Contemporary African American Female Playwrights Dana A. Williams, 1998-06-30 Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in the Sun 1959 was a major dramatic success and brought to the world's attention the potential talent of African American women playwrights But in spite of Hansberry's landmark contribution both the theater and the literary world have often failed to include contemporary African American female playwrights within the circle of production publication and criticism In African American drama anthologies female playwrights are seldom given the degree of attention that is accorded their male counterparts And because of space constraints anthologies of works by women playwrights are forced to exclude numerous female dramatists including African Americans Meanwhile some scholars have argued that the works of African American female playwrights are seldom produced in the mainstream theater because these plays frequently challenge the views of white America But as A Raisin in the Sun demonstrates plays by African American women dramatists can have a powerful message and are worthy of attention A comprehensive research tool this annotated bibliography sheds light on the often neglected works of contemporary African American female playwrights Included within its scope are those dramatists who have had at least one work published since

1959 the year of Hansberry's monumental achievement The first section provides a listing of anthologies that include one or more plays written by an African American female dramatist The second gives entries for reference works and for scholarly and critical studies of the dramatists and their plays The third presents a listing of published plays by individual dramatists along with a summary of each drama the works of each playwright that are related to drama and secondary sources that treat the dramatists and their plays Entries are accompanied by concise but informative annotations and the volume closes with a list of periodicals that frequently publish criticism of African American female playwrights a section of brief biographical sketches of the dramatists and extensive indexes

African American Women Playwrights Christy Gavin, 2012-10-12 This Guide includes the primary and secondary works and summaries of plays of 15 prominent African American women playwrights including Lorraine Hansberry Ntozake Shange Adrienne Kennedy Alice Childress Zora Neale Hurston Georgia Douglas Johnson During the last 10 to 15 years critical consideration of contemporary as well as earlier black women playwrights has blossomed Plays by black women are increasingly anthologized and two recently published anthologies devote themselves solely to black women dramatists In light of the growing interest in scholarship concerning African American women playwrights researchers and librarians need a bibliographical source that brings together the profiles interviews critical material and primary sources of black female playwrights This guide will provide a bibliographical essay reviewing the scholarship of black women playwrights as well as for each playwright a biography summaries of each play detailed annotations of secondary material and list of primary sources
