

A wide-angle photograph of an Arctic landscape. In the foreground, a calm body of water reflects the sky. Beyond the water is a vast, flat, brownish-orange tundra dotted with small, dark shrubs. In the background, a range of rugged mountains with snow-capped peaks stretches across the horizon under a clear blue sky.

Arctic Refuge Hank Lentfer,Carolyn Servid,2001 Originally presented to Congress on March 28 2001 this book brings together the latest word from key conservation leaders as well as firsthand accounts by Alaska residents on how they and neighboring wildlife would be affected should oil drilling proceed according to current plans The book includes original pieces by Jimmy Carter Wendell Berry Barry Lopez Bill McKibben Scott Russell Sanders Rick Bass and Terry Tempest Williams All royalties from sales of Arctic Refuge and an additional contribution from Milkweed Editions will go to the Alaska Conservation Foundation      Ecocriticism and Indigenous Studies Salma Monani,Joni Adamson,2016-08-05 This book addresses the intersections between the interdisciplinary realms of Ecocriticism and Indigenous and Native American Studies and between academic theory and pragmatic eco activism conducted by multiethnic and indigenous communities It illuminates the multi layered polyvocal ways in which artistic expressions render ecological connections drawing on scholars working in collaboration with Indigenous artists from all walks of life including film literature performance and other forms of multimedia to expand existing conversations Both local and global in its focus the volume includes essays from multiethnic and Indigenous communities across the world visiting topics such as Navajo opera Sami film production history south Indian tribal documentary Maori art installations Native American and First Nations science fiction literature and film Amazonian poetry and many others Highlighting trans Indigenous sensibilities that speak to worldwide crises of environmental politics and action against marginalization the collection alerts readers to movements of community resilience and resistance cosmological thinking about inter and intra generational multi species relations and understandings of indigenous aesthetics and material ecologies It engages with emerging environmental concepts such as multispecies ethnography cosmopolitics and trans indigeneity as well as with new areas of ecocritical research such as material ecocriticism biosemiotics and media studies In its breadth and scope this book promises new directions for ecocritical thought and environmental humanities practice providing thought provoking insight into what it means to be human in a locally situated globally networked and cosmologically complex world      Arctic Voices Subhankar Banerjee,2012-07-03 One of the great strengths of Arctic Voices is that it shows how Alaska and the Arctic are tied to the places where most of us live In this impassioned book Banerjee shows a situation so serious that it has created a movement where voices of resistance are gathering are getting louder and louder May his heartfelt efforts magnify them The climate changes that are coming have hit soon and hard in the Arctic and their consequences may be starkest there Ian Frazier The New York Review of Books A pristine environment of ecological richness and biodiversity Home to generations of indigenous people for thousands of years The location of vast quantities of oil natural gas and coal Largely uninhabited and long at the margins of global affairs in the last decade Arctic Alaska has quickly become the most contested land in recent US history World renowned photographer writer and activist Subhankar Banerjee brings together first person narratives from more than thirty prominent activists writers and researchers who address issues of climate change resource war and human rights with stunning urgency and groundbreaking research From Gwich'in activist Sarah James's impassioned appeal We Are the Ones Who Have Everything to Lose during the UN Climate Conference in Copenhagen in 2009 to an original piece by acclaimed historian Dan O'Neill about his recent trips to the Yukon Flats fish camps Arctic Voices is a window into a remarkable region Other contributors include Seth Kantner Velma Wallis Nick Jans Debbie Miller Andri Snaer Magnason George Schaller George Archibald Cindy Shogan and Peter Matthiessen

Greening the Academy Samuel Fassbinder, Anthony Nocella, Richard Kahn, 2012-12-30 This is the academic Age of the Neoliberal Arts Campuses as places characterized by democratic debate and controversy wide ranges of opinion typical of vibrant public spheres and service to the larger society are everywhere being creatively destroyed in order to accord with market and military models befitting the academic industrial complex While it has become increasingly clear that facilitating the sustainability movement is the great 21st century educational challenge at hand this book asserts that it is both a dangerous and criminal development today that sustainability in higher education has come to be defined by the complex friendly green campus initiatives of science technology engineering and management programs By contrast Greening the Academy Ecopedagogy Through the Liberal Arts takes the standpoints of those working for environmental and ecological justice in order to critique the unsustainable disciplinary limitations within the humanities and social sciences as well as provide tactical reconstructive openings toward an empowered liberal arts for sustainability Greening the Academy thus hopes to speak back with a collective demand that sustainability education be defined as a critical and moral vocation comprised of the diverse types of humanistic study that will benefit the well being of our emerging planetary community and its numerous common locales

Arctic Wings Stephen Charles Brown, 2006 Two hundred color images celebrating the birds that journey to the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge each year are accompanied by essays by noted biologists and conservationists

Wilderness in the Circumpolar North, 2002 There are growing pressures on undeveloped wild places in the Circumpolar North Among them are pressures for economic development oil and gas exploration and extraction development of geothermal energy resources development of heavy industry close to energy sources and lack of appreciation for other orientations toward wilderness resources by interested parties from broad geographical origins An international seminar in Anchorage Alaska in May of 2001 was the first step in providing basic input to an analysis of the primary set of values associated with Circumpolar North wilderness and the constraints and contributors factors of influence that either limit or facilitate receipt of those values to various segments of society

The Last Polar Bear Steven Kazlowski, Theodore Roosevelt, 2008 Scientists agree that by the end of this century the polar bear will be the first mammal threatened with extinction due to climate change The Last Polar Bear is the first book to fully document that story The continued survival of these magnificent white bears in their warming and melting Arctic world is uncertain yet their fate is also a wake up call compelling us to act now to stem global warming Through Steven Kazlowski s unparalleled imagery the most critical environmental issue of our time is brought to life The Last Polar Bear places the reality of climate change in our hands We see the plight of the polar bear an animal already feeling the detrimental effects of our reliance on fossil fuels as its icy habitat melts Over the course of the last six years wildlife photographer Steven Kazlowski has photographed the polar bear in its wild habitat from Hershel Island in Canada to Point Hope in Alaska The Last Polar Bear pairs his intimate images with anecdotes about his Arctic adventures as well as authoritative essays about the polar bear in the context of climate change Alaska based writers Richard Nelson Charles Wohlforth Nick Jans and leading USGS polar bear biologist Steven C Amstrup draw on decades of experience in the Arctic to cover the biological cultural and anthropological aspects of climate change Dan Glick long time correspondent for Newsweek addresses the history of climate change while Frances Beinecke president of the Natural Resources Defence Council and Theodore Roosevelt IV offer perspectives on activism and politics

The Wilderness Debate Rages On Michael P. Nelson, J. Baird Callicott, 2008 Ten years ago The Great New Wilderness Debate began a cross disciplinary conversation about the varied constructions of wilderness and the controversies that surround them The Wilderness Debate Rages On will reinvigorate that conversation and usher in a second decade of debate Like its predecessor the book gathers both critiques and defenses of the idea of wilderness from a wide variety of perspectives and voices The Wilderness Debate Rages On includes the best explorations of the concept of wilderness from the past decade underappreciated essays from the early twentieth century that offer an alternative vision of the concept and importance of wilderness and writings meant to clarify or help us rethink the concept of wilderness Narrative writers such as Wendell Berry Scott Russell Sanders Marilynne Robinson Kathleen Dean Moore and Lynn Maria Laitala are also given a voice in order to show how the wilderness debate is expanding outside the academy The writers represented in the anthology include ecologists environmental philosophers conservation biologists cultural geographers and environmental activists The book begins with little known papers by early twentieth century ecologists advocating the preservation of natural areas for scientific study not as did Thoreau Muir and the early Leopold for purposes of outdoor recreation The editors argue that had these writers influenced the eventual development of federal wilderness policy our national wilderness system would better serve contemporary conservation priorities for representative ecosystems and biodiversity

The Frog Run John Elder, 2001 Annotation Teacher and writer John Elder a man who loves both literature and the outdoors describes in The Frog Run how he found a way to balance these passions in building a sugarhouse with his sons in the Vermont woods He celebrates the moment between winter and spring known to sugarmakers as the frog run When the tree frogs begin to be heard and the last run of sap good for making syrup flows from the maples For Elder who also writes in this book about the resurgence of New England forests and about his life as a reader the frog run is a time to savor and celebrate the fleeting beauties of his family's place on earth BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Faith of Cranes Hank Lentfer, 2011-08-29 Faith of Cranes weaves together three parallel narratives the plight and beauty of sandhill cranes one man's effort to recover hope amid destructive climate change and the birth of a daughter CLICK HERE to download the first chapter from Faith of Cranes Faith of Cranes is a love song to the beauty and worth of the lives we are able to lead in the world just as it is troubled though it be Lentfer's storytelling achieves its joys and universality not via grand summations but via grounded self-giving familial intimacy funny friendships attentive griefs and full-bodied immersion in the Alaskan rainforest The writing is honest intensely lived and overflowing with heart broken mended and whole David James Duncan author of The Brothers K and God Laughs Plays Hank Lentfer listened to cranes passing over his home in southeast Alaska for twenty years before bothering to figure out where they were going On a very visceral level he didn't want to know After all cranes gliding through the wide skies of Alaska are the essence of wildness But the same animals pecking a living between the cornfields and condos of California's Central Valley seem trapped and diminished A former wildlife biologist and longtime conservationist Lentfer had come to accept that no number of letters to the editor or trips to D C could stop the spread of clear cuts alter the course of climate change or ensure that his beloved cranes would always appear And he had no idea that following the paths of cranes would lead him to the very things he was most afraid of parenthood responsibility and actions of hope in a frustrating and warming world Faith of Cranes is Lentfer's quiet lyrical memoir of his home and community near Glacier Bay that reveals a family's simple acts planting potatoes watching cranes hunting deer as well as a close and eccentric Alaskan community It shows how several thousand birds and one little girl teach a new father there is no future imaginable that does not leave room for compassion and grace The Book of the Everglades Susan Cerulean, 2002 Many may not realize that the Everglades National Park is cut off from the water that gives it life Its ecosystem begins well above the park's boundary extending more than three hundred miles from the Kissimmee River near Tampa and Orlando southward through Florida Bay It is the most endangered ecosystem in North America The Book of the Everglades is a story of how much was changed when the vast river of grass was drained and converted to agriculture its natural plumbing channeled so that nearby towns and farms would be protected from flood and saved in drought It's a story of how one of North America's largest freshwater lakes ended up with a moat around it A story of the sugar barons who were kicked out of Cuba and settled in what is now known as the Everglades Agricultural Area A story of the largest subdivision in the world platted on drained wetlands A story of the soil that is no longer replenished and gives way at the rate of one foot every ten years It is a story told by writers who know how to tell a story and who convey the workings of the entire Everglades ecosystem and the impact of its inhabitants Publisher description The Pine Island Paradox Kathleen Dean Moore, 2011-12-18 Can the love reserved for family and friends be extended to a place Luminous essays on nature and environmental stewardship Booklist Named one of the Top Ten Northwest Books of the Year by the Oregonian In this book acclaimed author Kathleen Dean Moore a winner of the Sigurd Olson Nature Writing Award for Holdfast reflects on how deeply the environment is entrenched in the human spirit despite the notion that nature and humans are somehow separate Moore's essays deeply felt and often funny make connections in what can appear to be a disconnected world Written in parable form her stories of family and friends of wilderness excursions with her husband and children camping trips with students blowing up a dam her daughter's arrest for protesting the war in Iraq affirm an impulse of caring that belies the abstract division of humans from nature of the sacred from the mundane Underlying these wonderfully engaging stories is the author's belief in a new ecological ethic of care one that expands the idea of community to include the environment and embraces the land as family Stands with the best tradition of nature writing The Oregonian A

Conservationist Manifesto Scott Russell Sanders, 2009-03-20 Eloquent a must read for anyone committed to taking care of the natural world and passing it along to future generations ForeWord As an antidote to the destructive culture of consumption dominating American life today Scott Russell Sanders calls for a culture of conservation that allows us to savor and preserve the world instead of devouring it How might we shift to a more durable and responsible way of life What changes in values and behavior will be required Ranging from southern Indiana to the Boundary Waters Wilderness and from billboards to the Bible Sanders's 40 point blueprint for ecological health extends the visions of Henry David Thoreau John Muir and Rachel Carson to our own day A Conservationist Manifesto shows the crucial relevance of a conservation ethic at a time of mounting concern about global climate change depletion of natural resources extinction of species and the economic inequities between rich and poor nations The important message of these original and intriguing essays is that conservation is not simply a personal virtue but a public one Publishers Weekly A book to be savored for its language its stories its sense of place and for how it reminds us of the profound relationships with nature and each other that can inspire us to change how we live on this planet Will Rogers President The Trust for Public Land Keepers of the Trees Ann Linnea, 2010-04-30 Engage in the life stories of fourteen people whose lives have been shaped by trees featuring the true stories of a tree doctor big tree hunter Will Blozan Plant Amnesty's pruner and ninety four year old logger Merve Wilkinson Also interviewed is Vietnam veteran Bud Pearson whose post traumatic stress disorder found healing and acceptance as a wood carver in the wilds of Montana as well as Andy Lipkis founder of TreePeople who has spent thirty five years ripping up concrete in L A to plant over two million trees in an effort to stop flooding and reduce air pollution Each tree keeper reveals the inspiration and organization behind their advocacy with detailed explanations and touching stories of how their lives have come to be shaped by the forests they are fighting to preserve Keepers of the Trees includes stories from all over North America including Vancouver Chicago L A and Montana This book includes one hundred color photographs of the tree keepers in action as well as diagrams illustrating the keepers work These are inspirational stories of conservation healing passion and advocacy for any classroom conservationist activist and nature lover Conversations with Barry Lopez William E.

Tydeman, 2013-08-26 Known as an advocate for the endangered earth Barry Lopez is one of America's preeminent writers on nature. This invigorating book invites readers to sit down with Lopez and his friend William E. Tydeman to engage with their conversations about activism, the life of the mind, and all things literary. Even readers who think they know everything there is to know about Lopez will learn much from this richly informative book, both from Tydeman's concise biography of Lopez and from the dialogue about Lopez's ideas and experiences. The three interviews and Tydeman's reflections on other discussions with Lopez gathered here address nature, human beings' relationship to the land, the tension between political activism and the life of the intellectual, memory and reconciliation, the artist's social responsibility, and the business of authorship. What is the nature of the relationship between the writer and the reader? Lopez asks. It's reciprocal, contractual, and moral. Lopez's thoughts on the importance of authenticity will resonate with every reader or writer, as will his deep commitment to story in all his work. He and Tydeman engage in illuminating exchanges on style and genre, the publication process, and relationships among authors, editors, and publishers. Both men are interested in photography and its relationship to writing, a subject on which they offer thought-provoking comments. A comprehensive annotated bibliography of Lopez's writings by archivist Diane Warner rounds out the volume. Proceedings RMRS, 1998     North to Katahdin Eric Pinder, 2005 When Thoreau ventured into the Maine woods in 1846, he was one of a handful who did so simply to see what was there. Now hundreds of thousands of people pursue the wildest country either for itself as Thoreau did or as the terminus of the Appalachian Trail. Using Mount Katahdin as his lab, Eric Pinder contemplates what draws people to the mountains. Are the urbanites trekking the trails with cell phones, synthetic fabrics, and GPS units having remotely the same experience that Thoreau did? Pinder's interviews with these hikers create a vivid portrait of the communion with nature they seek and of the world they are trying to escape.
