AIR CRASH INVESTIGATIONS, PILOT ERROR? The Crash of Ethiopian Airlines Flight 409 Hans Griffioen, editor, 2012-04 On 25 January 2010 at 00 41 30 UTC Ethiopian Airlines flight ET 409 a Boeing 737 800 on its way from Beirut to Addis Ababa crashed just after take off from Rafic Hariri International Airport in Beirut Lebanon into the Mediterranean Sea about 5 NM South West of Beirut International Airport All 90 persons on board were killed in the accident The investigation concluded that the probable causes of the accident were pilot errors due to loss of situational awareness Ethiopian Airlines refutes this conclusion Other factors that could have led to probable causes are the increased workload and stress levels that have most likely led to the captain reaching a situation of loss of situational awareness similar to a subtle incapacitation and the F O failure to recognize it or to intervene accordingly Ethiopian Airlines refutes the investigation According to the airline the final report was biased lacking evidence incomplete and did not present the full account of the accident Aircraft Accident Report, 197? The Limits of Expertise R. Key Dismukes, Benjamin A. Berman, Loukia Loukopoulos, 2017-03-02 Why would highly skilled well trained pilots make errors that lead to accidents when they had safely completed many thousands of previous flights The majority of all aviation accidents are attributed primarily to human error but this is often misinterpreted as evidence of lack of skill vigilance or conscientiousness of the pilots The Limits of Expertise is a fresh look at the causes of pilot error and aviation accidents arguing that accidents can be understood only in the context of how the overall aviation system operates The authors analyzed in great depth the 19 major U S airline accidents from 1991 2000 in which the National Transportation Safety Board NTSB found crew error to be a causal factor Each accident is reviewed in a separate chapter that examines events and crew actions and explores the cognitive processes in play at each step The approach is guided by extensive evidence from cognitive psychology that human skill and error are opposite sides of the same coin The book examines the ways in which competing task demands ambiguity and organizational pressures interact with cognitive processes to make all experts vulnerable to characteristic forms of error The final chapter identifies themes cutting across the accidents discusses the role of chance criticizes simplistic concepts of causality of accidents and suggests ways to reduce vulnerability to these catastrophes The authors complementary experience allowed a unique approach to the study accident investigation with the NTSB cognitive psychology research both in the lab and in the field enormous first hand experience of piloting and application of aviation psychology in both civil and military operations This combination allowed the authors to examine and explain the domain specific aspects of aviation operations and to extend advances in basic research in cognition to complex issues of human performance in the real world Although The Limits of Expertise is directed to aviation operations the implications are clear for understanding the decision processes skilled performance and errors of professionals in many domains including medicine National Transportation Safety Board Decisions United States.
