disciplines among them political science international relations religion and sociology The work focuses on the interplay of religion and politics in countries around the world with an emphasis on the post 2000s It is organized by global geographic regions including Africa Central and South America and the Middle East and presents countries alphabetically within those sections Each region has a brief overview of the political religious dynamics of the area so readers can compare and contrast the dynamics between and among countries in a region The work also includes an introduction sidebars and a bibliography Lessons in State

Capacity from Delhi's Schools Yamini Aiyar, 2024-10-24 What will it take to build high performing purpose oriented public sector organizations in India In answering this question the voices of India s frontline officers charged with delivering a vast array of public services to citizens are dismissed all too quickly Public debates on the Indian state generally view them as corrupt apathetic incompetent and in urgent need of disciplining By training her focus on these voices Aiyar reveals the complex ways in which bureaucratic hierarchies processes and belief systems shape state capacity This book examines an ambitious effort to improve the quality of government schools particularly their ability to equip students with foundational literacy and numeracy in the city state of the National Capital Territory of Delhi Through the trials and tribulations of educational personnel bureaucrats and reform champions Aiyar captures the sites of resistance distortion and adoption of reform ideas Understanding these dynamics lies at the heart of the challenge of building high performing public sector organizations and improving state capacity
