Comfort Food Ray Comfort, 2012-09-24 From years of coming face to face with unbelievers on the street answering their questions and facing down their arguments Ray Comfort has a wealth of experience and advice for anyone interested in doing the same thing His concern for the watered down Gospel that is being preached in many quarters is countered by his commitment to sharing God's holiness and the inherent sinful nature of man Christians who want to be on the frontlines of the battle for souls will find Comfort Food an inspiring account of how one man called of God can make a difference by just following as the name of Ray Comfort's TV show says The Way of the Master Masturbation in Pop Culture Lauren Rosewarne, 2014-10-15

Through reference to over six hundred scenes from film and television as well as a diverse and cross disciplinary academic bibliography Masturbation in Pop Culture investigates the role that masturbation serves within narratives while simultaneously mirroring our complicated relationship with the practice in real life and sparking discussions about a broad range of hot button sexual subjects From sitcoms to horror movies teen comedies to erotic thrillers autoeroticism is easily detected on screen The portrayal however is not a simple one Just as in real life a paradox exists where most of us masturbate and accept it as normal and natural there simultaneously exists a silence about it that we do it but we don't talk about it that we enjoy it but we laugh about it The screen reflects this conflicted relationship It is there hundreds and hundreds of times but it is routinely whispered about mocked and presented as a punchline and is inevitably portrayed as controversial at the very least Masturbation in Pop Culture investigates the embarrassment and squeamishness sexiness and inappropriateness of masturbation showcasing and analyzing how our complex off screen relationship is mirrored in film and television
