Architecture Theory Since 1968:

Architecture Theory since 1968 K. Michael Hays, 2000-02-28 An anthology of the pivotal theoretical texts that have defined architecture culture in the late twentieth century In the discussion of architecture there is a prevailing sentiment that since 1968 cultural production in its traditional sense can no longer be understood to rise spontaneously as a matter of social course but must now be constructed through ever more self conscious theoretical procedures The development of interpretive modes of various stripes post structuralist Marxian phenomenological psychoanalytic as well as others dissenting or eccentric has given scholars a range of tools for rethinking architecture in relation to other fields and for reasserting architecture's general importance in intellectual discourse This anthology presents forty seven of the primary texts of architecture theory introducing each with an explication of the concepts and categories necessary for its understanding and evaluation It also presents twelve documents of projects or events that had major theoretical repercussions for the period Several of the essays appear here in English for the first time Contributors Diana Agrest Stanford Anderson Archizoom George Baird Jennifer Bloomer Massimo Cacciari Jean Louis Cohen Beatriz Colomina Alan Colquhoun Maurice Culot Jacques Derrida Ignasi de Sol Morales Peter Eisenman Robin Evans Michel Foucault Kenneth Frampton Mario Gandelsonas Frank Gehry Jürgen Habermas John Hejduk Denis Hollier Bernard Huet Catherine Ingraham Fredric Jameson Charles A Jencks Jeffrey Kipnis Fred Koetter Rem Koolhaas Leon Krier Sanford Kwinter Henri Lefebvre Daniel Libeskind Mary McLeod Alberto Pérez Gómez Jos Quetglas Aldo Rossi Colin Rowe Massimo Scolari Denise Scott Brown Robert Segrest Jorge Silvetti Robert Somol Martin Steinmann Robert A M Stern James Stirling Manfredo Tafuri Georges Teyssot Bernard Tschumi Anthony Vidler Paul Virilio Mark Wigley An Introduction to Architectural Theory Harry Francis Mallgrave, David J. Goodman, 2011-03-16 A sharp and lively text that covers issues in depth but not to the point that they become inaccessible to beginning students An Introduction to Architectural Theory is the first narrative history of this period charting the veritable revolution in architectural thinking that has taken place as well as the implications of this intellectual upheaval The first comprehensive and critical history of architectural theory over the last fifty years surveys the intellectual history of architecture since 1968 including criticisms of high modernism the rise of postmodern and poststructural theory critical regionalism and tectonics Offers a comprehensive overview of the significant changes that architectural thinking has undergone in the past fifteen years Includes an analysis of where architecture stands and where it will likely move in the coming years Architecture's Desire K. Michael Hays, 2009-10-02 Theorizes an architectural ethos of extreme self reflection and finality from a Lacanian perspective While it is widely recognized that the advanced architecture of the 1970s left a legacy of experimentation and theoretical speculation as intense as any in architecture's history there has been no general theory of that ethos Now in Architecture's Desire K Michael Hays writes an account of the late avant garde as an architecture systematically twisting back on itself pondering its own historical status and deliberately exploring architecture's representational possibilities right up to their absolute limits In close readings of the brooding melancholy silence of Aldo Rossi the radically reductive decompositions and archaeologies of Peter Eisenman the carnivalesque excesses of John Hejduk and the cinegrammatic delirium of Bernard Tschumi Hays narrates the story of architecture confronting its own boundaries with objects of ever more reflexivity difficulty and intransigence The late avant garde is the last architecture with philosophical aspirations an architecture that could think philosophical problems through architecture rather than merely illustrate them It takes architecture as the object of its own reflection which in turn produces an unrelenting desire Using the tools of critical theory together with the structure of Lacan's triad imaginary symbolic real Hays constructs a theory of architectural desire that is historically specific and yet sets the terms and the challenges of all subsequent architectural practice including today's

Architectural Theory, Volume 2 Harry Francis Mallgrave, Christina Contandriopoulos, 2008-08-11 This second volume of the landmark Architectural Theory anthology surveys the development of architectural theory from the Franco Prussian war of 1871 until the end of the twentieth century The entire two volume anthology follows the full range of architectural literature from classical times to present transformations An ambitious anthology bringing together over 300 classic and contemporary essays that survey the key developments and trends in architecture Spans the period from 1871 to 2005 from John Ruskin and the arts and crafts movement in Great Britain through to the development of Lingang New City and the creation of a metropolis in the East China sea Organized thematically featuring general and section introductions and headnotes to each essay written by a renowned expert on architectural theory Places the work of architects like Koolhaas Eisenman and Lynn alongside the work of prominent architectural critics offering a balanced perspective on current debates Includes many hard to find texts and works never previously translated into English Alongside Volume I An Anthology from Vitruvius to 1870 creates a stunning overview of architectural theory from early antiquity to the twenty first century

Introducing Architectural Theory Korydon Smith, Miguel Guitart, 2013-05-20 This is the most accessible architectural theory book that exists Korydon Smith presents each common architectural subject such as tectonics use and site as though it were a conversation across history between theorists by providing you with the original text a reflective text and a philosophical text He also introduces each chapter by highlighting key ideas and asking you a set of reflective questions so that you can hone your own theory which is essential to both your success in the studio and your adaptability in the profession These primary source texts which are central to your understanding of the discipline were written by such architects as Le Corbusier Robert Venturi and Adrian Forty The appendices also have guides to aid your reading comprehension to help you write descriptively analytically and disputationally and to show you citation styles and how to do library based research More than any other architectural theory book about the great thinkers Introducing Architectural Theory teaches you to think as well

A Primer on Theory in Architecture Karen Cordes Spence, 2016-12-01 A Primer on Theory in Architecture discusses how theory is defined in architecture how it is identified its location in larger perspectives or worldviews its relationships to other areas in architecture and how it can be constructed The book explores the definition elements and characteristics of theory along with subjects associated with theory and how these associations are recognized In addition case studies tackle both individual theorists and common approaches to the topic Aimed at the new student of architectural theory if you are just beginning to tackle this subject begin with this book Architecture, Crisis and Resuscitation Tahl Kaminer, 2011-01-20 Studying the relation of architecture to society this book explains the manner in which the discipline of architecture adjusted itself in order to satisfy new pressures by society Consequently it offers an understanding of contemporary conditions and phenomena ranging from the ubiquity of landmark buildings to the celebrity status of architects It concerns the period spanning from 1966 to the first years of the current century a period which saw radical change in economy politics and culture and a period in which architecture radically transformed substituting the alleged dreariness of modernism with spectacle

Valences of Historiography Gevork Hartoonian, 2024-12-30 The compiled essays offer various themes and ways of approaching historiography Each chapter probes the state of contemporary theorization of architecture histories working toward the theme of critically re writing history Essential to each author s contribution are specific traditions created by the mole of history burrowing through the past This book concerns the historian s conjectures towards capturing the past and present zeitgeist Temporality is the theme running through the narrative of this volume It raises the question of whether the ever growing body of work on architectural history should be considered as history More specifically what is the intersection between history and architectural history Furthermore can every text focused on architecture s past be considered categorically historiographic In what capacity does architectural history index history beyond contingencies and without reducing the text to empirical realities and the historian s interest in a specific subject including those collected through archival research itself an emblem of textuality This book upholds the conviction that the past should be recalled accurately and that there is no history but historical criticism the scope of which exceeds the historicity of Humanism Dialectically the timeline experienced across contemporary techno economic and cultural domains aesthetics offers an opportunity to explore architecture produced outside the Euro American continents Valences of Historiography offers a fresh take on architectural history that is useful for academics researchers and architecture students

Reimagining Urban Marxisms Francesco Biagi, 2025-06-24 This volume presents an interdisciplinary and international revaluation of urban Marxisms Bringing together the main critical Marxist perspectives from around the world on contemporary urban studies it engages with a range of issues connected to the urban question such as urban sprawl housing and increasing rates of urbanization across the globe With attention to the manner in which the three axes of class gender and race play a fundamental role in contemporary social phenomena it interweaves different issues that are inextricably linked in matters of urban inequality The book bridges a significant gap between urban studies and Marxists theories by reviving Marx and Engels ideas in the context of analyzing urban studies in the twenty first century

The objective is to bring together diverse perspectives and directions of the ongoing debate on the urban question. Although there are multiple Marxisms and theoretical currents inspired by Marxism that seek to understand the urban and spatial transformations of today, there has been a lack of comprehensive scholarship that systematically brings them together to frame this debate. The goal is to unite the main critical Marxist perspectives on contemporary urban studies. Reimagining Urban Marxisms will therefore appeal to scholars across disciplines with interests in Marxist analyses of contemporary urban and spatial transformations and the phenomenon of planetary urbanization.

Architecture and Dystopia Dario Donetti, 2020-02-08. A homage to the 1973 publication of Architecture and Utopia by Manfredo Tafuri, echoed in the title, this book is devoted to the radical experiences of the 1960s and to their consequences for the most recent developments in contemporary architecture. As a response to the profound crisis of Western culture that emerged in the 1960s, radical artists from Italy, Austria, England, and Japan called into question the foundations of modernist utopias. They transmuted the difficulties of capitalism into a repertory of startling images that revealed the disturbing realities of consumer society, even in those places still resistant to the penetration of modern architecture, such as Superstudio and Archizoom's Florence. Their model, though exhausted in the space of experimentation, went on to inspire a generation of architects from the High Tech movement to Rem Koolhaas, who sought to employ the paradigm of dystopia as both a visionary and a constructive method, one which could operate on the architecture of late capitalism and generate unexpected possibilities for urban planning. In the light of these examples, how to define a unified dystopian method of design, i.e. a common ground for an architecture that by its very nature seems to resist systematization? Are the most recognizable architectural expressions of this theoretical framework characterized by brazen displays of technology and structures of overwhelming scale, merely isolated cases, albeit of particular iconic power? Or do they belong to a wider landscape of antirational architectural projects? And to what extent are these disturbing expressions premised on the utopian tradition, or better yet, the conceptual model of negative thought? The goal of this book is to respond to such questions, thus initiating an open dialogue about the legitimacy of this critical category. With contributions by Dario Donetti, Marco De Michelis, Oliver Elser, Dominique Rouillard, Marco Biraghi, Marie Theres Stauffer, Maddalena Scimemi, Simon Sadler, Massimiliano Savorra, and Anthony Vidler.

From Formalism to Weak

Form: The Architecture and Philosophy of Peter Eisenman Stefano Corbo, 2016-04-15. Peter Eisenman is one of the most controversial protagonists of the architectural scene, who is known as much for his theoretical essays as he is for his architecture. While much has been written about his built works and his philosophies, most books focus on one or the other aspect. By structuring this volume around the concept of form, Stefano Corbo links together Eisenman's architecture with his theory. From Formalism to Weak Form: The Architecture and Philosophy of Peter Eisenman argues that form is the sphere of mediation between our body, our inner world, and the exterior world, and as such, it enables connections to be made between philosophy and architecture. From the start of his career, Eisenman has been deeply interested in the problem of form in architecture and has constantly challenged the classical concept of it For him form is not simply a cognitive tool that determines a physical structure which discriminates all that is active from what is passive what is inside from what is outside He has always tried to connect his own work with the cultural manifestations of the time firstly under the influence of Colin Rowe and his formalist studies secondly by re interpreting Chomsky s linguistic theories in the 80 s by collaborating with Derrida and his de constructivist approach more recently by discovering Henri Bergson s idea of Time These different moments underline different phases different projects different programmatic manifestos and above all an evolving notion of form Taking a multi disciplinary approach based on the intersections between architecture and philosophy this book investigates all these definitions and in doing so provides new insights into and a deeper understanding of the complexity of Eisenman s work

Sixteen Commentaries on LOVE versus HOPE Daniel Solomon,2020 The Practice Turn in Architecture: Brussels after 1968 Isabelle Doucet,2016-07-07 What makes a city What makes architecture And what is to be included in the discussions of architecture and the city Attempting to answer such ambitious questions this book starts from a city s specificity and complexity In response to recent debates in architectural theory around the agency and locus of critical action this book tests the potential of criticality through practice Rather than through conceptual and ideological categorisations it studies how architecture and criticality work within specific circumstances Brussels a complex city with a turbulent architectural and urban past forms a compelling case for examining the tensions between urban politics architectural imaginations society s needs and desires and the city s history and fabric Inspired by pragmatist relational philosophies this book tests the potential of criticality through practice It studies a series of critical actions and tools which occurred in Brussels architectural and urban culture after 1968 Weaved together Brussels architectural production emerges from a variety of actors including architects urban policy makers activists social workers and citizens but also architectural movements and ideologies urban renewal programs urban traumas plans and projects and mundane everyday practices and constructions This book contributes to the study of Brussels and offers a timely contribution to recent scholarship on the critical reappraisal of architectural debates from the 1960s through to the 1990s In addition by showing how pragmatist relational philosophies can be made relevant for architectural theory the book opens hopeful potentials for how architectural theory can better contribute to the formulation of a critical agenda for architecture

The Contested Territory of Architectural Theory Elie G. Haddad,2022-10-21 This book brings together a diverse group of theoreticians to explore architectural theory as a discipline assessing its condition and relevance to contemporary practice Offering critical assessment in the face of major social and environmental issues of today 17 original contributions address the relevance of architectural theory in the contemporary world from various perspectives including but not limited to politics gender representation race environmental crisis and history The chapters are grouped into two distinct sections the first section explores various historical perspectives on architectural theory mapping theory s historiographical turn and its emergence and decline from the 1960s to the present the second offers alternative visions and new directions for architectural theory incorporating feminist and human rights perspectives and addressing contemporary issues such as Artificial Intelligence and the Age of Acceleration This edited collection features contributions from renowned scholars as well as emergent voices with a Foreword by David Leatherbarrow This book will be of great interest to graduate and upper level students of architecture as well as academics and practicing architects

Expanding Fields of Architectural Discourse and Practice Matthew Butcher, Megan O'Shea, 2020-11-27 Expanding Fields of Architectural Discourse and Practice presents a selection of essays architectural experiments and works that explore the diversity within the fields of contemporary architectural practice and discourse Specific in this selection is the question of how and why architecture can and should manifest in a critical and reflective capacity as well as to examine how the discipline currently resonates with contemporary art practice It does so by reflecting on the first 10 years of the architectural journal P E A R 2009 to 2019 The volume argues that the initial aims of the journal to explore and celebrate the myriad forms through which architecture can exist are now more relevant than ever to contemporary architectural discourse and practice Included in the volume are architectural practitioners design researchers artists architectural theorists historians journalists curators and a paleobiologist all of whom contributed to the first seven issues of the journal Here they provide a unique presentation of architectural discourse and practice that seeks to test new ground while forming distinct relationships to recent and more longstanding historical legacies Praise for Expanding Fields of Architectural Discourse and Practice The story told by the authors of this work can thus be considered as the central tool of an architectural transgression Critique d'art

The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture Nadir Lahiji, 2014-04-10 The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture brings together a respected team of philosophers and architecture scholars to ask what impact architecture has over today's culture and society For three decades critical philosophy has been in discourse with architecture Yet following the recent radical turn in contemporary philosophy architecture's role in contemporary culture is rarely addressed In turn the architecture discourse in academia has remained ignorant of recent developments in radical philosophy Providing the first platform for a debate between critics architects and radical philosophers this unique collection unties these two schools of thought Contributors reason for or against the claim of the missed encounter between architecture and radical philosophy They discuss why our prominent critical philosophers devote stimulating writings to the ideological impact of arts on the contemporary culture music literature cinema opera theatre without attempting a similar comprehensive analysis of architecture By critically evaluating recent philosophy in relation to contemporary architecture The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture presents a thorough understanding of the new relationship between architecture and radical philosophy The Figure of Knowledge Sebastiaan Loosen,Rajesh Heynickx,Hilde Heynen,2020-10-01 It is a major challenge to write the history of post WWII architectural theory without boiling it down to a few defining paradigms An impressive anthologising effort during the 1990s charted architectural theory mostly via the various theoretical frameworks employed such as critical theory critical regionalism deconstructivism and pragmatism Yet the intellectual contours of what constitutes architectural theory have been constantly in flux It is therefore paramount to ask what kind of knowledge has become important in the recent history of architectural theory and how the resulting figure of knowledge sets the conditions for the actual arguments made The contributions in this volume focus on institutional geographical rhetorical and other conditioning factors They thus screen the unspoken rules of engagement that postwar architectural theory ascribed to

The Dissertation Iain Borden,Katerina Ruedi Ray,2014-05-09 The Dissertation is one of the most demanding yet potentially most stimulating components of an architectural course This classic text provides a complete guide to what to do how to do it when to do it and what the major pitfalls are This is a comprehensive guide to all that an architecture student might need to know about undertaking the dissertation The book provides a plain guide through the whole process of starting writing preparing and submitting a dissertation with minimum stress and frustration The third edition has been revised throughout to bring the text completely up to date for a new generation of students Crucially five new and complete dissertations demonstrate and exemplify all the advice and issues raised in the main text These dissertations are on subjects from the UK USA Europe and Asia and offer remarkable insights into how to get it just right Phenomenology, Architecture and the Built World James Dodd,2017-01-05 Phenomenology Architecture and the Built World is an introduction to the methods and basic concepts of phenomenological philosophy through an analysis of the phenomenon of the built world The conception of the built world that emerges is of space and time fashioned in accordance with a living understanding of what it is for human beings to exist in the world Human building and making is thus no mere supplementary instrument in the pursuit of the ends of life but a fundamental embodiment of the self understanding of human beings Phenomenological description is uniquely capable of bringing into view the physiognomy of this understanding its texture and complexity thereby providing an important basis for a critique of what constitutes its essence and its conditions of possibility
