

03	Applying material from Item A , analyse two ways in which the education system might serve the needs of capitalism .	10
----	--	----

Item A

According to Marx, capitalism is based on the ownership of the means of production by a wealthy minority. Capitalism continues to exist because each new generation of workers is forced to undertake low-paid, alienating work to survive. This makes capitalism potentially unstable, since it depends on the proletariat not seeking to overthrow this unequal system.

Marks	Level Descriptors
8–10	Answers in this band will show good knowledge and understanding of relevant material on two ways in which the education system might serve the needs of capitalism. There will be two developed applications of material from the item, eg the proletariat do not seek to overthrow capitalism because the education system acts as an ideological state apparatus; the education system reproduces capitalism by preparing each generation of working-class children to fill their future roles as alienated, exploited workers. There will be appropriate analysis/evaluation of two ways, eg the education system meets capitalism's need by legitimating class inequality through ideologies such as the myth of meritocracy, thus preventing its overthrow; the education system meets capitalism's need to continue through the correspondence principle, whereby the schooling of working-class children mirrors the capitalist workplace in terms of hierarchy, alienation, extrinsic rewards, fragmentation and competition.
4–7	Answers in this band will show a basic to reasonable knowledge and understanding of one to two ways in which the education system might serve the needs of capitalism. There will be some successful application of material from the item, eg the education system justifies workers accepting inequality and low-paid, alienating work because their underachievement at school shows they are only capable of menial jobs. There will be some analysis/evaluation.
1–3	Answers in this band will show limited knowledge and understanding of one to two ways in which the education system might serve the needs of capitalism. There will be limited application of material from the item. Some material maybe at a tangent to the question, eg causes of working-class underachievement. There will be limited or no analysis/evaluation.
0	No relevant points.
