Handbook of Death and Dying Clifton D. Bryant, 2003-10 Dying is a social as well as physiological phenomenon. Each society characterizes and consequently treats death and dying in its own individual ways, ways that differ markedly. These particular patterns of death and dying engender modal cultural responses, and such institutionalized behavior has familiar economical, educational, religious, and political implications. The Handbook of Death and Dying takes stock of the vast literature in the field of thanatology, arranging and synthesizing what has been an unwieldy body of knowledge into a concise yet comprehensive reference work. This two-volume handbook will provide direction and momentum to the study of death-related behavior for many years to come.

Key Features: More than 100 contributors representing authoritative expertise in a diverse array of disciplines: Anthropology, Family Studies, History, Law, Medicine, Mortuary Science, Philosophy, Psychology, Social Work, Sociology, Theology. A distinguished editorial board of leading scholars and researchers in the field. More than 100 definitive essays covering almost every dimension of death-related behavior. Comprehensive and inclusive, exploring concepts and social patterns within the larger topical concern. Journal article length essays that address topics with appropriate detail. Multidisciplinary and cross-cultural coverage.

Psychology and Sociology Applied to Medicine Beth Alder, Edwin van Teijlingen, MA, MEd, PhD, Michael Porter, BA, MPhil, 2009-06-17 This textbook in the Illustrated Colour Text series offers an integrated treatment of sociology and psychology for medical students. It is presented in a much more colourful and graphic format than is usual for books on these two subjects. This integration reflects the tendency to teach these two subjects together as behavioural science, with an increased stress on the place of medicine in society and on illness as a product of psychological and social circumstances rather than merely a biological phenomenon. The book reflects these trends and has been successful and popular with students. An integrated treatment of psychology and sociology for medical students in line with the trend towards teaching these subjects as behavioural sciences. Use of case studies and Stop Think boxes encourages critical thinking and discussion. Graphic Illustrated Colour Text presentation style enlivens a subject which most medical students are not keen on. This third edition contains a new introduction on the importance and key features of the biopsychosocial model and additional double-page spreads on International Health and Rural Health.
