African American Families Today Myths And Realities:

African American Families Today Angela J. Hattery, Earl Smith, 2012-10-18 From teen pregnancy and single parenting to athletics and HIV AIDS myths about African American families abound This provocative book by two acclaimed scholars of race and ethnicity debunks many common myths about black families in America sharing stories and drawing on the latest research to show the realities African American Families Today examines the wellbeing of African American families around topics including marriage health education incarceration wealth and more Authors Angela J Hattery and Earl Smith show that even though the election of the first African American president Barack Obama has been symbolically important for African Americans his presidency has not had a measurable impact on the daily lives of African American families As the book shows racial inequality persists we re clearly not in a postracial society

Contemporary African American Families Dorothy Smith-Ruiz, Sherri Lawson Clark, Marcia Watson, 2016-10-04 For decades the black community has been perceived both in the United States and around the world as one which thinks alike acts alike and lives alike in poor and downtrodden environments Following the persistent effects of the great recession and the American elections of 2008 now more than ever the political and socio economic state of America is crying out for this deficient and prejudiced conception to be dispelled Focusing primarily on black families in America Contemporary African American Families updates empirical research by addressing various aspects including family formation schooling health and parenting Exploring a wide class spectrum among African American families this text also modernizes and subverts much of the research resulting from Moynihan s 1965 report which arguably misunderstood the lived experiences of black people during the movement from slavery to freedom in a Jim Crow society A timely subversion of the myth that America is successfully in a post racial era this new anthology on the Black Family in America will appeal to advanced undergraduate students and research scholars interested in black studies Africana studies women and gender studies sociology political science anthropology criminal justice education psychology public policy healthy policy and social work

Group Work with Populations at Risk Geoffrey L. Greif, Carolyn Knight, 2017 This skills focused group work book equips students and practitioners to address the needs of a wide range of under served populations Particular attention is paid to building skills for serving a wide range of social and emotional client needs across the lifespan in a variety of settings Women's Issues for a New Generation Gail Ukockis, Gail L. Ukockis, 2016 Resource added for the Human Services 105203 program and Substance Abuse Counselor Education diploma 315501 Myths and Realities of Crime and Justice Steven Barkan, George J. Bryjak, 2009-09-22 Americans are fascinated with crime criminals and criminal justice For all the public interest however relatively little is known about these topics that dominate newspaper headlines each and every day in the United States This book provides readers with an accurate and up to date picture of crime and justice in the United States Myths and Realities of Crime and Justice What Every American Should Know addresses the major topics in this broad field and presents recent findings from criminologists and criminal justice practitioners in a reader friendly manner Combining up to date facts with an engaging narrative this book will dispel many of the preconceived notions and distorted pictures about crime and justice that continue to perpetuate in the United States This one of a kind criminal justice book offers everything you need to know about crime criminals police Book jacket Black Families and Recession in the United States Dorothy Smith-Ruiz, Albert M. Kopak, 2021-03-30 Black Families and the Recession in the United States goes beyond the massive loss of property among African Americans during the Great Recession of 2007 2009 It connects the housing experience to broader systems of inequality in America Following the Great Recession of 2007 2009 the US elections of 2008 the impact of COVID 19 and widespread demonstrations resulting from the murder of George Floyd by police the sociopolitical and economic status of Blacks in the United States is at a critical point in history with demand for major transformation The authors reveal a history of racist practices against Blacks in many systems including education policing incarceration wealth transmission voting restrictions and housing segregation The social costs of the recession are manifested in the daily lives of African American families In addition to financial losses African Americans are more likely to be plagued with issues related to poverty chronic illnesses and lack of trust of social and economic institutions Research policy and practical implications of this research include identifying social and economic supports unique to African Americans and determining strategies to strengthen families paramount to addressing racial disparities The interdisciplinary focus of this book appeals to a wide audience and areas of study Handbook of Sociology and Human Rights David L. Brunnsma, Keri E. Lyall Smith, Brian K Gran, 2015-10-23 Long the province of international law human rights now enjoys a renaissance of studies and new perspectives from the social sciences This landmark book is the first to synthesize and comprehensively evaluate this body of work It fosters an interdisciplinary international and critical engagement both in the social study of human rights and the establishment of a human rights approach throughout the field of sociology Sociological perspectives bring new questions to the interdisciplinary study of human rights as amply illustrated in this book The Handbook is indispensable to any interdisciplinary collection on human rights or on sociology This text Brings new perspectives to the study of human rights in an interdisciplinary fashion Offers state of the art summaries critical discussions of established human rights paradigms and a host of new insights and further research directions Fosters a comprehensive human rights approach to sociology topically representing all 45 sections of the American Sociological Association

African Americans at Risk Glenn L. Starks, 2015-06-22 With all of the progress African Americans have made they still face many risks that threaten the entire race or place segments in jeopardy of survival This work examines the widespread problem and suggests solutions This two volume set examines the issues and policies that put African Americans at risk in our culture today utilizing the most recent research from scholars in the field to provide not only objective encyclopedic information but also varying viewpoints to encourage critical thinking The entries comprehensively document how African Americans are treated differently have more negative outcomes in the same situations than other races and face risks due to issues inherent in their past or current social and economic conditions Care is taken to note distinctions between subgroups and not further a blanket approach to the diverse members of this minority population Intended for members of the African American community societal scholars students in the fields of health social studies and public policy as well as general readers this work will provide readers with a deeper understanding of key components affecting the lives of African Americans today

Reality Check: A Theological Perspective of the African-American Family, Life, Myth, and the American Family Unreeling Jeffry John Stein, 2005 This book is about what movies do for us It is about how movies exhibit the contradictions truths and fantasies surrounding our bedrock American beliefs in things held sacred including in this case our creed of family It is about why we again and again attend the dark universal tabernacles in which these sermons are offered The depth of analysis offered here will also bring new insights to those concerned with parenting issues self understanding and media consciousness all increasingly relevant areas of concern in contemporary life And for those interested in telling stories that will truly move the rest of us this book will serve as a secret doorway to the inner sanctum of human characters responding to the places and times of their lives Finally this book will bring revelation and liberation to reader s lives by showing them how to look through movies into themselves as they have never done before In the specific examples of archetypal life journeys illuminated through these films they will experience empathy with the ineffability of their existence And in transubstantiating with these movie characters amidst history culture and family they will journey through their own conundrums in arcs that bring them moments of at one ment

African Americans and Homeschooling Ama Mazama, Garvey Musumunu, 2014-08-27 Despite greater access to formal education both disadvantaged and middle class black students continue to struggle academically causing a growing number of black parents to turn to homeschooling This book is an in depth exploration of the motivations behind black parents decision to educate their children at home and the strategies they ve developed to overcome potential obstacles Citing current issues such as culture religion and safety the book challenges the commonly expressed view that black parents and their children have divested from formal education by embracing homeschooling as a constructive strategy to provide black children with a valuable educational experience Survival of the African American Family Karen S. Jewell, 2003-11-30 Challenging widely held beliefs this provocative book offers nothing less than a blueprint for enhancing the social and economic status of African American families Despite the implementation of liberal social policies in the 1960s and 70s successive U S administrations continue to dash the hopes and expectations of African Americans who remain subject to racism and discrimination Arguing that social policies and their absence have affected the stability of the African American family Jewell refutes the myth of significant progress for African American families emanating from the civil rights era exposing the myriad reasons why greater advancement toward equality has not occurred in major societal institutions Attention is focused on the extent to which African American families have been adversely affected by a process of assimilation that was socio psychological rather than economic This new edition builds upon the first edition and is revised and expanded to reflect new and persistent institutional policies and practices of race gender and class inequality facing African American families The revised edition explores such issues as racial profiling capital punishment police brutality predatory lending No Child Left Behind welfare reform affirmative action and racial disparities in healthcare academic achievement and home ownership Jewell proposes a variety of strategies and policies that are needed to ensure greater social and economic equality and justice for African American families African Americans by the Numbers Glenn L. Starks, 2017-07-14 Provides an invaluable source for students as well as academics on the current condition of African Americans highlighting disparities throughout an array of social economic and political areas African Americans comprise approximately 12 percent of the population of the United States a sizable proportion Yet African Americans are incarcerated at rates disproportionate to their overall population in the United States By examining a wide range of socioeconomic topics and supplying necessary background and contextual information this book offers a multidimensional view of African American life that covers such critical areas as education health immigration and migration employment and the economy This statistical guide presents extensive demographics on African Americans breaks down the hard numbers explains what the statistics indicate about the socioeconomic condition of African American life and places this information into historical and contemporary context This book also provides detailed comparisons of African Americans to other races and ethnic groups Readers will be challenged to interpret the numbers and draw logical conclusions from them as a result this reference serves to help students build critical thinking skills that are essential to success in the classroom and beyond Policing Black Bodies Angela J. Hattery, Earl Smith, 2017-12-08 From Trayvon Martin to Freddie Gray the stories of police violence against Black people are too often in the news In Policing Black Bodies Angela J Hattery and Earl Smith make a compelling case that the policing of Black bodies goes far beyond these individual stories of brutality They connect the regulation of African American people in many settings including the public education system and the criminal justice system into a powerful narrative about the myriad ways Black bodies are policed Policing Black Bodies goes beyond chronicling isolated incidents of injustice to look at the broader systems of inequality in our society how they re structured how they harm Black people and how we can work for positive change The book discusses the school to prison pipeline mass incarceration and the prison boom the unique ways Black women and trans people are treated wrongful convictions and the challenges of exoneration and more Each chapter of the book opens with a true story explains the history and current state of the issue and looks toward how we can work for change The book calls attention to the ways class race and gender contribute to injustice as well as the perils of colorblind racism that by pretending not to see race we actually strengthen rather than dismantle racist social structures Policing Black Bodies is a powerful call to acknowledge injustice and work for change African-American Families Wade W. Nobles,1987 Father-Daughter

Confronting the Black Community in Denver, CO David W. Jackson III,2022-01-12 This volume highlights five critical key issues relevant to Colorado's Black and Brown communities. As a result of the recent activity around policing and equity, marijuana education and biases, prisoner reintegration and activism, it offers solutions to managing those problems. The book is a resource that must be read by K-12 educators, social workers, probation officers, grass roots leaders, adult educators, and university professors in the area of sociology, education, Black studies, and the non-traditional disciplines. Additionally, the volume contains essential tools for training professionals and teaching our youth by offering insights to problem solve in urban areas. It provides pertinent information vital to the development and success of our youth struggling in K-12 higher education and the criminal justice system. Although Colorado's Black communities are the focus of the volume, it will also serve as a model for urban communities in different states.

Ethnic Women Vasiliki Demos, 1994. This book introduces the study of ethnic women and contributes to our understanding of the relationships among gender, race, ethnicity, and social class. The social scientific study of gender has grown exponentially for more than two decades. Until recently, however, little attention has been paid to the diversity among women. The social scientific literature on ethnicity has experienced a revival in the same decades, yet women have frequently been overlooked or misrepresented in that literature. When ethnic women do appear, they are typically depicted as selfless wives and mothers or passive victims. These twenty original essays challenge myths and stereotypes. The authors, social scientists, social service professionals, and other scholars, explore a broad range of racial, ethnic, and social class circumstances. Communities represented include the Hmong in Wisconsin, Cuban Jews in Florida, and Samoans in Hawaii. Patterns of immigration and social mobility, communal institutions, and maintenance of ethnic traditions are among the topics which reflect the multiple status reality of ethnic women.
