World Of Strangers Lyn H. Lofland, 1973-12-02 Public Places - Urban Spaces Matthew Carmona, Tim Heath, Taner Oc, Steve Tiesdell, 2012-09-10

Public Places Urban Spaces is a holistic guide to the many complex and interacting dimensions of urban design. The discussion moves systematically through ideas, theories, research, and the practice of urban design from an unrivalled range of sources. It aids the reader by gradually building the concepts one upon the other towards a total view of the subject. The author team explain the catalysts of change and renewal and explore the global and local contexts and processes within which urban design operates. The book presents six key dimensions of urban design: theory and practice, the social, visual, functional, temporal, morphological, and perceptual, allowing it to be dipped into for specific information or read from cover to cover. This is a clear and accessible text that provides a comprehensive discussion of this complex subject.

Public Space and the Challenges of Urban Transformation in Europe Ali Madanipour, Sabine Knierbein, Aglaée Degros, 2013-11-20

European cities are changing rapidly in part due to the process of de-industrialization, European integration, and economic globalization. Within those cities, public spaces are the meeting place of politics and culture, social and individual territories, instrumental and expressive concerns. Public Space and the Challenges of Urban Transformation in Europe investigates how European city authorities understand and deal with their public spaces, how this interacts with market forces, social norms, and cultural expectations, whether and how this relates to the needs and experiences of their citizens, exploring new strategies and innovative practices for strengthening public spaces and urban culture. These questions are explored by looking at 13 case studies from across Europe, written by active scholars in the area of public space, and organized in three parts: strategies, plans, and policies; multiple roles of public space; and everyday life in the city. This book is essential reading for students and scholars interested in the design and development of public space. The European case studies provide interesting examples and comparisons of how cities deal with their public space and issues of space and society.

Insurgent Public Space Jeffrey Hou, 2010-04-21

Winner of the EDRA book prize for 2012. In cities around the world, individuals and groups are reclaiming and creating urban sites, temporary spaces, and informal gathering places. These insurgent public spaces challenge conventional views of how urban areas are defined and used, and how they can transform the city environment. No longer confined to traditional public areas like neighbourhood parks and public plazas, these guerrilla spaces express the alternative social and spatial relationships in our changing cities. With nearly twenty illustrated case studies, this volume shows how instances of insurgent public space occur across the world. Examples range from community gardening in Seattle and Los Angeles, street dancing in Beijing, to the transformation of parking spaces into temporary parks in San Francisco. Drawing on the experiences and knowledge of individuals extensively engaged in the actual implementation of these spaces, Insurgent Public Space is a unique cross-disciplinary approach to the study of public space use and how it is utilized in the contemporary urban world. Appealing to professionals and students in both urban studies and more social courses Hou has brought together valuable commentaries on an area of urbanism which has up until now been largely ignored In the Midst of Things Mike Owen Benediktsson,2025-06-17 How ordinary urban objects influence our behavior exacerbate inequality and encourage social change Assumptions about human behavior lie hidden in plain sight all around us programmed into the design and regulation of the material objects we encounter on a daily basis In the Midst of Things takes an in depth look at the social lives of five objects commonly found in the public spaces of New York City and its suburbs revealing how our interactions with such material things are our primary point of contact with the social political and economic forces that shape city life Drawing on groundbreaking fieldwork and a wealth of original interviews Mike Owen Benediktsson shows how we are in the midst of things whose profound social role often goes overlooked A newly built lawn on the Brooklyn waterfront reflects an increasingly common trade off between the marketplace and the public good A cement wall on a New Jersey highway speaks to the demise of the postwar American dream A metal folding chair on a patch of asphalt in Queens exposes the political obstacles to making the city livable A subway door expresses the simmering conflict between the city and the desires of riders while a newsstand bears witness to our increasingly impoverished streetscapes In the Midst of Things demonstrates how the material realm is one of immediacy control inequality and unpredictability and how these factors frustrate the ability of designers planners and regulators to shape human behavior

Television after TV Jan Olsson,Lynn Spigel,2004-11-30 A critical reassessment of television and television studies in the age of new media Building Cities that Work Edmund P. Fowler,1993 Since 1945 North Americans have spent hundreds of billions of dollars on urban development literally transforming the landscape of the continent This development has been disastrous Edmund Fowler maintains because it is inordinately expensive destructive of the environment and disruptive of healthy social life and authentic politics Revealing the connections between our basic cultural beliefs and why we build the way we do he stresses that to build cities that work we must become aware of how our personal choices contribute to the form of the built environment An Organ of Murder Courtney E. The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to Human Geography John A. Agnew, James S. Duncan, 2011-03-01 This volume provides an up to date authoritative synthesis of the discipline of human geography Unparalleled in scope the companion offers an indispensable overview to the field representing both historical and contemporary perspectives Edited and written by the world's leading authorities in the discipline Divided into three major sections Foundations the history of human geography from Ancient Greece to the late nineteenth century The Classics the roots of modern human geography Contemporary Approaches current issues and themes in human geography Each contemporary issue is examined by two contributors offering distinctive perspectives on the same theme City Form and Everyday Life Jon Caulfield, 1994-01-01 Drawing on a series of in depth interviews among a segment of Toronto's inner city middle class population Caulfield argues that the seeds of gentrification have included patterns of critical social practice and that the gentrified landscape is highly paradoxical

Beer Places Daina Cheyenne Harvey, Ellis Jones, Nathaniel G. Chapman, 2023-04-03 Beer Places is both a road map for craft beer and an academic analysis of craft beer's ties to place Collected into sections that address authenticity and revitalization politics and economics and collectivity and collaboration this volume blends new research with a series of postcards informal conversations and first person dispatches from the field that transport readers to the spots where pints are shared and networks forged City Douglas W. Rae, 2008-10-01 How did neighborhood groceries parish halls factories and even saloons contribute more to urban vitality than did the fiscal might of postwar urban renewal With a novelist's eye for telling detail Douglas Rae depicts the features that contributed most to city life in the early urbanist decades of the twentieth century Rae's subject is New Haven Connecticut but the lessons he draws apply to many American cities City Urbanism and Its End begins with a richly textured portrait of New Haven in the early twentieth century a period of centralized manufacturing civic vitality and mixed use neighborhoods As social and economic conditions changed the city confronted its end of urbanism first during the Depression and then very aggressively during the mayoral reign of Richard C Lee 1954-70 when New Haven led the nation in urban renewal spending But government spending has repeatedly failed to restore urban vitality Rae argues that strategies for the urban future should focus on nurturing the unplanned civic engagements that make mixed use city life so appealing and so civilized Cities need not reach their old peaks of population or look like thriving suburbs to be once again splendid places for human beings to live and work Social Geographies Gill Valentine, 2014-06-06 Most social geography undergraduate textbooks are structured around different social categories splintering the discussion of gender class race and increasingly now sexuality and disability into separate chapters This has the effect firstly of making social relations rather than space the raison d'être of human geography the focus of undergraduate books secondly of ignoring the way that social relations are negotiated and contested in different space

Rather than reproducing this conventional social geography format the aim of this proposed text is to make space the focus of analysis. In doing so the intention is to make complex theoretical debates about space more accessible to students and encourage them to look at their own environments in new ways.

Spatial Regulation in New York City Themis Chronopoulos, 2012-03-28 This book explores and critiques the process of spatial regulation in post war New York focusing on the period after the fiscal crisis of the 1970s examining the ideological underpinnings and practical applications of urban renewal exclusionary zoning anti vagrancy laws and order maintenance policing. It argues that these practices were part of a class project that deflected attention from the underlying causes of poverty eroded civil rights and sought to enable real estate investment high end consumption mainstream tourism and corporate success.

Welfare Policy from Below Heinz Steinert, Arno Pilgram, 2007 The future European system of social security and welfare is in need of a new perspective. Invigorating and informative this book contributes to developing this new form of social exclusion knowledge thanks to its conceptual and theoretical framework and its comparative empirical studies in eight European cities between Bologna and Stockholm.

Justice and the Politics of Difference Iris Marion Young, Danielle S. Allen, 2011-09-11 In this classic work of feminist political thought Iris Marion Young challenges the prevailing reduction of social justice to distributive justice. The starting point for her critique is the experience and concerns of the new social movements that were created by marginal and excluded groups including women African Americans and American Indians as well as gays and lesbians. Young argues that by assuming a homogeneous public democratic theorists fail to consider institutional arrangements for including people not culturally identified with white European male norms. Consequently theorists do not adequately address the problems of an inclusive participatory framework. Basing her vision of the good society on the culturally plural networks of contemporary urban life Young makes the case that normative theory and public policy should undermine group based oppression by affirming rather than suppressing social group differences.

Urban People and Places Daniel Joseph Monti, Michael Ian Borer, Lyn C. Macgregor, 2014-02-10 Providing a thorough and comprehensive survey of the contemporary urban world that is accessible to students Urban People and Places: The Sociology of Cities Suburbs and Towns will give balanced treatment to both the process by which cities are built i.e. urbanization and the ways of life practiced by people that live and work in more urban places i.e. urbanism unlike most core texts in this area. Whereas most texts focus on the socio economic causes of urbanization this text analyses the cultural component how the physical construction of places is in part a product of cultural beliefs ideas and practices and also how the culture of those who live work and play in various places is shaped structured and controlled by the built environment. Inasmuch as the primary focus will be on the United States global discussion is composed with an eye toward showing how U.S. cities suburbs and towns are different and alike from their counterparts in Africa Asia and Central and South America.
