Theorizing Built Form and Culture Kapila D. Silva, Nisha A. Fernando, 2024-03-08 In this collection of essays Theorizing Built Form and Culture The Legacy of Amos Rapoport a felicitation volume to celebrate the significance of Professor Amos Rapoport's lifelong scholarship scholars from around the world discuss the analytical relevance expansion and continuing application of these contributions in developing an advanced understanding of mutual relationships between people and built environments across cultures Professor Amos Rapoport has espoused an intellectual and theoretical legacy on environmental design scholarship that explains how cultural factors play a significant role in the ways people create and use environments as well as the way environments in turn influence people's behavior This volume presents a hitherto not seen unique and singular work that simultaneously articulates a cohesive framework of Rapoport's architectural theories and demonstrates how that theoretical approach be used in architectural inquiry education and practice across environmental scales types and cultural contexts It also acknowledges for the very first time how this theoretical legacy has pioneered the decolonizing of the Eurocentric approaches to architectural inquiry and has thus privileged an inclusive cross cultural perspective that laid the groundwork to understand and analyze non Western design traditions The book thus reflects a wide range of cross cultural and cross contextual range to which Professor Rapoport's theories apply a general notion of theoretical validity he always advocated for in his own writings The volume is a paramount source for scholars and students of architecture who are interested in understanding how culture mediates the creation use and preservation of the built environment

New Architecture and Technology Gyula Sebestyen, Christopher Pollington, 2007-06-07 Many books have covered the topics of architecture materials and technology New Architecture and Technology is the first to explore the interrelation between these three subjects It illustrates the impact of modern technology and materials on architecture The book explores the technical progress of building showing how developments both past and present are influenced by design methods It provides a survey of contemporary architecture as affected by construction technology It also explores aspects of building technology within the context of general industrial social and economic developments The reader will acquire a vocabulary covering the entire range of structure types and learn a new approach to understanding the development of design Region Simon Richards, Robert Schmidt III, Cagri Sanliturk, Falli Palaiologou, 2023-07-28 This book explores how the concept of region has evolved over time and shaped architectural culture and practice It questions what the words region and regional mean for architecture cities and landscapes past and present and speculates on the forms they might take in the future Region is explored in many thematic guises as a real geographical site of evolving socio economic activity as a mythical locus of enduring value as a gatekeeper of indigenous crafts and vernacular techniques as a site of architectural and artistic imagination as a repository of contested conflicted and mobile identities The contributing chapters take these themes from the theoretical and literary page through to architectural and urban practice and from the scale of the domestic hearth through to the ocean archipelago and international law enriching the long standing trope of viewing architectural regionalism purely as a matter of style Curated into four key thematic areas Theorised Regions Contested Regions Heritage Regions and Future Regions the book incorporates the values concerns and approaches of a truly diverse international community of scholars curators and practitioners as well as the design work of international students tasked to explore what region means to them

Design for Diversity Emily Talen, 2012-07-26 The city is more than just a sum of its buildings it is the sum of its communities The most successful urban communities are very often those that are the most diverse in terms of income age family structure and ethnicity and yet poor urban design and planning can stifle the very diversity that makes communities successful Just as poor urban design can lead to sterile monoculture successful planning can support the conditions needed for diverse communities Emily Talen explores the linkage between urban forms and social diversity and how one impacts the other Learning the lessons from past successes and failures and building from detailed case studies of different neighborhoods Design for Diversity provides urban designers and architects with design strategies and tools to ensure that their work sustains and nurtures social diversity

Rethinking Aesthetics Ritu Bhatt, 2013-03-05 Rethinking Aesthetics is the first book to bring together prominent voices in the fields of architecture philosophy aesthetics and cognitive sciences to radically rethink the relationship between body and design These essays argue that aesthetic experiences can be nurtured at any moment in everyday life thanks to recent discoveries by researchers in neuroscience phenomenology somatics and analytic philosophy of the mind who have made the correlations between aesthetic cognition the human body and everyday life much clearer The essays by Yuriko Saito Juhani Pallasmaa and Richard Shusterman among others range from an integrated mind body approach to chair design to Zen Buddhist notions of mindfulness to theoretical accounts of existential relationships with buildings to present a full spectrum of possible inquiries By placing the body in the center of design Rethinking Aesthetics opens new directions for rethinking the limits of both essentialism and skepticism

An Agenda for Sustainable Development Research Walter Leal Filho,Amanda Lange Salvia,Claudio Ruy Portela de Vasconcelos,2024-09-20 This book involves establishing a set of priorities and a roadmap that can guide scholarly and practical efforts towards sustainability goals It encourages collaboration across disciplines to address complex sustainability issues that span social economic and environmental domains It also supports the development of robust methodologies for conducting research including quantitative qualitative and mixed methods approaches But despite the importance of and the need for an agenda for sustainable development research many efforts are isolated and thematically disconnected Also it is difficult to find information on how sustainability research is being undertaken and on the wide range of methods being used Against this backdrop and in order to facilitate a broad discussion on the contribution of sustainable development research this book is being produced The book gathers inputs from universities and research organisations working on matters related to sustainable development research in a variety of contexts It also provides a platform for the dissemination of information on the latest initiatives paving the way for technology transfer and networking Furthermore the book intends to provide a fertile basis upon which universities research centres and practitioners may cooperate more closely in this key area Last but not least a further aim of the book is to present methodological approaches and experiences deriving from case studies and projects which aim to show how sustainability research may be implementing across a range of disciplines Thanks to its scope and interdisciplinarity this books makes an excellent reading to everyone interested on sustainability research

Home Environments Irwin Altman,Carol M. Werner,2013-06-29 The present volume in the series focuses on homes residences and dwellings Although many fields have had a long standing interest in different aspects of home environments the topic has recently come to the forefront in the interdisciplinary environment and behavior field Researchers and theorists from many disciplines have begun to meet regularly share ideas and perspectives and move the investigation of psychological social and behavioral aspects of home environments to the central arena of environment and behavior studies This volume representative though not comprehensive attempts to provide a sampling of contemporary perspectives on the study of home environments As in previous volumes the authors are drawn from a variety of disciplines including environmental design fields of architecture and planning and from the social science fields of psychology sociology anthropology and history This diversity of authors and perspectives makes salient the principle that the study of homes in relation to behavior requires the contributions of many disciplines Moreover the chapters in this volume reflect an array of research and theoretical viewpoints different scales of home environments e g objects and areas the home as a whole the home as embedded in neighborhood and communities etc design and policy issues and necessarily a comparative and cross cultural perspective Home environments are at the core of human life in most cultures and it is hoped that the contributions to this volume display the excitement potential and importance of research and theory on homes
