Novel Jakub Lipski, 2021-08-12 Re-Reading the Eighteenth Century Novel adds to the dynamically developing subfield of reception studies within eighteenth century studies Lipski shows how secondary visual and literary texts live their own lives in new contexts while being also attentive to the possible ways in which these new lives may tell us more about the source texts To this end the book offers five case studies of how canonical novels of the eighteenth century by Daniel Defoe Henry Fielding and Laurence Sterne came to be interpreted by readers from different historical moments Lipski prioritises responses that may seem non standard or even disconnected from the original appreciating difference as a gateway to unobvious territories as well as expressing doubts regarding readings that verge on misinterpretative appropriation The material encompasses textual and visual testimonies of reading including book illustration prints and drawings personal documents reviews literary texts and literary criticism The case studies are arranged into three sections visual transvaluations reception in Poland and critical afterlives and are concluded by a discussion of the most recent socio political uses and revisions of eighteenth century fiction in the Age of Trump 2016 2020 Risk and the English Novel Julia

Hoydis, 2019-09-23 Taking the cue from the currency of risk in popular and interdisciplinary academic discourse this book explores the development of the English novel in relation to the emergence and institutionalization of risk from its origins in probability theory in the late seventeenth century to the global risk society in the twenty first century Focussing on 29 novels from Defoe to McEwan this book argues for the contemporaneity of the rise of risk and the novel and suggests that there is much to gain from reading the risk society from a diachronic literary cultural perspective Tracing changes and continuities the fictional case studies reveal the human preoccupation with safety and control of the future They show the struggle with uncertainties and the construction of individual or collective logics of risk which oscillate between rational calculation and emotion helplessness and denial and an enabling or destructive sense of adventure and danger Advancing the study of risk in fiction beyond the confinement to dystopian disaster narratives this book shows how topical notions such as chance and probability uncertainty and responsibility fears of decline and transgression all cluster around risk Reading and Teaching Ancient Fiction Sara R.
