Foster, Philadelphia Museum of Art, 2017-01-01 The fascinating story of the transformation of American watercolor practice between 1866 and 1925 The formation of the American Watercolor Society in 1866 by a small dedicated group of painters transformed the perception of what had long been considered a marginal medium Artists of all ages styles and backgrounds took up watercolor in the 1870s inspiring younger generations of impressionists and modernists By the 1920s many would claim it as the American medium This engaging and comprehensive book tells the definitive story of the metamorphosis of American watercolor practice between 1866 and 1925 identifying the artist constituencies and social forces that drove the new popularity of the medium The major artists of the movement Winslow Homer John Singer Sargent William Trost Richards Thomas Moran Thomas Eakins Charles Prendergast Childe Hassam Edward Hopper Charles Demuth and many others are represented with lavish color illustrations The result is a fresh and beautiful look at watercolor's central place in American art and culture

Thomas Hart Benton's America Today The Metropolitan Museum of Art Bulletin, v. 72, no. 3 (Winter, 2015) Randall R. Griffey, Elizabeth Mankin Kornhauser, Stephanie L. Herdrich, Shawn Digney-Peer, Cynthia Moyer, 2015-03-16 Thomas Hart Benton is often recognized as the leader of the 1930s movement known as Regionalism which celebrated rural life in the United States However he lived and worked primarily in New York from 1912 to 1935 one of the most vibrant and dynamic periods in the city's history It was also a critical time for Benton's artistic development as he gradually established and set on the course that would define his career one characterized by a passionate commitment to public art populist subject matter and a distinctively expressive figurative style rooted predominantly in European Mannerism The pinnacle of Benton's New York years was the mural cycle he painted for the newly erected headquarters of the New School for Social Research at 66 West 12th Street which opened to the public in January 1931 Called America Today the mural his first significant commission for an institution raised Benton's artistic stature not only in New York but also nationwide setting the stage for his appearance in December 1934 on the cover of Time magazine the first time an artist was accorded that honor This Bulletin reveals the many remarkable stories that America Today has to tell and presents new discoveries about Benton's epic cycle The essay and entries contained in these pages elucidate the mural's rich content particularly Benton's celebration of the

Machine Age and American progress in the 1920s Winslow Homer and the Camera Frank H. Goodyear III, Dana E. Byrd, 2018-01-01 A revelatory exploration of Winslow Homer's engagement with photography shedding new light on his celebrated paintings and works on paper One of the greatest American painters of the 19th century Winslow Homer 1836-1910 also maintained a deep engagement with photography throughout his career Focusing on the important yet often overlooked role that photography played in Homer's art this volume exposes Homer's own experiments with the camera he first bought one in 1882 It also explores how the medium of photography and the larger visual economy influenced his work as a painter watercolorist and printmaker at a moment when new print technologies inundated the public with images Frank Goodyear and Dana Byrd demonstrate that photography offered Homer new ways of seeing and representing the world from his early commercial engravings sourced from contemporary photographs to the complex relationship between his late career paintings of life in the Bahamas Florida and Cuba and the emergent trend of tourist photography The authors argue that Homer's understanding of the camera's ability to create an image that is simultaneously accurate and capable of deception was vitally important to his artistic practice in all media Richly illustrated and full of exciting new discoveries Winslow Homer and the Camera is a long overdue examination of the ways in which photography shaped the vision of one of America's most original painters Unfinished Kelly Baum, Andrea Bayer, Sheena Wagstaff, 2016-03-01 This groundbreaking book explores the evolving concept of unfinishedness as essential to understanding art movements from the Renaissance to the present day Unfinished features more than 200 works created in a variety of media by artists ranging from Leonardo Titian Rembrandt Turner and C zanne to Picasso Warhol Twombly Freud Richter and Nauman What unites these works across centuries and media is that each one displays some aspect of being unfinished Essays and case studies by major contemporary scholars address this key concept from the perspective of both the creator and the viewer probing the impact that this long artistic trajectory which can be traced back to the first century has had on modern and contemporary art The book investigates the degrees to which instances of incompleteness were accidental or intentional experimental or conceptual Also included are illuminating interviews with contemporary artists including Tuymans Celmins and Marden and parallel considerations of the unfinished in literature and film The result is a multidisciplinary approach and thought provoking analysis that provide valuable insight into the making meaning and critical reception of the unfinished in art

Hans Hofmann Dawn V. Rogala, 2016-08-01 The career of the German American painter and educator Hans Hofmann 1880-1966 describes the arc of artistic modernism from pre World War I Munich and Paris to mid twentieth century Greenwich Village His career also traces the transatlantic engagement of modern painting with the materials of its own making a relationship that is perhaps still not completely understood In these interrelated narratives Hofmann is a central protagonist providing a vital link between nineteenth and twentieth century art practice and between European and American modernism The remarkable vitality of his later work affords insight not only into the style but also the literal substance of this formative period of artistic and material innovation This richly illustrated book the fourth in the Getty Conservation Institute's Artist's Materials series presents a thorough examination of Hofmann's late career materials Initial chapters present an informative overview of Hofmann's life and work in Europe and America and discuss his crucial role in the development of Abstract Expressionism Subsequent chapters present a detailed analysis of Hofmann's materials and techniques and explore the relationship of the artist's mature palette to shifts in the style and aging characteristics of his paintings The book concludes with lessons for the conservation of modernist paintings generally and particularly those that incorporate both traditional and modern paint media This book will be of value to conservators art historians conservation scientists and general readers with an interest in modern art
