Fishery Practical 2015:

Report of the Expert Workshop on means and methods for reducing marine mammal mortality in fishing and aquaculture operations Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-08-29 The workshop discussed current knowledge on marine mammal bycatch questions evaluated the efficacy of measures for mitigating bycatch reviewed techniques across different gear types and recommended that FAO develop Technical Guidelines The European Landing Obligation Sven Sebastian Uhlmann, Clara Ulrich, Steven J. Kennelly, 2018-12-19 This open access book provides a comprehensive examination of the European Landing Obligation policy from many relevant perspectives It includes evaluations of its impacts at economical socio cultural ecological and institutional levels It also discusses the feasibility and benefits of several potential mitigation strategies The book was timely published exactly at the time where the Landing Obligation was planned to be fully implemented This book is of significant interest to all stakeholders involved but also to the general public of Europe and to other jurisdictions throughout the world that are also searching for ways to deal with by catch and discard issues

Regional Conference on building a future for sustainable small-scale fisheries in the Mediterranean and the Black Sea Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-10-31 According to the report the conference focused on the main challenges for the sustainable development of small scale fisheries including promoting political commitment and tailored strategies raising awareness and sharing knowledge Practical Design of Ships and Other Floating Structures Tetsuo Okada, Katsuyuki Suzuki, Yasumi Kawamura, 2020-10-03 This book gathers the peer reviewed proceedings of the 14th International Symposium PRADS 2019 held in Yokohama Japan in September 2019 It brings together naval architects engineers academic researchers and professionals who are involved in ships and other floating structures to share the latest research advances in the field The contents cover a broad range of topics including design synthesis for ships and floating systems production hydrodynamics and structures and materials Reflecting the latest advances the book will be of interest to researchers and practitioners alike Resilience in the English Small-Scale Fishery Rebecca Korda, Tim Gray, Selina M. Stead, 2020-09-21 This book is a contribution to our understanding of the worrying situation of small scale fisheries SSF which face marginalisation in most coastal countries The authors explain why SSF are so pressured how there has been a powerful backlash against this marginalisation during the last 30 years what are the main ideational currents supporting this backlash and what is the enduring value of SSF that justifies that support The authors discuss the major contemporary interpretations of SSF the challenges facing SSF globally and in England and SSF's coping strategies in response to those challenges through the framework of resilience theory In an innovative analysis the authors show how there are three kinds of resilience passive resilience where fishers are resigned to their adverse fate adaptive resilience where fishers make the best use of the opportunities that are available to them and transformative resilience where fishers attempt to change the system that faces them The authors draw on an extensive range of interview data to provide rich insights into the world of SSF and they discuss a variety of proposals for improving their conditions The book will appeal to the growing academic and public community that is following with increasing concern the debate about the future of SFF and to the environmental movement which has committed itself to support SSF as a greener form of fishing than the large scale industrial sector Handbook of Transnational Environmental Crime Lorraine Elliott, William H. Schaedla, 2016-07-27

Crimes associated with the illegal trade in wildlife timber and fish stocks pollutants and waste have become increasingly transnational organized and serious They warrant attention because of their environmental consequences their human toll their impacts on the rule of law and good governance and their links with violence corruption and a range of crossover crimes This ground breaking multi disciplinary Handbook brings together leading scholars and practitioners to examine key sectors in transnational environmental crime and to explore its most significant conceptual operational and enforcement challenges Assessment Approaches to Support Bycatch Management for Marine Mammals Tessa Francis, Jeff

Moore, Andre Eric Punt, Randall Reeves, 2022-06-21 EU Trade-Related Measures against Illegal Fishing Alin Kadfak, Kate Barclay, Andrew M. Song, 2023-06-27 Focusing on the experiences of Thailand and Australia this book examines the impact of trade restrictive measures as related to the EU s regulations to prevent Illegal Unreported and Unregulated IUU fishing It is widely accepted that IUU fishing is harmful and should be stopped but there are different approaches to tackling it Acknowledging this this book argues that major efforts to fight IUU fishing require careful analyses if the goal is to achieve optimal results and avoid unintended consequences The book draws on the recent experiences of Thailand and Australia to offer an empirical examination of one increasingly prominent solution trade restrictive measures With Thailand representing direct active intervention by the EU and Australia a more indirect dispersion of policy narratives and discourses the book provides a rounded view on how likely it is that different countries in different situations will adapt to the changing policy norms regarding IUU fishing Understanding the reactions of countries who might be targeted or otherwise be influenced by the policy generates new knowledge that helps inform a more effective and scalable implementation of the policy on the part of the EU and a better governance preparedness on the part of non EU fishing nations In broader terms this book exposes a key moment of change in the compatibility between environmental regulations and international trade The EU IUU policy is a prime example of a policy that uses the mechanisms of international trade to account for environmental and conservation objectives By way of the unilateral and trade restrictive stance against IUU fishing the EU has positioned itself as a major market and normative power driving its sustainability norms outwards This book sheds light on the efficacy of this policy setup based on the analysis of country perspectives which is a key factor influencing its potential spread This book will be of interest to students and scholars of international fisheries politics marine conservation environmental policy and international trade and will also be of interest to policymakers working in these areas The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons

Rome, Italy, 17-19 September 2019 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2020-02-18 The Expert Meeting to Develop Technical guidelines to reduce bycatch of marine mammals in capture fisheries was held in Rome Italy on 17-19 September 2019. Twenty nine fisheries and bycatch experts and observers from FAO Members participated in the meeting: Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Denmark, Iceland, Japan, Norway, Russian Federation, Sweden, and the United States of America. The meeting was also attended by experts from various regional and international organizations. The meeting aimed to prepare Technical guidelines to reduce bycatch of marine mammals in capture fisheries that are directed at decision makers, planners, managers, and all those involved in developing and implementing policy and technical interventions relevant to the bycatch of marine mammals in fisheries. The meeting was organized by FAO in response to the request from the Committee on Fisheries at its 33rd session in 2018 to develop technical guidelines on this subject. At the meeting, the experts reviewed and discussed technical measures that can be applied for the reduction of bycatch of marine mammals in fisheries, including time area closures, acoustic deterrents, modifications to fishing gears, and changes in fishing operations.

The Common Fisheries Policy Ernesto Penas Lado, 2016-04-18. Dieses ausführliche und umfassende Fachbuch von Ernesto Penas Lado als Generaldirektion Maritime Angelegenheiten und Fischerei bei der Europäischen Kommission erläutert umfassend die Gemeinsame Fischereipolitik (GFP) politische Grundsätze, die für Wissenschaftler und Experten im Fischereiwesen überaus wichtig sind. Die einleitenden Kapitel dieses ausgezeichneten Werks beleuchten die Geschichte der GFP, die Anfänge und Weiterentwicklungen. Im Anschluss werden die wesentlichen Aspekte der GFP behandelt, darunter die Regelungen für den Erhalt der Fischbestände, für Fischereifloten, die Struktur, Kontrolle und Umwelt, der externe Sektor sowie wissenschaftliche Empfehlungen, Informationen zu Interessenvertretern und zur Entscheidungsfindung. Weitere Kapitel behandeln das Mittelmeer, Aquakulturen und Reformen der Gemeinsamen Fischereipolitik. Ein Ausblick auf die Zukunft der GFP folgt am Ende des Buches. The Common Fisheries Policy ist ein wichtiges Referenzwerk für Wissenschaftler und Experten im Fischereiwesen weltweit und bietet eine Fülle wichtiger Informationen für Biologen, Fachrichtungen Biologen im Bereich Naturschutz, Meeresbiologen, Umweltwissenschaftler und Ökologen in Hochschuleinrichtungen, bei Regierungsstellen und NGOs sowie in der Industrie. An allen Hochschulen und Forschungseinrichtungen weltweit, die sich mit Fischereiwesen und/oder Biowissenschaften beschäftigen, sollten dieses Referenzwerk in ihren Bibliotheken vorhalten.

Quo Vadis Common Fisheries Policy? Ernesto Penas Lado, 2019-11-04. Offers a guide and provides an analysis of how a public European fisheries policy should be evaluated, implemented, and reformed. Quo Vadis Common Fisheries Policy is an essential book that provides an authoritative guide to the future challenges that face the public European fisheries policy. Written by a noted expert with 30 years experience in fisheries policies, the book provides the information needed to analyze how a public EU policy should be evaluated implemented and reformed The book examines the difficulties of implementing the new policy including the application of the objectives of the 2013 policy reform The author explores the myriad challenges that face the new policy due to global warming pollution and other global drivers The book compares the new policy with other fisheries policy particularly with the United States fisheries policy under the Magnusson Stevens Act The book offers an opportunity to address and discuss the challenges and obstacles that are not currently in the public domain This important book Provides a unique view from a noted expert and former policy insider Offers a critical analysis of a public EU policy from a pro European standpoint Gives a foundational resource to aid in the debate on the future of the Common Fisheries Policy Includes topics that go beyond EU s policy and have implications for fisheries management around the world Written for administrations and stakeholders in the European and international fishing industry Quo Vadis Common Fisheries Policy addresses the challenges of EU s new fisheries policy and offers a comparison of the US fisheries policy The book helps foster much needed debate about this topic

Collaborative Research in Fisheries Peter Holm, Maria Hadjimichael, Sebastian Linke, Steven Mackinson, 2020-02-24 This book is about the ongoing transition of fisheries governance from top down command and control towards a more transparent and participatory form It focuses on the emergence of research practices and advice frameworks that allow co creation of common knowledge bases for management Drawing from 8 years of research in GAP a two stage 7th framework EU project the book offers a critical examination of how knowledge practices in fisheries governance are changing The entry point for this research is a series of practical experiments in the uncharted terrain of collaborative research To gain insight into the ongoing transition in European fisheries management GAP initiated and carried out 13 Case Studies in different settings across Europe In each case study a team of fishers and marine scientists worked together to identify plan and implement research projects intended to make a difference The cases vary They take on different management issues and shape the collaborations in different ways The extent to which they succeed in realizing their objectives also differs They are all contributing important insights into the possibilities of co creating knowledge for management purposes The book delves into the individual experiences of each case study as well as the lessons they contribute as a whole The examination concludes that while research partnerships are not always easy to establish they are an important step towards better fisheries governance Without a common knowledge base for fisheries governance co created through collaborative research practices sustainable fisheries will remain out of reach Fisheries and Aquaculture

Stobberup, K., Anganuzzi, A., Arthur-Dadzie, M., Baidoo-Tsibu, G., Hosken, M., Kebe, P., Kuruc, M., Loganimoce, E., Million, J., Scott, G., Spurrier, L., Tavaga, N., 2021-02-24 Illegal unreported and unregulated IUU fishing is a serious threat to sustainable fisheries marine ecosystems and the livelihoods of legitimate fishers globally To address it the Common Oceans ABNJ Tuna Project is exploring ways to strengthen and harmonize the use of monitoring control and surveillance tools and combat IUU fishing in tuna fisheries across the marine areas beyond national jurisdiction One tool is the use of electronic monitoring systems to monitor individual vessel operations at sea In a typical electronic monitoring application cameras recording video or still images are deployed at key points on the vessel to allow a view of the fishing operation The video footage is stored on hard drives that government officials can use to review compliance with regulations as well as record detailed data on catch and effort It was envisaged that industry would have access to these data for its own operational purposes To test the best way to incorporate this technology as complementary compliance tool two pilot trials were set up one in Ghana to cover the domestic tuna purse seine fleet fishing and one in Fiji to cover the domestic longline fisheries Close collaboration was established between national governments and industry for implementation The overall aim of the pilots was to develop an effective implementation process at the national level so that the information could be properly utilized for compliance purposes This report documents the successful completion of these trials and the lessons learned that could benefit electronic monitoring programmes elsewhere Women in animal behavior and welfare: 2021 Nicole

Kemper, Gabriella Guelfi, 2023-01-18 Governing Integrated Water Resources Management Oliver Fritsch, David

Benson, 2020-01-23 Integrated Water Resources Management IWRM has become a global paradigm for the governance of surface coastal and groundwaters This Special Issue contains twelve articles related to the transfer of IWRM policy principles

The articles explore three dimensions of transfer causes processes outcomes and offer a theoretically inspiring methodologically rich and geographically diverse engagement with IWRM policy transfer around the globe As such they can also productively inform a future research agenda on the dimensional aspects of IWRM governance Regarding the causes the contributions apply criticise extend or revise existing approaches to policy transfer in a water governance context asking why countries adopt IWRM principles and what mechanisms are in place to understand the adoption of these principles in regional or national contexts When it comes to processes articles in this Special Issue unpack the process of policy transfer and implementation and explore how IWRM principles travel across borders levels and scales Finally this set of papers looks into the outcomes of IWRM policy transfer and asks what impact IWRM principles once implemented gave on domestic water governance water quality and water supply and how effective IWRM is at addressing critical water issues in specific countries

Restoration of productive aquatic ecosystems by small-scale fisheries and aquaculture communities in Asia Gardiner, N.M.,2022-04-06 This report showcases examples of actions taken by small scale fishers and aquaculture farmers in Asia to restore the productivity of aquatic ecosystems Small scale fishers and fish farmers include some of the world s most marginalized and impoverished people groups yet their harvests account for over half of the world s aquatic food production The marine coastal and freshwater ecosystems their livelihoods depend upon are degraded from human impacts and further at risk from climate change Ecosystem restoration actions by fisherfolk communities can revitalize the socio ecological services and sustain progress over time Both passive and active restoration approaches are being employed across Asia s marine coastal and inland waterways Fishers fish farmers and fishworkers restorative actions are focused on increasing the sustainability of their operations Common approaches include eliminating destructive fishing reducing overfishing through gear changes and effort control restoring connectivity of floodplains and fish migration pathways integrated aquaculture and rice farming practices re stocking of native fisheries and actively rehabilitating and or re establishing habitats Progress is measurable through a diverse array of environmental socio economic and governance related metrics Changes in fisheries catches ecological connectivity water quality habitat diversity and structure and fish consumption provide important measures of biodiversity gains or losses Common enablers of success include economic incentives co management and legal recognition of fishing rights highly engaged fisherfolk cooperatives or community groups women s leadership and development and community partnerships with stakeholders that focus on enabling fisherfolk s own goals for sustainable livelihoods Ecosystem restoration activities have not lasted when these enablers are insufficiently attended to and when environmental aspects of project feasibility such as the choice of rehabilitation locations and or species are poorly planned Successes in ecosystem restoration by fisherfolk can and are being scaled out to neighbouring communities and countries Key to this is the sharing of stories lessons learned and tools through south south partnerships learning exchanges and women s groups Simple low cost tools and actions have enabled long term engagement by small scale fishers in sustainable operations More complex actions such as the uptake of integrated aquaculture systems are also enabling stepwise changes in ecosystem restoration By sharing stories from different ecosystems fisheries and geographies this report seeks to help fisherfolk and their partners glean from one another and achieve faster progress in ecosystem restoration

The Palgrave Handbook of Blue Heritage Rosabelle Boswell, David O’Kane, Jeremy Hills, 2022-06-15 This handbook is unique in its consideration of social and cultural contributions to sustainable oceans management It is also unique in its deconstruction of the hegemonic value attached to the oceans and in its analysis of discourses regarding what national governments in the Global South should prioritise in their oceans management strategy Offering a historical perspective from the start the handbook reflects on the confluence of western scientific discourse and colonialism and the impact of this on indigenous conceptions of the oceans and on social identity With regard to the latter the authors are mindful of the nationalisation of island territories worldwide and the impact of this process on regional collaboration cultural exchange and the valuation of the oceans Focusing on global examples the handbook offers a nuanced region relevant contemporary conceptualisation of blue heritage discussing what will be required to achieve an inclusive oceans economy by 2063 the end goal date of the African Union’s Agenda 2063 The analysis will be useful to established academics in the field of ocean studies policymakers and practitioners engaged in research on the ocean economy as well as graduate scholars in the ocean sciences
