

Where's Billy?

Anna's friend Mike was going on a vacation with his family for a week. He wasn't allowed to take his pet chameleon Billy with him, so he asked Anna if she could take care of Billy until he got back. Anna was so excited, she had never taken care of a pet before! She had to ask her parents if it was okay with them, before she could say yes to Mike. That evening when she got home from school, she explained Mike's request to her mom and dad.

"We don't have a problem with Mike or Billy, but taking care of someone else's pet is a big responsibility Anna," her mom explained.

"Should something happen to Billy, then you would be held responsible for him. Mike would be very very upset. So, only if you're soo sure that you would be able to take good care of Billy, then yes you may bring him home and watch him," Anna's dad said.

Anna knew she could take great care of Billy. She phoned Mike and told him to come over, so he could explain everything she had to do to take care of Billy. The day before Mike left for his vacation, he came over with Billy and his supplies. He explained how and when to feed Billy, how to give him a bath, what toys he liked, when his bedtime was, and what to do if he got sick. Anna listened very carefully to Mike's instructions. She wanted to make sure she took really good care of Billy. Soon it was time for Mike to leave.

"Thank you for agreeing to take care of Billy. I'll miss you guys!" Mike said.

A colorful collection of short stories written by contemporary authors from Brazil      Verbal Protocols of Reading Michael Pressley,Peter Afflerbach,2012-12-06 Researchers from a variety of disciplines have collected verbal protocols of reading as a window on conscious reading processes Because such work has occurred in different disciplines many who have conducted verbal protocol analyses have been unaware of the research of others This volume brings together the existing literature from the various fields in which verbal protocols of reading have been generated In so doing the authors provide an organized catalog of all conscious verbal processes reported in studies to date the most complete analysis of conscious reading now available in the literature When the results of all of the studies are considered there is clear support for a number of models of reading comprehension including reader response theories schema perspectives executive processing models and bottom up approaches such as the one proposed by van Dijk and Kintsch The summary of results also demonstrates that none of the existing models goes far enough Thus a new framework constructively responsive reading is described This new model encompasses reader response schematic and executive processing and induction from word and phrase level comprehension to higher order meaning The important concept in this new model is that readers respond to bits and pieces of text as they are encountered all as part of the overarching goal of constructing meaning from text This volume also includes a critical review of the thinking aloud methodology as it has been used thus far This examination suggests that it continues to be an immature methodology and that much work is needed if a complete theory of conscious processing during reading is to be developed via verbal protocol analysis Finally after reviewing what has been accomplished to date the authors provide extensive discussion of the work that remains to be done and the adequacy of the verbal protocol
