Blackpeak Station Holly Ford:

Blackpeak Station Holly Ford, 2014-10-20 A compelling rural romance set in the rugged high country of New Zealand's South Island. Four generations of the Black family have farmed Blackpeak Station. Next in line or so she believes is Charlotte Black, stubborn as rock and unbiddable as the weather. But standing in her way are 150 years of tradition, an older brother and a father who believes that daughters run families, not farms. To make her childhood dream of owning the family property come true, she'll have to be as tough as the mountains themselves. There can be no room for romance in Charlotte's life. Or so she thinks until it arrives at her door. Can she have both love and land, or must she choose? Can Charlotte learn to trust her heart? Blackpeak Station is a celebration in a sense of high country life and all its beauty and splendour. It has been sympathetically written to convey authentically the setting, the characters and relationships and the challenges of living in this remote part of New Zealand. The story is engaging, the characters true and the setting beautifully realised. If you think this is just another romance, think again, as there are plenty of twists and turns to keep you guessing. Blackpeak Station is contemporary, it is well written and gambols along at a pace to keep you hooked. It is, as they say, a really good yarn. Wendy A. Mill, Daily News, New Plymouth, Taranaki.

Just up the hill, beautiful, independent Ella Harrington is playing with fire as she tries to juggle the demands of her new career with her love for her gorgeous, bad-boy boyfriend. Where will the sparks fall? And who will get burnt? Meanwhile, intent on everyone else's problems, will Ella's mother, Lizzie, be too slow to see the clouds looming over her own horizon?
