Multisensor Systems for Analysis of Liquids and Gases: Trends and Developments Larisa Lvova,Dmitry

Kirsanov,2019-01-22 Nowadays the application of multisensor systems for the analysis of liquids and gases is becoming more and more popular in analytical chemistry Such systems also known as electronic tongues and electronic noses are based on various types of chemical sensors and biosensors with different transduction principles combined with multivariate data processing protocols These instruments received significant interest due to their simplicity low costs and the possibility to obtain reliable chemical information from complex unresolved analytical signals A distinct feature of electronic tongues and noses is that they can be calibrated for prediction of complex integral features in samples like e g taste odor toxicity geographical origin general conformity with certain standards etc the tasks that otherwise would require involvement of complex analytical instrumentation human or animal sensory panels In the present eBook the original research and review articles in the area of multisensor approach are collected They dedicated to the novel sensor materials development measuring techniques evaluation electronics data processing protocols and practical applications An editorial foreword article is followed by the researches authored by leading scientists in the field of chemical sensors and artificial sensing systems With this eBook we hope to inspire further interest and new research efforts in this exciting area

Network Bioscience, 2nd Edition Marco Pellegrini,Marco Antoniotti,Bud Mishra,2020-03-27 Network science has accelerated a deep and successful trend in research that influences a range of disciplines like mathematics graph theory physics statistics data science and computer science just to name a few and adapts the relevant techniques and insights to address relevant but disparate social biological technological questions We are now in an era of big biological data supported by cost effective high throughput genomic transcriptomic proteomic metabolomic data collection techniques that allow one to take snapshots of the cells molecular profiles in a systematic fashion Moreover recently also phenotypic data data on diseases symptoms patients etc are being collected at nation wide level thus giving us another source of highly related causal big data This wealth of data is usually modeled as networks aka binary relations graphs or webs of interactions including protein protein metabolic signaling and transcription regulatory interactions The network model is a key view point leading to the uncovering of mesoscale phenomena thus providing an essential bridge between the observable phenotypes and omics underlying mechanisms Moreover network analysis is a powerful hypothesis generation tool guiding the scientific cycle of data gathering data interpretation hypothesis generation and hypothesis testing A major challenge in contemporary research is the synthesis of deep insights coming from network science with the wealth of data often noisy contradictory incomplete and difficult to replicate so to answer meaningful biological questions in a quantifiable way using static and dynamic properties of biological networks
