Carr,Maria J. Kefalas,2009-10-01 Two sociologists reveal how small towns in Middle America are exporting their most precious resource young people and share what can be done to save these dwindling communities In 2001 with funding from the MacArthur Foundation sociologists Patrick J Carr and Maria J Kefalas moved to Iowa to understand the rural brain drain and the exodus of young people from America s countryside They met and followed working class stayers ambitious and college bound achievers seekers who head off to war to see what the world beyond offers and returners who eventually circle back to their hometowns What surprised them most was that adults in the community were playing a pivotal part in the town s decline by pushing the best and brightest young people to leave In a timely new afterword Carr and Kefalas address the question so what can be done to save our communities They profile the efforts of dedicated community leaders actively resisting the hollowing out of Middle America These individuals have creatively engaged small town youth stayers and returners seekers and achievers and have implemented a variety of programs to combat the rural brain drain These stories of civic engagement will certainly inspire and encourage readers struggling to defend their communities Love After Loss L.A.
