

Fetal Pig Dissection Lab

Introduction: In this lab you will be examining many characteristics of an unborn mammal—the fetal pig.

Dissection will help you to get a 3-dimensional picture of how all the systems fit together in an entire organism. You've seen separate diagrams of many of the major systems. Now you'll get to see how they are all arranged spatially. You'll also get a better idea of the texture of many organs that make up the pig's system. For additional help at home:

This lab will be divided into the following lab components:

#1- External Anatomy	#5- Respiratory System
#2- Oral Cavity	#6- Urogenital System
#3- Digestive System	#7- Nervous System
#4- Circulatory System

Materials: preserved fetal pig, dissecting pan, scissors, forceps, blunt probe, twine/string, safety goggles, one pair of disposable latex gloves per dissection day, tape measure.

General Directions: All underlined words must be located on your pig and all numbered questions must be answered on each of your packets. Your teacher will check the questions as you work through the laboratories. Most cuts can be done with the scissors. Dissection is an art and you must carefully dissect without destroying your pig. Keep all parts with your pig!

Pig Lab #1 - External Anatomy - see figures on pkt p. 6 and 15

You will be examining several characteristics of an unborn mammal. Use packet page 13 to review the directional names for the pig. The period of gestation for the pig is 112-115 days.

The age of the fetus can be estimated by measuring the body length from the tip of the snout to the attachment of the tail on the pig's dorsal side. Compare this length to the data given on relative sizes of a fetal pig at different times during gestation or the time of development inside the uterus. (mm = millimeters)

21 days : 11 mm	56 days : 40 mm
35 days : 17 mm	100 days: 220 mm
49 days : 28 mm	115 days: 300 mm

Generally speaking, mammals are recognized and classified by their external appearance. The external features which separate mammals into orders include: the number of digits (toes or fingers) on the feet, method of walking or other locomotion, and characteristics of the teeth.

Mammals have two unique, external characteristics which distinguish them from all other vertebrates: (1) all mammals have hair at some time during their development, and (2) all female mammals possess mammary glands with external openings for nourishing offspring with milk. Your fetal pig probably does not have a lot of hair due to the fact that it is not fully developed yet. However, at maturity most pigs do have hair.

The lips around the mouth are well developed and the upper lip has a groove called the philtrum. Humans also have a philtrum. This is the indent underneath your nose and just above your upper lip.

The external nares (nostrils) are found on the nose.

Examine the ears. They have a flexible outer flap called the pinna. The pinna helps the pig hear by focusing the sound into the middle ear.

Many mammals have sensory facial hairs called vibrissae; however, our pigs do not possess these yet. They are evident once a pig reaches maturity. They help organisms feel their way around in the dark. Vibrissae of dogs and cats are commonly called whiskers.
