Africa Unity Sovereignty And Sorrow:

Africa Pierre Englebert, 2009 Explores the endurance of Africa's weak states which despite their failure to protect and promote the interests of their citizens translate international sovereignty into domestic legal command Africa, 2009

Africa Pierre Englebert, 2022 Though the demise of one or another African state has been heralded for nearly five decades the map of the continent remains virtually unchanged By and large these states have failed to protect and promote the interests of their citizens yet they endure Asking why Pierre Englebert carefully articulates the manner in which international sovereignty is translated into domestic legal command and the sorrow that ensues Christianity and Controversies over Homosexuality in Contemporary Africa Ezra Chitando, Adriaan van Klinken, 2016-05-12 Issues of homosexuality are the subject of public and political controversy in many African societies today Frequently these controversies receive widespread attention both locally and globally such as with the Anti Homosexuality Bill in Uganda In the international media these cases tend to be presented as revealing a deeply rooted homophobia in Africa fuelled by religious and cultural traditions But so far little energy is expended in understanding these controversies in all their complexity and the critical role religion plays in them Complementing the companion volume Public Religion and the Politics of Homosexuality in Africa this book investigates Christian politics and discourses on homosexuality in sub-Saharan Africa The contributors present case studies from various African countries from Nigeria to South Africa and from Cameroon to Uganda focusing on Pentecostal Catholic and mainline Protestant churches They critically examine popular Christian theologies that perpetuate homophobia and discrimination but they also discuss contestations of such discourses and emerging alternative Christian perspectives that contribute to the recognition of sexual diversity social justice and human rights in contemporary Africa African Cities and the Development Conundrum Carole Ammann, Till Förster, 2018-10-16 This 10th thematic volume of International Development Policy presents a collection of articles exploring some of the complex development challenges associated with Africa's recent but extremely rapid pace of urbanisation that challenges still predominant but misleading images of Africa as a rural continent Analysing urban settings through the diverse experiences and perspectives of inhabitants and stakeholders in cities across the continent the authors consider the evolution of international development policy responses amidst the unique historical social economic and political contexts of Africa's urban development Contributors include Carole Ammann Claudia Baez Camargo Claire Benit Gbaffou Karen Berscher Aba Obrumah Crentsil Sascha Delz Ton Dietz Till Förster Lucy Koechlin Lalli Metsola Garth Myers George Owusu Edgar Pieterse Sebastian Prothmann Warren Smit and Florian Stoll The Politics of Historical Memory and Commemoration in Africa Cassandra Mark-Thiesen, Moritz Mihatsch, Michelle Sikes, 2021-12-06 Essays in Memory of Jan Georg Deutsch The volume observes some of the principles that drove Prof Jan Georg Deutsch's research highlighting present day politics for the way they shape historical remembrance learning from people on the ground through fieldwork and oral history and bringing various parts of the African continent into discussion with one another From Cape Town to Charlottesville many societies are grappling with historical consciousness and the production of public memory In particular how and why societies remember and forget what should serve as symbols of collective memory and whether there exists space for multiple memory cultures are questions being vigorously debated once again These discussions present particular challenges not only to official memory bound to ideological constructions of nationhood but also to the teaching of history and its links to social justice movements The volume re-centres Africa and African history in memory studies with each chapter drawing parallels to comparable cases in Africa and the world An underlying assumption is that what can be learned from the politics of historical memory in Africa will have relevance for contemporary politics globally and for understanding how memories can be mobilised for political ends

African Artisanal Mining from the Inside Out Sara Geenen, 2015-08-11 Artisanal mining is commonly associated with violent conflict rampant corruption and desperate poverty Yet millions of people across Sub Sahara Africa depend on it Many of them are living in eastern Democratic Republic of Congo DRC home to important mineral reserves but also to a plethora of armed groups and massive human rights violations African Artisanal Mining from the Inside Out provides a rich and in depth analysis of the Congolese gold sector Instead of portraying miners and traders as passive victims of economic forces regional conflicts or disheartening national policies it focuses on how they gain access to and benefit from gold It shows a professional artisanal mining sector governed by a set of specific norms offering ample opportunities for flexible employment and local livelihood support and being well connected to the local economy and society It argues for the viability of artisanal gold mining in the context of weak African states and in the transition towards a post conflict and more industrialized economy This book will be of great interest to researchers and postgraduates studying natural resources and development as well as those in development studies African studies sociology political economy political ecology legal pluralism and history

Reassessing the Responsibility to Protect Brett R. O'Bannon, 2015-10-05 This book explores conceptual and operational questions regarding the development and implementation of the Responsibility to Protect The mass atrocity norm known as the Responsibility to Protect R2P has enjoyed meteoric success since the concept was introduced in 2001 But perhaps precisely because of how quickly the concept secured its privileged place in the pantheon of ideas and concerns in international affairs many fundamental questions remain concerning its origins its conceptual contents and its relevance to actual cases of mass atrocity This book seeks to explore that terrain by drawing together a group of scholars diverse enough to engage with the complex array of political legal and ethical questions raised by R2P Critical questions raised here include What are the limits of the authority that R2P confers on international actors What does the evolution of R2P mean for North South relations Just how significant is R2P in the context of the broader human rights landscape In addition to those conceptual and theoretical matters special attention is given to the operational context in which the meaning of R2P is ultimately rendered As events in Africa have figured so significantly into the norm s development the contributors pay special attention to the problems and prospects of mass atrocity prevention in that context This volume will be of much interest to students of the Responsibility to Protect war and conflict studies peacebuilding international law and IR Security Studies

The Oxford Handbook of Transformations of the State Stephan Leibfried, Evelyne Huber, Matthew Lange, Jonah D. Levy, Frank Nullmeier, John D. Stephens, 2015 This Handbook offers a comprehensive treatment of transformations of the state from its origins in different parts of the world and different time periods to its transformations since World War II in the advanced industrial countries the post Communist world and the Global South Leading experts in their fields from Europe and North America discuss conceptualizations and theories of the state and the transformations of the state in its engagement with a changing international environment as well as with changing domestic economic social and political challenges The Handbook covers different types of states in the Global South from failed to predatory rentier and developmental in different kinds of advanced industrial political economies corporatist statist liberal import substitution industrialization and in various post Communist countries Russia China successor states to the USSR and Eastern Europe It also addresses crucial challenges in different areas of state intervention from security to financial regulation migration welfare states democratization and quality of democracy ethno nationalism and human development The volume makes a compelling case that far from losing its relevance in the face of globalization the state remains a key actor in all areas of social and economic life changing its areas of intervention its modes of operation and its structures in adaption to new international and domestic challenges The African Renaissance and the Afro-Arab Spring Charles Villa-Vicencio,Erik Doxtader,Ebrahim Moosa,2015-03-16 The hope and despair surrounding the Afro Arab Spring in North Africa has only begun to be played out in regional and global politics And the call for an African renaissance that followed the miraculous political transition in South Africa is twenty years later viewed with similar ambiguity What is clear is that current developments in Africa north and south promise something markedly different from what has prevailed at any point since the dawn of the African independence movements of the 1950s and 60s But the continent s own identity remains unresolved posing the question whether and how its multiple and divergent experiences can be understood and perhaps woven into a basis for unity Contributors to this volume explore whether or not events north of the Sahara and on the southern tip of Africa can be catalysts for change in other parts of the continent Chapters assesses the nature of political resistance revolution and transition in North and Southern Africa addressing critical factors economics culture gender theology that reveal the promises and perils of African reform Includes a foreword by former South African president Thabo Mbeki The Postcolonial State in Africa Crawford Young,2012-11-20 A highly readable sweeping and yet detailed analysis of the African state in all its failures and moments of hope Crawford Young manages to touch upon all the important issues in the discipline and crucial developments in the recent history of the African continent This book will be a classic Pierre Englebert author of Africa Unity Sovereignty and Sorrow Routledge Handbook of African Politics Nic Cheeseman,David Anderson,Andrea Scheibler,2017-07-05 Providing a comprehensive and cutting edge examination of this important continent Routledge Handbook of African Politics surveys the key debates and controversies dealing with each of the major issues to be found in Africa s politics today Structured into 6 broad areas the handbook features over 30 contributions focused around The State Identity Conflict Democracy and Electoral Politics Political Economy Development International Relations Each chapter deals with a specific topic providing an overview of the main arguments and theories and explaining the empirical evidence that they are based on drawing on high profile cases such as the Democratic Republic of Congo Kenya Nigeria Somalia South Africa Rwanda and Zimbabwe The Handbook also contains new contributions on a wide range of topical issues including terrorism the growing influence of China civil war and transitional justice making it required reading for non specialists and experts alike Featuring both established scholars and emerging researchers this is a vital resource for all students of African Studies democratization conflict resolution and Third World politics Africa and the Formation of the New System of International Relations—Vol. II Alexey M. Sovereignty without Power Leigh A. Gardner, 2022-11-03 What did independence mean during the age of empires How did independent governments balance different interests when they made policies about trade money and access to foreign capital Sovereignty without Power tells the story of Liberia one of the few African countries to maintain independence through the colonial period Established in 1822 as a colony for freed slaves from the United States Liberia's history illustrates how the government's efforts to exercise its economic sovereignty and engage with the global economy shaped Liberia's economic and political development over the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Drawing together a wide range of archival sources Leigh A Gardner presents the first quantitative estimates of Liberian's economic performance and uses these to compare it to its colonized neighbors and other independent countries Liberia's history anticipated challenges still faced by developing countries today and offers a new perspective on the role of power and power relationships in shaping Africa's economic history

State-Building and Multilingual Education in Africa Ericka A. Albaugh, 2014-04-24 This book explains why many governments in Africa are including African languages alongside European languages as media of instruction in elementary schools It argues that a number of factors have combined to make multilingual education attractive France has changed its foreign policy toward its former colonies language NGOs are transcribing more languages and pressure toward democracy makes African leaders look for ways to divide the opposition

Re-Inventing Africa's Development Jong-Dae Park, 2018-12-31 This open access book analyses the development problems of sub Sahara Africa SSA from the eyes of a Korean diplomat with knowledge of the economic growth Korea has experienced in recent decades The author argues that Africa's development challenges are not due to a lack of resources but a lack of management presenting an alternative to the traditional view that Africa's problems are caused by a lack of leadership In exploring an approach based on mind set and nation building rather than unity which tends to promote individual or party interests rather than the broader country or national interests the author suggests new solutions for SSA's economic growth inspired by Korea's successful economic growth model much of which is focused on industrialisation This book will be of interest to researchers policymakers NGOs and governmental bodies in economics development and politics
