Arctic Voices Resistance At The Tipping Point:

Arctic Voices Subhankar Banerjee, 2012-07-03 One of the great strengths of Arctic Voices is that it shows how Alaska and the Arctic are tied to the places where most of us live In this impassioned book Banerjee shows a situation so serious that it has created a movement where voices of resistance are gathering are getting louder and louder May his heartfelt efforts magnify them The climate changes that are coming have hit soon and hard in the Arctic and their consequences may be starkest there Ian Frazier The New York Review of Books A pristine environment of ecological richness and biodiversity Home to generations of indigenous people for thousands of years The location of vast quantities of oil natural gas and coal Largely uninhabited and long at the margins of global affairs in the last decade Arctic Alaska has quickly become the most contested land in recent US history World renowned photographer writer and activist Subhankar Banerjee brings together first person narratives from more than thirty prominent activists writers and researchers who address issues of climate change resource war and human rights with stunning urgency and groundbreaking research From Gwich in activist Sarah James s impassioned appeal We Are the Ones Who Have Everything to Lose during the UN Climate Conference in Copenhagen in 2009 to an original piece by acclaimed historian Dan O Neill about his recent trips to the Yukon Flats fish camps Arctic Voices is a window into a remarkable region Other contributors include Seth Kantner Velma Wallis Nick Jans Debbie Miller Andri Snaer Magnason George Schaller George Archibald Cindy Shogan and Peter Matthiessen Teaching Climate Change in the Humanities Stephen Siperstein, Shane Hall, Stephanie LeMenager, 2016-10-04 Climate change is an enormous and increasingly urgent issue This important book highlights how humanities disciplines can mobilize the creative and critical power of students teachers and communities to confront climate change The book is divided into four clear sections to help readers integrate climate change into the classes and topics they are already teaching as well as engage with interdisciplinary methods and techniques Teaching Climate Change in the Humanities constitutes a map and toolkit for anyone who wishes to draw upon the strengths of literary and cultural studies to teach valuable lessons that engage with climate change Emergent Possibilities for Global Sustainability Phoebe Godfrey, Denise Torres, 2016-06-17 It must be acknowledged that any solutions to anthropogenic Global Climate Change GCC are interdependent and ultimately inseparable from both its causes and consequences As a result limited analyses must be abandoned in favour of intersectional theories and practices Emergent Possibilities for Global Sustainability is an interdisciplinary collection which addresses global climate change and sustainability by engaging with the issues of race gender and class through an intersectional lens The book challenges readers to foster new theoretical and practical linkages and to think beyond the traditional and oftentimes reductionist environmental science frame by examining issues within their turbulent political cultural and personal landscapes Through a variety of media and writing styles this collection is unique in its presentation of a complex and integrated analysis of global climate change and its implications Its companion book Systemic Crises of Global Climate Change addresses the social and ecological urgency surrounding climate change and the need to use intersectionality in both theory and practice This book is a valuable resource for academics researchers and both undergraduate and post graduate students in the areas of Environmental Studies Climate Change Gender Studies and International studies as well as those seeking a more intersectional analysis of GCC Alaska Politics and Public Policy Clive S. Thomas, Laura Savatgy, Kristina Klimovich, 2016-09-15 Politics in Alaska have changed significantly since the last major book on the subject was published more than twenty years ago with the rise and fall of Sarah Palin and the rise and fall of oil prices being but two of the many developments to alter the political landscape This book the most comprehensive on the subject to date focuses on the question of how beliefs institutions personalities and power interact to shape Alaska politics and public policy Drawing on these interactions the contributors explain how and why certain issues get dealt with successfully and others unsuccessfully and why some issues are taken up quickly while others are not addressed at all This comprehensive guide to the political climate of Alaska will be essential to anyone studying the politics of America's largest and in some ways most unusual state

Insult to Our Planet & The Florida Keys Jerrold J. Weinstock, 2017-12-29 Explore the Wonders Face the Reality The medical definition of INSULT is to cause some kind of physical or mental injury Through the eyes of this psychiatrist and his raw existential passion for the planet a web of insult is untangled to expose environmental degradation we face today and its impact on the human spirit For over fifty years Dr Weinstock has lived in the Florida Keys fishing the Atlantic and the Gulf waters off of Key West A prize winning angler he shares exciting stories of the past in this sport fishing mecca You'll feel the humidity as he fights the Permit on Boca Chica beach hear the screeching of the terns while bonefishing on Marvin Key Through twist and turns and stories of the mind the author demonstrates the healing power of nature Hundreds of colorful photos display the glorious diversity of fish and natural beauty from Key West to Alaska exploring the uplifting and the dismal view At the helm are many years of research that uncover abuses of nature in the Florida Keys as a metaphor for global environmental tragedies Looking for a Story Noel Rubinton, 2025-05-13 An annotated guide to the work of the Pulitzer Prize winning writer teacher and pioneer of creative nonfiction John McPhee has been a staff writer for The New Yorker since 1965 and has written more than thirty acclaimed books that began on the magazine's pages But few readers know or fully appreciate the true breadth of his writing Looking for a Story is a complete reader's guide to McPhee's vast published work documenting much rarely seen or connected with McPhee including remarkable early writing for Time magazine published without his name In chronicling McPhee's career where he broke ground applying devices long associated with fiction to the literature of fact Noel Rubinton gives insights into McPhee's techniques choice of subjects and research methods shedding light on how McPhee turns complicated subjects like geology into compelling stories Beyond detailing more than seventy years of McPhee's writing Rubinton recounts McPhee's half century as a Princeton University writing professor a little known part of his legacy McPhee inspired generations of students who wrote hundreds of books of their own also catalogued here With an incisive foreword by New Yorker staff writer and former McPhee student Peter Hessler Looking for a Story also includes extensive annotated listings of articles about McPhee reviews of his books and interviews readings and speeches Whether you are already an admirer of McPhee or new to his writings this book provides an invaluable road map to his rich body of work They Came But Could Not Conquer Diane J. Purvis,2024-05 As the environmental justice movement slowly builds momentum Diane J Purvis highlights the work of Indigenous peoples in Alaska s small rural villages who have faced incredible odds throughout history yet have built political clout fueled by vigorous common cause in defense of their homes and livelihood Starting with the transition from Russian to American occupation of Alaska Alaska Natives have battled with oil and gas corporations fought against U S plans to explode thermonuclear bombs on the edge of Native villages litigated against political plans to flood Native homes sought recompense for the Exxon Valdez oil spill disaster and struggled against the federal government s fishing restrictions that altered Native paths for subsistence In They Came but Could Not Conquer Purvis presents twelve environmental crises that occurred when isolated villages were threatened by a governmental monolith or big business In each Native peoples rallied together to protect their land waters resources and a way of life against the bulldozer of unwanted often dangerous alterations labeled as progress In this gripping narrative Purvis shares the inspiring stories of those who possessed little influence over big business and regulations yet were able to protect their traditional lands and waterways anyway Arctic Environmental Modernities Lill-Ann Körber,Scott MacKenzie,Anna Westerståhl Stenport,2017-02-12 This book offers a diverse and groundbreaking account of the intersections between modernities and environments in the circumpolar global North foregrounding the Arctic as a critical space of modernity where the past present and future of the planet s environmental and political systems are projected and imagined Investigating the Arctic region as a privileged site of modernity this book articulates the globally significant but often overlooked junctures between environmentalism and sustainability indigenous epistemologies and scientific rhetoric and decolonization strategies and governmentality With international expertise made easily accessible readers can observe and understand the rise and conflicted status of Arctic modernities from the nineteenth century polar explorer era to the present day of anthropogenic climate change Ecocriticism and Indigenous Studies Salma Monani,Joni Adamson,2016-08-05 This book addresses the intersections between the interdisciplinary realms of Ecocriticism and

Indigenous and Native American Studies and between academic theory and pragmatic eco activism conducted by multiethnic and indigenous communities It illuminates the multi layered polyvocal ways in which artistic expressions render ecological connections drawing on scholars working in collaboration with Indigenous artists from all walks of life including film literature performance and other forms of multimedia to expand existing conversations Both local and global in its focus the volume includes essays from multiethnic and Indigenous communities across the world visiting topics such as Navajo opera Sami film production history south Indian tribal documentary Maori art installations Native American and First Nations

science fiction literature and film Amazonian poetry and many others Highlighting trans Indigenous sensibilities that speak to worldwide crises of environmental politics and action against marginalization the collection alerts readers to movements of community resilience and resistance cosmological thinking about inter and intra generational multi species relations and understandings of indigenous aesthetics and material ecologies It engages with emerging environmental concepts such as multispecies ethnography cosmopolitics and trans indigeneity as well as with new areas of ecocritical research such as material ecocriticism biosemiotics and media studies In its breadth and scope this book promises new directions for ecocritical thought and environmental humanities practice providing thought provoking insight into what it means to be human in a locally situated globally networked and cosmologically complex world Critical Norths Sarah Jaquette Ray, Kevin Maier, 2017-05-15 For millennia the North has held a powerful sway in Western culture Long seen through contradictions empty of life yet full of promise populated by indigenous communities yet ripe for conquest pristine yet marked by a long human history it has moved to the foreground of contemporary life as the most dramatic stage for the reality of climate change This book brings together scholars from a range of disciplines to ask key questions about the North and how we've conceived it and how conceiving of it in those terms has caused us to fail the region's human and nonhuman life Engaging questions of space place indigeneity identity nature the environment justice narrative history and more it offers a crucial starting point for an essential rethinking of both the idea and the reality of the North Postcolonial Perspectives on the European High North Graham Huggan, Lars Jensen, 2016-07-26 This book approaches the Arctic from a postcolonial perspective taking into account both its historical status as a colonised region and new economically driven forms of colonialism One catchphrase currently being used to describe these new colonialisms is the scramble for the Arctic This cross disciplinary study featuring contributions from an international team of experts in the field offers a set of broadly postcolonial perspectives on the European Arctic which is taken here as ranging from Greenland and Iceland in the North Atlantic to the upper regions of Norway and Sweden in the European High North While the contributors acknowledge the renewed scramble for resources that characterises the region it also argues the need to unscramble the Arctic wresting it away from its persistent status as a fixed object of western control and knowledge Instead the book encourages a reassertion of micro histories of Arctic space and territory that complicate western grand narratives of technological progress politico economic development and ecological state change It will be of interest to scholars of Arctic Studies across all disciplines

Ephemeral Coast: Visualizing Coastal Climate Change Celina Jeffery, 2022-08-02 Ephemeral Coast Visualizing Coastal Climate Change considers the ways that art can offer a means through which to discover analyze re imagine and re frame emotive discourses about the ecological and cultural transformations of the coastline This edited anthology takes ephemerality as its central conceptual and methodological framework and presents a series of essays that create interconnections between environmental and social considerations of the coast a succession of embodied creative practices and shifting regional geographic identities The book presents a series of specific case studies of artistic practices and strategies that seek to capture the rewriting of cartographic maps that are being reshaped by rising seas coastal flooding and catastrophic weather The essays in this edited volume engender creative strategies for understanding new and uncertain coastal ecologies and the loss expulsion or destruction of their associated cultures habitats species and ecosystems The anthology also looks at the historical mnemonic and contemporary transitional conditions of conflicted coastal spaces in which empire modernity and globalization press on coastal erosion and incursions proliferate it with trivial plastics pollution and disposable attitudes and bring vulnerable communities into uncertain futures

The North American Arctic Dwayne Ryan Menezes, Heather N. Nicol, 2019-11-04 The North American Arctic addresses the emergence of a new security relationship within the North American North It focuses on current and emerging security issues that confront the North American Arctic and that shape relationships between and with neighbouring states Alaska in the US Yukon Northwest Territories and Nunavut in Canada Greenland and Russia Identifying the degree to which domain awareness has redefined the traditional military focus while a new human rights discourse undercuts traditional ways of managing sovereignty and territory the volume's contributors question normative security arrangements Although security itself is not an obsolete concept our understanding of what constitutes real human centred security has become outdated The contributors argue that there are new regionally specific threats originating from a wide range of events and possibilities and very different subjectivities that can be brought to understand the shape of Arctic security and security relationships in the twenty first century

Sound Relations Jessica Bissett Perea, 2021-10-12 Sound Relations delves into histories of Inuit musical life in Alaska to trace the ways in which sound is integral to self determination and sovereignty Offering radical and relational ways of listening to Inuit performances across genres from hip hop to Christian hymnody and traditional drumsongs to funk and R B author Jessica Bissett Perea shows how Indigenous ways of musicking amplify possibilities for more just and equitable futures

Svalbard Andreas Umbreit, Roger Norum, 2013 A new edition of the most in depth guide available to the most remote area of the Scandinavian Arctic from ends of the earth wilderness adventures to fascinating insight into the flora fauna and natural landscapes The perfect guide to the perfect bucket list destination

River Delta Futures Francisco-J. Hernández Adrián, Angelos Theocharis, 2025-02-20 How are climate change weather related disasters food and water insecurity and energetic and infrastructural collapse narrated audiovisually in the most environmentally vulnerable areas of the Planet This book addresses this and related questions by adopting a local and transdisciplinary perspective on river deltas from different areas of the world River deltas have historically been hotspots for human civilizations as populations settled in their fertile grounds seeking resources and opportunities for prosperity Despite this the terrains and livelihoods of those who rely on them are under threat from human exploitation environmental degradation and rapidly accelerating climate change Inspired by the UN Sustainable Development Goals this book provides a range of focused audiovisual analyses of deltaic spaces Ranging across a variety of media including documentary filmmaking animation photography collaborative comic making participatory visual art practices soundwalking and film analysis it examines the role that contemporary audiovisual media play in forging global environmental imaginaries In doing so it adopts a transdisciplinary approach to the Blue Humanities from countries across the world including Canada Bolivia Brazil Greece Nigeria Senegal India Bangladesh Myanmar Thailand and Vietnam The Cambridge Companion to Environmental Humanities Jeffrey Cohen,Stephanie Foote,2021-09-02 Offers a comprehensive introduction to the environmental humanities It addresses the 21st century recognition of an environmental crisis Unfreezing the Arctic Andrew Stuhl,2016-11-03 This rich portrait of Arctic science informed by ethnographic fieldwork and Inuit perspective speaks to the interplay of science and international politics It looks at episodes of exploration colonial control exchanges with indigenous populations and the process of knowledge gathering on the Arctic s natural and living resources Andrew Stuhl s compelling narrative weaves together distinct episodes into a backstory for what some have wrongly called the unprecedented transformations in the circumpolar basin today Unfreezing the Arctic is among the first books to undertake a sustained examination of scientific activity in the Arctic across the long twentieth century and it will be warmly welcomed by anyone interested in the commingled political economic and social histories of transboundary regions the world over Photographers and Research Shirley Read,Mike Simmons,2016-12-19 This ground breaking book situates research at the heart of photographic practice asking the key question What does research mean for photographers Illuminating the nature and scope of research and its practical application to photography the book explores how research provides a critical framework to help develop awareness extend subject knowledge and inform the development of photographic work The authors consider research as integral to the creative process and through interviews with leading photographers explore how photographers have embedded research strategies into their creative practice Climate Change and the New Polar Aesthetics Lisa E. Bloom,2022-08-08 Lisa E Bloom considers the way artists filmmakers and activists in the Arctic and Antarctic use their art to illustrate our current environmental crises and to reconstruct public understanding of them
