FOR DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION OF Residential Health, Care, and Support Facilities

2022 edition

The Guidelines for Design and Construction of Residential Health, Care, and Support Facilities is one of three documents that make up the 2022 edition of the FGI Guidelines; the others are the Guidelines for Design and Construction of Hospitals and the Guidelines for Design and Construction of Outpatient Facilities.

Facility types covered in the Residential Guidelines include nursing homes, hospice facilities, assisted living settings, independent living settings, long-term residential substance abuse treatment facilities, settings for individuals with intellectual and/or developmental disabilities, adult day care and adult day health care facilities, wellness centers, and outpatient rehabilitation therapy facilities.

Major updates and new material in the 2022 Residential Guidelines are outlined to the right. The Guidelines documents are updated every four years to keep up with changes in care delivery and developments in medical equipment and building technologies; foster design flexibility to support development of facilities that will meet the needs of owners and their communities over the long term; and align requirements, where applicable, across the three Guidelines documents.
