Aiding Violence Aiding Violence:

Aiding Violence Peter Uvin, 1998 Includes statistics Killing Sub-Saharan Africa with Aid Humphrey Orjiako, 2001 Annotation Orijiako who is not identified examines the hypothesis that rather than promoting growth and development in sub-Saharan Africa foreign aid interventions may have contributed in no small measure to the poor performance of the region's economies Challenging conventional views that problems are technical details of delivery or administration he suggests that an economy operating under appropriate circumstances and conditions may not require foreign aid to succeed and presents historical records common sense and cognate experiments to bolster the view c Book News Inc Foreign Aid and Its Unintended Consequences Dirk-Jan Koch, 2023-09-27 Foreign aid and international development frequently bring with it a range of unintended consequences both negative and positive This book delves into these consequences providing a fresh and comprehensive guide to understanding and addressing them The book starts by laying out a theoretical framework based on complexity thinking before going on to explore the ten most prevalent kinds of unintended effects of foreign aid backlash effects conflict effects migration and resettlement effects price effects marginalization effects behavioural effects negative spillover effects governance effects environmental effects and ripple effects Each chapter revolves around a set of concrete case studies analysing the mechanisms underpinning the unintended effects and proposing ways in which policymakers practitioners and evaluators can tackle negative side effects and maximize positive side effects The book also includes personal testimonies a succinct overview of unintended effects and suggestions for further reading Providing a clear overview of what side effects to anticipate when planning executing and evaluating aid this book will be an important resource for students development practitioners and policymakers alike The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license War and Conflict in Africa Paul D. Williams, 2013-04-26 After the Cold War Africa earned the dubious distinction of being the world's most bloody continent But how can we explain this proliferation of armed conflicts What caused them and what were their main characteristics And what did the world's governments do to stop them In this fully revised and updated second edition of his popular text Paul Williams offers an in depth and wide ranging assessment of more than six hundred armed conflicts which took place in Africa from 1990 to the present day from the continental catastrophe in the Great Lakes region to the sprawling conflicts across the Sahel and the web of wars in the Horn of Africa Taking a broad comparative approach to examine the political contexts in which these wars occurred he explores the major patterns of organized violence the key ingredients that provoked them and the major international responses undertaken to deliver lasting peace Part I Contexts provides an overview of the most important attempts to measure the number scale and location of Africa's armed conflicts and provides a conceptual and political sketch of the terrain of struggle upon which these wars were waged Part II Ingredients analyses the role of five widely debated features of Africa's wars the dynamics of neopatrimonial systems of governance the construction and manipulation of ethnic identities questions of sovereignty and self determination as well as the impact of natural resources and religion Part III Responses discusses four major international reactions to Africa s wars attempts to build a new institutional architecture to help promote peace and security on the continent this architecture s two main policy instruments peacemaking initiatives and peace operations and efforts to develop the continent War and Conflict in Africa will be essential reading for all students of international peace and security studies as well as Africa s international relations

Reading Humanitarian Intervention Anne Orford,2003-06-26 During the 1990s humanitarian intervention seemed to promise a world in which democracy self determination and human rights would be privileged over national interests or imperial ambitions Orford provides critical readings of the narratives that accompanied such interventions and shaped legal justifications for the use of force by the international community Through a close reading of legal texts and institutional practice she argues that a far more circumscribed exploitative and conservative interpretation of the ends of intervention was adopted during this period The book draws on a wide range of sources including critical legal theory feminist and postcolonial theory psychoanalytic theory and critical geography to develop ways of reading directed at thinking through the cultural and economic effects of militarized humanitarianism The book concludes by asking what if anything has been lost in the move from the era of humanitarian intervention to an international relations dominated by wars on terror

Aiding Violence Or Building Peace? Jonathan Goodhand,2002 Handbook of Development Economics Dani Rodrick,M.R. Rosenzweig,2009-11-09 What guidance does academic research really provide to economic policy development The critical and analytical surveys in this volume investigate links between policies and outcomes by surveying work from broad macroeconomic policies to interventions in microfinance Asserting that there are no universal correspondences between policies and outcomes contributors demonstrate instead that only an intense familiarity with the development context and the universe of applicable economic models can generate successful policies Getting cause and effect right is essential for policy design and implementation With the goal of drawing researchers and policy makers closer this volume highlights our increasing understanding of ways to combine economic theorizing with careful thoughtful empirical work Presents an accurate self contained survey of the current state of the field Summarizes the most recent discussions and elucidates new developments Although original material is also included the main aim is the provision of comprehensive and accessible surveys

Political Economy of Statebuilding Mats Berdal,2017-07-05 This volume examines and evaluates the impact of international statebuilding interventions on the political economy of post conflict countries over the past 20 years While statebuilding today is typically discussed in the context of peacebuilding and stabilisation operations the current phase of interest in external interventions to re build and strengthen governmental institutions can be traced back to the good governance policies of the International Financial Institutions IFIs in the early 1990s These sought political changes and improvements in the quality of governance in countries that were subject to or were seeking support under IFI designed structural adjustment programmes The focus of this book is specifically on state building efforts in conflict affected countries countries that are emerging or have recently emerged from periods of war and violent conflict The interventions covered in the present volume fall into three broad and overlapping categories International administrations and transformative occupations East Timor Iraq and Kosovo Complex peace operations Afghanistan Burundi Haiti and Sudan Governance and state building programmes conducted in the context of economic assistance Georgia and Macedonia This book will be of much interest to students of statebuilding humanitarian intervention post conflict reconstruction political economy international organisations and IR Security Studies in general

African Economies and the Politics of Permanent Crisis, 1979-1999 Nicolas Van de Walle, 2001-09-24 This Book explains why African countries have remained mired in a disastrous economic crisis since the late 1970s It shows that dynamics internal to African state structures largely explain this failure to overcome economic difficulties rather than external pressures on these same structures as is often argued Far from being prevented from undertaking reforms by societal interest and pressure groups clientelism within the state elite ideological factors and low state capacity have resulted in some limited reform but much prevarication and manipulation of the reform process by governments which do not really believe that reform will be effective The Oxford Handbook of Peacebuilding, Statebuilding, and Peace Formation Oliver P. Richmond, Gëzim Visoka, 2021 Peacebuilding and statebuilding is one of the main approaches for preventing managing and mitigating global insecurities dealing with the humanitarian consequences of civil wars and expanding democracy and neoliberal economic regimes Peace formation is a relatively new concept addressing how local actors attempt to shape or work in parallel to international and national projects The Oxford Handbook of Peacebuilding Statebuilding and Peace Formation serves as an essential guide to this vast intellectual landscape It offers a systematic overview of conceptual foundations political implications and tensions at the global regional and local levels as well as key policies practices examples and discourses underlining all segments of peacebuilding and statebuilding People, Aid and Institutions in Socio-economic Recovery Dorothea Hilhorst, Bart Weijs, Gemma van der Haar, 2017-02-17 An estimated 2 billion people live in countries affected by fragility conflict and violence Extreme poverty is increasingly concentrated in these areas and governments and international agencies seek avenues to enable socio economic recovery and to support people as they try to rebuild their lives and livelihoods People Aid and Institutions in Socio economic Recovery Facing Fragilities provides an in depth understanding of people s strategies in the face of conflict and disaster related fragility and examines how policies and aid interventions enable their socio economic recovery or fail to do so Through field based research the book captures the complex and unfolding realities on the ground exploring the interfaces between economic social and institutional change This provides a rich and unique vantage point from which to reflect on the impact of recovery policies The book provides a set of cross cutting findings that aim to inform policy and practice The detailed case studies of the book lay bare key dynamics of recovery Set against the findings from two chapters that review the literature the cases provide evidence based lessons for socio economic recovery The chapters combine qualitative and quantitative methodologies and form a valuable resource to researchers and postgraduate students of disaster management conflict humanitarian aid and social reconstruction and development management

Reconstructing Afghanistan William Maley, Susanne Schmeidl, 2014-11-27 This book identifies some of the main lessons for civil military interactions that can be derived from the experiences of Provincial Reconstruction Teams PRTs in Afghanistan The book has three main themes Firstly the volume analyses why the ways in which civil and military actors interact in theatres of operations such as Afghanistan matter for both those categories of actors and for the ordinary people who their interactions serve Second the book highlights that these interactions are invariably complex The third theme which arises specifically from the PRT experience in Afghanistan is that such teams vary significantly in their roles resourcing and operational environments Consequently to appraise the value of the PRT experience it is necessary to unpack the experiences of different PRTs which the use of case studies allows one to do The volume comprises an introduction identifying some key questions to which the PRT experience gives rise and case studies of the experiences of the United States United Kingdom New Zealand Canada The Netherlands Australia Germany and France chapters dealing with the roles played by NGOs and the UN system and a discussion from an Afghan perspective of the implications of civilian casualties It is the combination of the diverse cases discussed in this book with a focus on the broad challenges of optimising civil military interactions that makes this book distinctive This book will be of much interest to students of the Afghan War civil military relations statebuilding Central Asian politics and IR in general

Global Problems, Smart Solutions Bjørn Lomborg, 2013-11-14 Every four years since 2004 the Copenhagen Consensus Center has organized and hosted a high profile thought experiment about how a hypothetical extra 75 billion of development assistance money might best be spent to solve twelve of the major crises facing the world today Collated in this specially commissioned book a group of more than 50 experts make their cases for investment discussing how to combat problems ranging from armed conflicts corruption and trade barriers to natural disasters hunger education and climate change For each case Alternative Perspectives are also included to provide a critique and make other suggestions for investment In addition a panel of senior economists including four Nobel Laureates rank the attractiveness of each policy proposal in terms of its anticipated cost benefit ratio This thought provoking book opens up debate encouraging readers to come up with their own rankings and decide which solutions are smarter than others

The Order of Genocide Scott Straus, 2013-01-19 The Rwandan genocide has become a touchstone for debates about the causes of mass violence and the responsibilities of the international community Yet a number of key questions about this tragedy remain unanswered How did the violence spread from community to community and so rapidly engulf the nation Why did individuals make decisions that led them to take up machetes against their neighbors And what was the logic that drove the campaign of extermination According to Scott Straus a social scientist and former journalist in East Africa for several years who received a Pulitzer Prize nomination for his reporting for the Houston Chronicle many of the widely held beliefs about the causes and course of genocide in Rwanda are incomplete They focus largely on the actions of the ruling elite or the inaction of the international community Considerably less is known about how and why elite decisions became widespread exterminatory violence Challenging the prevailing wisdom Straus provides substantial new evidence about local patterns of violence using original research including the most comprehensive surveys yet undertaken among convicted perpetrators to assess competing theories about the causes and dynamics of the genocide Current interpretations stress three main causes for the genocide ethnic identity ideology and mass media indoctrination in particular the influence of hate radio Straus s research does not deny the importance of ethnicity but he finds that it operated more as a background condition Instead Straus emphasizes fear and intra ethnic intimidation as the primary drivers of the violence A defensive civil war and the assassination of a president created a feeling of acute insecurity Rwanda s unusually effective state was also central as was the country s geography and population density which limited the number of exit options for both victims and perpetrators In conclusion Straus steps back from the particulars of the Rwandan genocide to offer a new dynamic model for understanding other instances of genocide in recent history the Holocaust Armenia Cambodia the Balkans and assessing the future likelihood of such events

Patronage Or Partnership Ian Smillie,2001 A refreshing study of capacity building through various local perspectives Includes studies from Mozambique Bosnia Sierra Leone Sri Lanka Haiti and Guatemala Strengthening local capacity is more difficult than one might expect there are significant trade offs between outsiders providing assistance in the midst of an emergency and encouraging the building of long term local skills By critically examining the dilemma from local perspectives Patronage or Partnership finds genuine hope amidst the prevailing rhetoric and confusion

Trajectories of Authoritarianism in Rwanda Marie-Eve Desrosiers,2023-01-19 Challenging assumptions regarding the strength and control of authoritarian governments in Rwanda in the decades before the 1994 genocide Marie Eve Desrosiers uses original archival data and interviews to highlight the complex relations between authorities opponents and society Through careful detailed analysis Desrosiers offers a nuanced assessment of the functions and evolution of authoritarianism over time demonstrating how the governments of Rwanda s first two post independence Republics 1962 1990 sought and often struggled to cement their rule Whilst the deeper lived realities of authoritarianism are generally neglected by multi cases comparisons at the heart of comparative authoritarian studies this illuminating survey highlights the essential yet subtle authoritarian strategies patterns and forms of decay that are too often overlooked when addressing authoritarian contexts Aiding Peace? Jonathan Goodhand, 2006 While NGOs role in advocacy and agendasetting is fairly widely accepted their peacebuilding activities are more controversial and have come under increasing scrutiny not least from the NGOs themselves As the number of NGOs and their role in conflict situations has grown exponentially they have found themselves increasingly strained to find an appropriate balance between competing demands for relief development human rights and peace work and between their own roles and that of other international and national actors In this important study which is firmly grounded in seven case studies Goodhand ably situates the role of NGOs in peacebuilding within the dynamics of contemporary conflicts and the evolving complexities of international peacebuilding His study promises to become a valuable resource for the Peacebuilding Commission and other practitioners in their interaction with civil society It also stands to make a significant contribution to current debates about the appropriate role of external actors in peacebuilding and our collective understanding of what it genuinely takes to build peace
