Environmental Research at the Leading Edge Alfred B. Gore, 2007 The environment is considered the surroundings in which an organism operates including air water land natural resources flora fauna humans and their interrelation It is this environment which is both so valuable on the one hand and so endangered on the other And it is people who are by and large ruining the environment both for themselves and for all other organisms This book reviews the latest research in this field which is vital for everyone

Pricing non-marketed goods using distance functions Fare Rolf, Grosskopf Shawna, Margaritis Dimitris, 2019-06-17 Written by production economics and finance specialists Rolf Färe and Shawna Grosskopf of Oregon State University and Dimitris Margaritis of the University of Auckland Pricing Non marketed Goods Using Distance Functions is an inspiring new contribution highlighting the importance of duality theory for valuation purposes especially for hard to price inputs or resources intended or unintended goods and assets The theoretical pricing models are supplemented by self standing empirical applications covering real estate pricing environmental preservation transfer pricing shadow prices of university knowledge outputs and spillovers and the pricing of bank equity capital and non performing loans A Production Function-based Policy Stimulation Model of Perennial Commodity Markets Takamasa Akiyama, Jonathan R. Coleman, Banco Mundial, 1993 Multi-Output Production and Duality: Theory and Applications Rolf Färe, Daniel Primont, 2012-12-06 Our original reason for writing this book was the desire to write down in one place a complete summary of the major results in duality theory pioneered by Ronald W Shephard in three of his books Cost and Production Functions 1953 Theory of Cost and Production Functions 1970 and Indirect Production Functions 1974 In this way newcomers to the field would have easy access to these important ideas In addition we report a few new results of our own In particular we show the duality relationship between the profit function and the eight equivalent representations of technology that were elucidated by Shephard However in planning the book and discussing it with colleagues it became evident that such a book would be more useful if it also provided a number of applications of Shephard's duality theory to economic problems Thus we have also attempted to present examples of the use of duality theory in areas such as efficiency measurement index number theory shadow pricing cost benefit analysis and econometric estimation Much of our thinking about duality theory and its uses has been influenced by our present and former collaborators They include Charles Blackorby Shawna Grosskopf Knox Lovell Robert Russell and not surprisingly Ronald W Shephard We have also benefited over the years from many discussions with W Erwin Diewert Agrobiodiversity Conservation and Economic Development Andreas Kontoleon, Unai Pascual, Melinda Smale, 2008-10-03 This book reflects current developments in the economics of agrobiodiversity and focuses its attention on the role agrobiodiversity can have for economic development As a new and rapidly expanding subfield at the interface of environmental ecological agricultural and development economics the editors and contributors to this volume provide a thorough structured and authoritative coverage of this field Topics covered include the economic modelling of agrobiodiversity policy and governance solutions for the conservation of biodiversity in agricultural landscapes contracts markets and valuation The authors include well known and respected academics and researchers who have a real policy perspective into the role of agrobiodiversity and economic development The book provides coherent and up to date coverage of the economics of in situ agrobiodiversity conservation which is to a large extent currently absent Though the material in the volume is primarily written for economists its content and style are highly relevant and accessible to ecologists and conservation biologists and to academics from other broad disciplines that are located within the areas of economics and ecology

Price Dispersion in U.S. Manufacturing Thomas A. Abbott,1992

Forests in a Market Economy Erin O. Sills,Karen Lee Abt,2013-04-17 This book draws together contributions from forest economists in the Research Triangle of North Carolina with co authors from institutions around the world It represents our common belief that rigorous empirical analysis in an economic framework can inform forest policy We intend the book as a guide to the empirical methods that we have found most useful for addressing both traditional and modern areas of concern in forest policy including timber production and markets multiple use forestry and valuation of non market benefits The book editors and most chapter authors are affiliated with three institutions in the Research Triangle the Southern Research Station of the USDA Forest Service K Abt Butry Holmes Mercer Moulton Prestemon Wear the Department of Forestry at North Carolina State University R Abt Ahn Cabbage Sills and the Environmental and Natural Resource Economics Program of Research Triangle Institute Murray Pattanayak Two other Triangle institutions are also represented among the book authors Duke University Kramer and the Forestland Group Zinkhan In addition to our primary affiliations many of us are adjunct faculty and or graduates of Triangle universities Many of our co authors also graduated from or were previously affiliated with Triangle institutions Thus the selection of topics methods and case studies reflects the work of this particular network of economists and to some degree our location in the southeastern United States However our work and the chapters encompass other regions of the United States and the world including Latin America and Asia
