Arabic-English Dictionary of Qur'anic Usage Elsaïd Badawi, Muhammed Abdel Haleem, 2007-10-30 The Qur'an is the living source of all Islamic teaching and is of singular importance to those interested in Islam and the study of religions. Despite this, there exists a long felt lack of research tools for English first language speakers who wish to access the Qur'an in the original Arabic. The Dictionary of Qur'anic Usage is the first comprehensive, fully researched and contextualised Arabic-English dictionary of Qur'anic usage compiled in accordance with modern lexicographical methods by scholars who have a lifelong immersion in Qur'anic Studies. Based on Classical Arabic dictionaries and Qur'an commentaries, this work also emphasises the role of context in determining the meaning of each vocabulary item. Illustrative examples from Qur'anic verses are provided in support of the definitions given for each context in which a particular word occurs, with cross references to other usages. Frequently occurring grammatical particles are likewise thoroughly explained insofar as they are used in conveying various nuances of meaning in the text. Medieval Islamic Pragmatics Muhammad M. Yunis Ali, 2013-10-08 This book deals with two different pragmatic approaches to textual communication i the mainstream approach followed by the Ash'ari's Hanafi's and Mu'tazili's ii the salafite approach followed mainly by the Hanbali's defended and elaborated by Ibn Taymiyyah One of the primary aims of the book is to explore and formulate several Muslim legal theorists' pragmatic theories communicative principles and linguistic views construct them in the form of models and set them within a general uniform framework Another aim is to reveal a corpus of information and data which though highly relevant to modern pragmatics is still unknown This study which can be seen as an extensive introduction to medieval Islamic pragmatics is the first attempt to examine the approaches followed by the Salafi's or the mainstream from a pragmatic viewpoint There has been no attempt to explain the principles and the strategies utilised by the medieval Sunni Muslim legal theorists in their account of how communication works and how successful interpretation is achieved Of course a lot of work has been done on different Islamic sects and their different positions over the interpretation of the Quran and Sunnah but these studies fall short of delving into the underlying communicative principles that motivate their differences over interpretation The author's formulation of the Muslim legal theorists' views is enhanced by setting up a reliable theoretical foundation and by delving into their underlying philosophical principles This involves relating the legal theorists insights into interpretation and communication to their relevant ontological epistemological and theological outlooks and comparing these insights with their modern pragmatic counterparts The Scribe in the Biblical World Esther Eshel, Michael Langlois, 2022-12-05 This book offers a fresh look at the status of the scribe in society his training practices and work in the biblical world What was the scribe's role in these societies Were there rival scribal schools What was their role in daily life How many scripts and languages did they grasp Did they master political and religious rhetoric Did they travel or share foreign traditions cultures and beliefs Were scribes redactors or simply copyists What was their influence on the redaction of the Bible How did they relate to the political and religious powers of their day Did they possess any authority themselves These are the questions that were tackled during an international conference held at the University of Strasbourg on June 17-19 2019 The conference served as the basis for this publication which includes fifteen articles covering a wide geographical and chronological range from Late Bronze Age royal scribes to refugees in Masada at the end of the Second Temple period Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia A.C.S. Peacock, Bruno De Nicola, 2016-03-09 Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia offers a comparative approach to understanding the spread of Islam and Muslim culture in medieval Anatolia It aims to reassess work in the field since the 1971 classic by Speros Vryonis The Decline of Hellenism in Asia Minor and the Process of Islamization which treats the process of transformation from a Byzantinist perspective Since then research has offered insights into individual aspects of Christian Muslim relations but no overview has appeared Moreover very few scholars of Islamic studies have examined the problem meaning evidence in Arabic Persian and Turkish has been somewhat neglected at the expense of Christian sources and too little attention has been given to material culture The essays in this volume examine the interaction between Christianity and Islam in medieval Anatolia through three distinct angles opening with a substantial introduction by the editors to explain both the research background and the historical problem making the work accessible to scholars from other fields The first group of essays examines the Christian experience of living under Muslim rule comparing their experiences in several of the major Islamic states of Anatolia between the eleventh and fifteenth centuries especially the Seljuks and the Ottomans The second set of essays examines encounters between Christianity and Islam in art and intellectual life They highlight the ways in which some traditions were shared across confessional divides suggesting the existence of a common artistic and hence cultural vocabulary The final section focusses on the process of Islamisation above all as seen from the Arabic Persian and Turkish textual evidence with special attention to the role of Sufism A Short Reference Grammar of Moroccan Arabic Richard Slade Harrell, 2004 A Short Reference Grammar of Moroccan Arabic with Audio CD is a practical reference grammar for the student who has had introductory Moroccan Arabic The accompanying CD is keyed to the text demonstrating the pronunciation of the Arabic transcribed in the book It teaches the phonology morphology and syntax of the dialect spoken by the educated urban
