Rehabilitation 2030, 2021-03-03 With the rising prevalence of noncommunicable diseases and injuries and the ageing population there is a substantial and ever increasing unmet need for rehabilitation In many parts of the world however the capacity to provide rehabilitation is limited or non existent and fails to adequately address the needs of the population This report summarizes the key messages of the Rehabilitation 2030 A Call for Action a WHO hosted meeting which took place in February 2017 and brought together over 200 rehabilitation experts from 46 countries Information within the report is presented for each session in chronological order The Call for Action list of participants agenda infographics and related resources can be found in the report annexes All other meeting resources including the background papers concept note translated versions of the Call for Action and accompanying video Rehabilitation in the 21st century can be found on the WHO rehabilitation webpage <https://www.who.int/news-room/events/detail/2017/02/06/default-calendar/rehabilitation-2030-a-call-for-action>

Societal Dynamics and Fragility The World Bank, 2012-10-12 Today's world is changing at breakneck speed shaking the very foundations of many societies Increased mobility through massive urbanization and migration allows people unprecedented access to different cultures and ideas advanced technologies speed the pace of human interaction the globalization of communication offers new forms of social relationships that may directly contradict traditional norms for behavior These changes create tremendous stresses on relationships in societies affecting the way youth interact with their elders the way women and men relate to each other how urban migrants and refugees relate to their new environments and so on The impacts of these changes are felt acutely in fragile situations where groups and institutions struggle to adapt to the stresses of rapid social change In the worst cases where fragility has given way to open violence people are more than twice as likely to be malnourished more than three times as likely to be unable to send their children to school twice as likely to see their children die before age five and more than twice as likely to lack clean water In addition to these domestic challenges the costs of fragility often spill over to neighboring regions in the form of trafficking in illegal goods and persons corruption and violence Societal Dynamics and Fragility frames a fresh approach to these challenges by focusing on improving relationships across groups and institutions in society Drawing on case studies from Yemen Central African Republic Haiti Liberia and Aceh Indonesia the book provides a framework for understanding and healing the social divides that often get in the way of building capable institutions and exiting from fragility

Prescribing HIV Prevention Nicola Bulled, 2016-06-16 Critical health communication scholars point out that the acceptance of HIV risk prevention methods are bound inside inequitable structures of power and knowledge Nicola Bulled's in depth ethnographic account of how these messages are selected transmitted and reacted to by young adults in the AIDS torn population of Lesotho in southern Africa provides a crucial example of the importance of a culture centered approach to health communication She shows the clash between traditional western perceptions of how increased knowledge will increase compliance with western ideas of prevention and mixed messages offered by local religious educational and media institutions Buller also demonstrates how structural and geographical forces prevent the delivery and acceptance of health messages and how local communities shape their own knowledge of health disease and illness This volume will be of interest to medical anthropologists and sociologists to those in health communication and to researchers working on issues related to HIV
