The Numeral Systems of Nigerian Languages Ndimele, Ozo-mekuri, Chan, Eugene S.L., 2016-04-30 The papers in this collection present the numeral systems of more than twenty Nigerian languages The papers mainly emanate from a workshop on the numeral systems of Nigerian languages organised by the Linguistic Association of Nigeria during its 23rd Annual Conference which was held at the University of Port Harcourt Nigeria The workshop arose from awareness created by Dr Eugene S L Chan on the need for Nigerian linguists to document this severely endangered but very important aspect of natural languages The quantum of mathematical computations addition multiplication subtraction or a combination of two or all of these involved in the numeral systems of Nigerian languages is remarkable The papers reveal that a variety of numeral systems do exist such as binary decimal incomplete decimal duodecimal quinary quaternary ternary mixed body part tally systems and much more The book is a resource about how different languages manipulate their numeral systems Farfaru Journal of Multi-disciplinary Studies, 2007

Visual language Wendy Sandler, Marianne Gullberg, Carol Padden, 2019-11-04

Traditionally, research on human language has taken speech and written language as the only domains of investigation. However, there is now a wealth of empirical studies documenting visual aspects of language, ranging from rich studies of sign languages, which are self-contained visual language systems, to the field of gesture studies, which examines speech-associated gestures, facial expressions, and other bodily movements related to communicative expressions. But despite this large body of work, sign language and gestures are rarely treated together in theoretical discussions. This volume aims to remedy that by considering both types of visual language jointly in order to transcend artificial theoretical divides and to arrive at a comprehensive account of the human language faculty. This collection seeks to pave the way for an inherently multimodal view of language in which visible actions of the body play a crucial role. The 19 papers in this volume address four broad and overlapping topics: 1. the multimodal nature of language; 2. multimodal representation of meaning; 3. multimodal and multichannel prosody; and 4. acquisition and development of visual language in children and adults.
