Religion and the Early Modern British Marketplace Kristin M.S. Bezio, Scott Oldenburg, 2021-11-29 Religion and the Early Modern British Marketplace explores the complex intersection between the geographic material and ideological marketplaces through the lens of religious belief and practice By examining the religiously motivated markets and marketplace practices in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in England Scotland and Wales the volume presents religious praxis as a driving force in the formulation and everyday workings of the social and economic markets Within the volume the authors address first spiritual markets and marketplaces discussing the intersection of Puritan and Protestant Ethics with the market economy The second part addresses material marketplaces including the marriage market commercial trade markets and the post Reformation Catholic black market In the third part of the volume the chapters focus specifically on publication markets and books including manuscripts and commonplace books as well as printed volumes and pamphlets Finally the volume concludes with an examination of the literary marketplace with analyses of plays and poems which engage with and depict both spiritual and material markets Taken as a whole this collection posits that the modern conception of a division between religion and the socioeconomic marketplace was a largely fictional construct and the chapters demonstrate the depth to which both were integrated in early modern life

Uncommon Wealths in Postcolonial Fiction Helga Ramsey-Kurz, Melissa Kennedy, 2017-11-01

Uncommon Wealths in Postcolonial Fiction engages urgently with wealth testing current assumptions of inequality in order to push beyond reductive contemporary readings of the gaping abyss between rich and poor Shifting away from longstanding debates in postcolonial criticism focused on poverty and abjection the book marshals fresh perspectives on material spiritual and cultural prosperity as found in the literatures of formerly colonized spaces The chapters follow the money to illuminate postcolonial fiction's awareness of the ambiguities of wealth acquired under colonial capitalism and transmuted in contemporary neoliberalism They weigh idealistic projections of individual and collective wellbeing against the stark realities of capital accumulation and excessive consumption They remain alert to the polysemy suggested by Uncommon Wealths both registering the imperial economic urge to ensure common wealth and referencing the unconventional or non Western the unusual even fictitious and contrasting privately coveted and exclusively owned wealth with visions of a shared good

Arranged into four sections centred on aesthetics injustice indigeneity and cultural location the individual chapters show how writers of postcolonial fiction including Aravind Adiga Amit Chaudhuri Anita Desai Patricia Grace Mohsin Hamid Stanley Gazemba Tomson Highway Lebogang Matseke Zakes Mda Michael Ondaatje Kim Scott and Alexis Wright employ prosperity and affluence as a lens through which to re-examine issues of race ethnicity gender and family the cultural value of heritage land and social cohesion and such conflicting imperatives as economic growth individual fulfilment social and environmental
