Seyyed Hossein Nasr's Ecological Ethics Muzzamel Hussain Imran,2023-12-02 The book explores the profound insights of Seyyed Hossein Nasr an Islamic scholar on the ecological crisis and its underlying causes Nasr argues that the dominance of scientism which prioritizes contemporary science as the sole source of knowledge has led to a destructive relationship between humans and nature He proposes that restoring the religious perspective is crucial for finding a lasting solution to the ecological problem The book delves into Nasr's comprehensive body of work covering diverse subjects such as Islamic philosophy Islamic art Islamic science Sufism and the ecological crisis Nasr's approach advocates for a holistic and inclusive philosophy that draws inspiration from the perennial philosophy and the principles of Islam. Nietzsche and Islam Roy Jackson, 2007-03-12. In the light of current events, particularly the post-September 11th debates with much focus on aspects of the clash of civilisations thesis, the issue of Islamic identity is a crucial one. Whilst Friedrich Nietzsche was addressing an audience of a different culture and age, his own originality, creativity, psychological, philological, and historical insights allow for a fresh and enlightening understanding of Islam within the context of our modern era. In this book, Roy Jackson sets out to determine why Nietzsche felt inclined to be so generous towards the Islamic tradition yet so critical of Western Christianity. How important was religion for Nietzsche's views on such matters as moral and political philosophy, and how does this help us to understand the Islamic response to modernity? How does Nietzsche's distinctive outlook and methodology help us to understand such key Islamic paradigms as the Qur'an, the Prophet, and the Rightly Guided Caliphs? Nietzsche and Islam provides an original and fresh insight into Nietzsche's views on religion and shows that his philosophy can make an important contribution to what is considered to be Islam's key paradigms. As such, it will be of interest to a diverse readership and will provide useful material for researchers when thinking about religion, Islam, and the future.

Anthropomorphic Depictions of God Zulfiqar Ali Shah, 2012-01-01. This monumental study examines issues of anthropomorphism in the three Abrahamic Faiths as viewed through the texts of the Hebrew Bible, the New Testament, and the Qur'an. Throughout history, Christianity and Judaism have tried to make sense of God. While juxtaposing

the Islamic position against this the author addresses the Judeo Christian worldview and how each has chosen to framework its encounter with God to what extent this has been the result of actual scripture and to what extent the product of theological debate or church decrees of later centuries and absorption of Hellenistic philosophy Shah also examines Islam s heavily anti anthropomorphic stance and Islamic theological discourse on Tawhid as well as the Ninety Nine Names of God and what these have meant in relation to Muslim understanding of God and His attributes Describing how these became the touchstone of Muslim discourse with Judaism and Christianity he critiques theological statements and perspectives that came to dilute if not counter strict monotheism As secularism debates whether God is dead the issue of anthropomorphism has become of immense importance The quest for God especially in this day and age is partly one of intellectual longing To Shah anthropomorphic concepts and corporeal depictions of the Divine are perhaps among the leading factors of modern atheism As such he ultimately draws the conclusion that the postmodern longing for God will not be quenched by pre modern anthropomorphic and corporeal concepts of the Divine which have simply brought God down to this cosmos with a precise historical function and a specified location reducing the intellectual and spiritual force of what God is and represents causing the soul to detract from a sense of the sacred and thereby belief in Him
