Conservation Agriculture in Africa Saidi Mkomwa, Amir H. Kassam, 2022-01-11

Tillage agriculture has led to widespread soil and ecosystem degradation globally and more particularly in the developing regions This is especially so in Africa where traditional agricultural practices have become unsustainable due to severe exploitation of natural resources with negative impacts on the environment and food system In addition agricultural land use in Africa today faces major challenges including increased costs climate change and a need to transform to more sustainable production intensification systems Conservation Agriculture has emerged as a major alternative sustainable climate smart agriculture approach in Africa and has spread to many African countries in the past decade as more development and research including in sustainable mechanization has enabled its extension and uptake. It is key to transforming Africa's agriculture and food system given its ability to restore soil health biodiversity and productivity of millions of smallholder farms as well as larger scale farms. This book is aimed at all agricultural stakeholders in the public private and civil sectors in Africa engaged in supporting the transformation of conventional tillage agriculture to Conservation Agriculture. The book will be of interest to researchers academics students development stakeholders public and private sector investors and policy makers as well as institutional libraries across the world. Advances in Production, Logistics and Traffic Uwe Clausen, Sven Langkau, Felix Kreuz, 2019-02-25

The series of Interdisciplinary Conferences on Production Logistics and Traffic ICPLT address the research community as well as practitioners in these fields with special attention to links and interfaces between the three disciplines. The fourth ICPLT in particular deals with technology from intralogistics to automated trucking driving as well as the societal aspects of commercial transport. To contribute to a high level and beneficial exchange between authorities in politics and municipalities with researchers and practitioners in production and logistics management the ICPLT has asked for contributions from the three disciplines to better understand innovative technologies best practises and latest results. These contributions have been evaluated and selected based on a double blind review process to become part of this book. It comprises 21 contributions examining trends and challenges for commercial transport as the essential link for production logistics and society. Therefore innovative technologies and strategies are presented and discussed to better understand the interdependencies conflicts of interest and to develop feasible solutions. Topics: Simulation Optimization in Production and Logistics Freight Transport Demand Modelling Intralogistics Logistics Facilities Policy Human Factors Production Maintenance Supply Chain Management Sustainable Logistics Energy Target Groups Representatives of public authorities municipalities politics Actors of sectoral transport spatial planning Actors of production logistics Researchers in the disciplines production logistics transport spatial planning. Advancing Africa's Sustainable Development Alain L. Fymat, 2018-11-14

While many African countries lag behind the rest of the industrialised world in scientific and medical research and development the situation is progressively improving. This is why the Society for the Advancement of Science in Africa was established to contribute to economic advancement and sustainability through science research education and innovation. This book provides a selection of papers from the Advancement of Science in Africa's fourth annual conference. The conference was held under the overarching theme of science technology and innovation in Africa with several important sub themes including but not limited to improving health research and disease surveillance education collaborating in research responding to epidemic diseases with high mortality in Africa and promoting women's interest in science careers. The collection illustrates how although the chapter contributors come from various countries and universities representing their own academic research they all share a common interest in advancing science technology and innovation in Africa.
