Swinnen,2015-07-30 After five years of debates consultations and negotiations the European institutions reached an agreement in 2013 on the Common Agricultural Policy CAP for the 2014 2020 period The outcome has major implications for the EU s budget and farmers incomes but also for Europe s environment its contribution to global climate change and to food security in the EU and in the world It was decided to spend more than 400 billion during the rest of the decade on the CAP The official claims are that the new CAP will take better account of society s expectations and lead to far reaching changes by making subsidies fairer and greener and making the CAP more efficient It is also asserted that the CAP will play a key part in achieving the overall objective of promoting smart sustainable and inclusive growth However there is significant scepticism about these claims and disappointment with the outcome of the decision making the first in which the European Parliament was involved under the co decision procedure In contrast to earlier reforms where more substantive changes were made to the CAP the factors that induced the policy discussions in 2008 13 and those that influenced the decision making did not reinforce each other On the contrary they sometimes counteracted one another yielding an imperfect storm as it were resulting in more status quo and fewer changes This book discusses the outcome of the decision making and the factors that influenced the policy choices and decisions It brings together contributions from leading academics from various disciplines and policy makers and key participants in the process from the European Commission and the European Parliament growth to end hunger by 2025: The role of social protection Wouterse, Fleur Stephanie, Taffesse, Alemayehu Seyoum, 2018-10-23 Social protection programs public or private initiatives that aid the poor and protect the vulnerable against livelihood risks can effectively be used to assist those trapped or at the risk of being trapped in chronic poverty These programs aim to address chronic poverty through redistribution and protect vulnerable households from falling below the poverty line Although investments in social protection programs are often motivated by equity concerns they can also contribute to economic growth by for example encouraging savings creating community assets and addressing market imperfections Despite their potential and proliferation not enough is known about social protection programs in Africa The 2017 2018 Annual Trends and Outlook Report ATOR reduces this knowledge gap by focusing on the potential of such programs on the continent and the corresponding opportunities and challenges The chapters of the Report highlight the benefits of these programs not only to their direct recipients but also others in the community through spillover effects They also underscore the importance of appropriate design and sustainability to fully realize the potential of social protection programs Trade in Water Under International Law Fitzgerald Temmerman, 2017-07-28 It is clear that more sustainable and efficient use of fresh water resources will become crucial in future global water management to avoid major threats to biological life Trade in Water Under International Law offers a careful and well reasoned introduction and analysis of this emerging and largely uncharted subject of international trade law which has hitherto been of key importance in domestic law and policy exploring the potential and limits of addressing the use of water resources in the context of World Trade Organization law
