After Apartheid Reinventing South Africa:

After Apartheid Ian Shapiro, Kahreen Tebeau, 2011-06-21 Democracy came to South Africa in April 1994 when the African National Congress won a landslide victory in the first free national election in the country's history. That definitive and peaceful transition from apartheid is often cited as a model for others to follow. The new order has since survived several transitions of ANC leadership and it averted a potentially destabilizing constitutional crisis in 2008. Yet enormous challenges remain. Poverty and inequality are among the highest in the world. Staggering unemployment has fueled xenophobia resulting in deadly aggression directed at refugees and migrant workers from Zimbabwe and Mozambique. Violent crime rates, particularly murder and rape, remain grotesquely high. The HIV/AIDS pandemic was shockingly mishandled at the highest levels of government and infection rates continue to be overwhelming. Despite the country's uplifting success of hosting Africa's first World Cup in 2010, inefficiency and corruption remain rife. Infrastructure and basic services are often semifunctional and political opposition and a free media are under pressure. In this volume, major scholars chronicle South Africa's achievements and challenges since the transition. The contributions, all previously unpublished, represent the state of the art in the study of South African politics, economics, law, and social policy. Reimagining Urban Planning in Africa Patrick Brandful Cobbinah, Eric Gaisie, 2023-12-21 This book analyses urban planning in Anglophone, Francophone, and Lusophone Africa, exploring its history and advocating for new approaches. In a climate-changing world, cities need to be reimagined and designed to be more sustainable. But despite being one of the fastest urbanising continents, Africa has generally weak urban planning systems. The chapters adopt multi-disciplinary and transdisciplinary approaches, combining insights from urban studies and policy sciences, emphasising existing gaps, particularly in decision-making, planning practice, and inclusiveness, to offer an in-depth analysis of urban planning in Africa. The authors advocate for the reimagination of urban planning, debating new institutionalism, digital infrastructure, climate urbanism, gated communities, and smart mobility. The chapters provide both theoretical and practical contributions and advance thinking, policymaking, and implementation of sustainable urban planning approaches in Africa, thus making the book indispensable for advanced students, researchers, and practitioners alike. Global Challenges and Local Reactions: Czech Republic and South Africa Hana Horáková, Stephanie Rudwick, 2014 This book presents an interdisciplinary perspective on the large-scale processes of socio-economic and political change of two young democracies post-apartheid South Africa and the post-socialist Czech Republic. As the political transition in both countries coincides with the intensified effects of globalization, especially with the advent of neoliberal economic ideologies and policies, the two countries exhibit a number of common features and parallels in their respective transitions and post-developments. The book's chapters describe the particular places South Africa and the Czech Republic occupy in the dual processes of internationalization and globalization. Levin, Bettina von Lieres, 2016-09-12 After more than 20 years of freedom in South Africa we have to ask ourselves difficult questions are we willing to perpetuate a lie search for facts or think wishfully Freedom has been enabled by apartheid's end but at the same time some of apartheid's key institutions and social relations are reproduced under the guise of democracy This collection of essays acknowledges the enormous expectations placed on the shoulders of the South African revolution to produce an alternative political regime in response to apartheid and global neo liberalism It does not lament the inability of South Africa's democracy to provide deeper freedoms or suggest that since it hasn't this is some form of betrayal Freedom is made possible and/or limited by local political choices contemporary global conditions and the complexities of social change This book explores the multiplicity of spaces within which the dynamics of social change unfold and the complex ways in which power is produced and reproduced In this way it seeks to understand the often non-linear practices through which alternative possibilities emerge the lengthy and often indirect ways in which new communities are imagined and new solidarities are built In this sense this book is not a collection of hope or despair Nor is it a book that seeks to situate itself between these two poles Instead it aims to read the present historically critically and politically and to offer insights into the ongoing iterative and often messy struggles for freedom South Africa's Insurgent Citizens Doctor Julian

Brown, 2015-07-15 Twenty years on from South Africa's first democratic election the post-apartheid political order is more fractured and more fractious than ever before Police violence seems the order of the day whether in response to a protest in Ficksburg or a public meeting outside a mine in Marikana For many this has signalled the end of the South African dream Politics they declare is the preserve of the corrupt the self-interested the incompetent and the violent They are wrong Julian Brown argues that a new kind of politics can be seen on the streets and in the courtrooms of the country This politics is made by a new kind of citizen one that is neither respectful nor passive but instead insurgent The collapse of the dream of a consensus politics is not a cause for despair South Africa's political order is fractured and in its cracks new forms of activity new leaders and new movements are emerging Interdisciplinary Approaches to the Future of Africa and Policy

Development Tshabangu, Icarbord, 2022-03-11 Despite several idealistic efforts towards a united Africa the term remains a hypothetical concept symbolizing a desired federal state on the continent While globalization and interconnectedness have brought prosperity in some parts of the world Africa has not generally benefited from global decisions These decisions policies and practices have tended to be wholly influenced by the rich and powerful countries and their transnational agencies and corporations in pursuit of their national interests Faced with such enormous external economic and political forces the divided and powerless African states have been unable to bargain for lucrative economic deals or pursue national interests for the benefit of their people hence the need to examine what exists in varied fields and the emerging trends for the future Interdisciplinary Approaches to the Future of Africa and Policy Development addresses critical issues and challenges in Africa and seeks to examine and understand the future trends in Africa through a deconstructive interrogation of present trends Covering a wide range of topics such as sustainability equality and democracy it is ideal for researchers academicians students economists policymakers political parties trade unions and NGOs

The Routledge Handbook of the History of Settler Colonialism Edward Cavanagh, Lorenzo Veracini, 2016-08-12 The Routledge Handbook of the History of Settler Colonialism examines the global history of settler colonialism as a distinct mode of domination from ancient times to the present day It explores the ways in which new polities were established in freshly discovered New Worlds and covers the history of many countries including Australia New Zealand Israel Japan South Africa Liberia Algeria Canada and the USA Chronologically as well as geographically wide reaching this volume focuses on an extensive array of topics and regions ranging from settler colonialism in the Neo Assyrian and Roman empires to relationships between indigenes and newcomers in New Spain and the early Mexican republic to the settler dominated polities of Africa during the twentieth century Its twenty nine inter disciplinary chapters focus on single colonies or on regional developments that straddle the borders of present day states on successful settlements that would go on to become powerful settler nations on failed settler colonies and on the historiographies of these experiences Taking a fundamentally international approach to the topic this book analyses the varied experiences of settler colonialism in countries around the world With a synthesizing yet original introduction this is a landmark contribution to the emerging field of settler colonial studies and will be a valuable resource for anyone interested in the global history of imperialism and colonialism

Handbook of Translocal Development and Global Mobilities Annelies Zoomers, Maggi Leung, Kei Otsuki, Guus Van Westen, 2021-06-25 This timely Handbook demonstrates that global linkages flows and circulations merit a more central place in theorization about development Calling for a mobilities turn it challenges the sedentarist assumptions which still underlie much policy making and planning for the future

Culture & Civilization, Volume 4 Irving Louis Horowitz, 2011-12-31 Debates on the meaning of religious belief in an advanced technological age have established the emergence of religion as a fact of daily life The nineteenth century imagery of warfare between science and religion is long dismissed Emphasizing this fact of the continuing relevance and importance of religion as a driving force in contemporary life is the stunning emergence on the world scene of militant Muslim beliefs in a period of relatively inactive religious belief elsewhere In this volume of Culture and Civilization religion is examined in the context of post modern societies The collection of essays is divided by themes religions civilizations cultures and the history of ideas The contributors William Donohue Simon Kuznets A L Kroeber Greg Mills Yoani Sanchez Murray Weidenbaum Andreas Herberg Rothe Daniel Bell John W Gardner John Charles and Liu Xiaobo s discuss a variety of topics with titles including The Catholic Church and Sexual Abuse Why is Africa Poor Freedom and Exchange in Communist Cuba and the Economic Structure and the Life of the Jews This volume concludes with a grouping of review essays on famous figures ranging from Crane Brinton and Herbert Spencer to Max Gluckman and Hannah Arendt The volume as a whole projects a sense of the future and avoids hysteria about the past The contributors have a sharp edge and speak in a critical voice to the dilemmas of the present world order Redefining Regional Power in International Relations Miriam Prys, 2012 This book examines the concept of regional power in international relations Using the emerging powers of India and South Africa as the case studies it explores how regional powers simultaneously differ and share common features The book develops a method to classify and evaluate different types of regional powers and applies this typology to contemporary case studies of India and South Africa Regional power is often expected to have a positive influence on region specific problems of conflict economic deprivation and political instability In reality an achievement expectations gap can be seen in many regional powers which can be analysed and understood through observable variation in regional power The author discovers that in addition to the management of the internal regional order regional powers have to establish individuality whilst fitting into the global international environment altering both regional dynamics and creating variance in the level of control within the region Elucidating concepts and definitions this book is an accessible and in depth study that both introduces key concepts and provides a framework for the future study of regional power in international relations Redefining Regional Power in International Relations will be of interest to students and scholars of regionalism and international relations Are South Africans Free? Lawrence Hamilton, 2014-04-10 Despite South Africa's successful transition to democracy and lauded constitution political freedom for the majority of South Africans remains elusive The poor and unemployed majority are poorly represented and lack power and thus freedom Under these conditions the freedom of the privileged minority is also seriously impaired due to the costs of maintaining their relative security and well being Lawrence Hamilton is an internationally known political theorist who has spent ten years teaching in South African universities In this unique book he brings ideas political and philosophical to the fore to understand a contemporary political conundrum He outlines the persistent unresolved problems characterizing contemporary South Africa poverty and quality of life statistics that are appalling for a middle income country levels of inequality that make South Africa one of the most unequal places in the world skewed economic and political representation that reproduces elites rather than generating opportunities for all and an electoral system that implements the idea of proportional representation so literally that it undermines meaningful representation Are South Africans Free aims not only to explain the current state of South Africa but to provide positive new directions and suggestions for institutional change Hamilton argues that freedom as power in South Africa does not depend on good will charity or duty and it goes beyond the complete realization of the political and civil liberties currently safeguarded in its constitution Such change will depend on courageous leadership active citizenship new forms of representation and a macroeconomic policy that offers radical redistribution of actual and potential wealth A Companion to African History William H. Worger, Charles Ambler, Nwando Achebe, 2018-11-28 Covers the history of the entire African continent from prehistory to the present day A Companion to African History embraces the diverse regions subject matter and disciplines of the African continent while also providing chronological and geographical coverage of basic historical developments Two dozen essays by leading international scholars explore the challenges facing this relatively new field of historical enquiry and present the dynamic ways in which historians and scholars from other fields such as archaeology anthropology political science and economics are forging new directions in thinking and research Comprised of six parts the book begins with thematic approaches to African history exploring the environment gender and family medical practices and more Section two covers Africa's early history and its pre colonial past early human adaptation the emergence of kingdoms royal power and warring states The third section looks at the era of the slave trade and European expansion Part four examines the process of conquest the discovery of diamonds and gold military and social response and more Colonialism is discussed in the sixth section with chapters on the economy transformed due to the development of agriculture and mining industries The last section studies the continent from post World War II all the way up to modern times Aims at capturing the enthusiasms of practicing historians and encouraging similar passion in a new generation of scholars Emphasizes linkages within Africa as well as between the continent and other parts of the world All chapters include significant historiographical content and suggestions for further reading Written by a global team of writers with unique backgrounds and views Features case studies with illustrative examples In a field traditionally marked by narrow specialisms A Companion to African History is an ideal book for advanced students researchers historians and scholars looking for a broad yet unique overview of African history as a whole

Decolonizing Development Jennifer Keahey, 2023-11-30 Combining an analysis of political economy and ecocultural heritage this book examines post Soviet Latvia and post apartheid South Africa in an unusual comparative study of post authoritarian efforts to decolonize production and trade

Psychosocial Pathways Towards Reinventing the South African University Sabrina Liccardo, 2020-11-02 This book proposes a conceptual empirical framework for exploring forms of continuity and change along psychosocial pathways in South African universities It illustrates how the psychosocial pathways are grounded in the symbolic narratives and knowledges of young scientists engineers and architects all interlocutors in the research from which this book is based Alala Mamoratwa Welile Odirile Kaiya Amirah Takalani Nosakhele Naila Ambani Khanyisile Itumeleng Ethwasa and Kgnaya provide collective standpoints in the multiplicities within and between the lived lives and told stories of young Black South African women in Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics STEM fields In doing so this compelling work advances possibilities for demythologising scientific endeavour as a white male achievement and shifting knowledge communities across gendered racialised class and national divides This book presents an innovative narrative methodology utilising the myth of the Minotaur to examine the state of the university at the heart of the hierarchical labyrinth in post apartheid South Africa Throughout the work the author wrestles with and self reflexively highlights her own positionality as a white middle class South African woman to examine how this affects the production of this research in ways which serve to preserve the colonial knowledge system With the rise of the Rhodes Must Fall and Fees Must Fall student movement in South Africa demanding for the fall of institutionalised racial hierarchies the author uses the cover image of narrative formations in the spirit of exploration to think with and through undulating networked forms that could possibly forge new psychosocial pathways towards decolonising and reinventing South African universities This work offers a unique conceptual and methodological resource for students and scholars of psychosocial and narrative theory as well as those who are concerned about the politics of higher education both in South Africa and in other contexts around the world

The Impossible Machine Adam Sitze, 2013-07-30 A fresh though counterintuitive understanding of South Africa's Truth and Reconciliation Commission's legal political and cultural heritage

Readings of the Particular Anne Holden Rønning, Lene Johannessen, 2007 The present collection aims at throwing light on transculturality and the identities and masks that people put on in writing as much as in life in an age of global levelling and the struggle for a particular place in a postcolonial world Topics covered include North African identity in France cultural citizenship and the Asian diaspora novels of beur self identity by Maghrebi immigrants in France Scottish fiction Britain and Empire memory amnesia and the reinvention of the past in South Africa the Caribbean and elsewhere borders necrophilia and history in Southern African fiction encodings of female control spectating in black documentary cinema theatre performance and the Western presence in Africa masks history transtextuality and other aspects of Irish poetry and drama the masking and unmasking of identity in the African American novel violence and Titus Andronicus in black Nova Scotian poetry notions of the national and of indigeneity in contemporary Canadian drama Native Canadians space and the city Authors and artists treated include William Boyd Andr Brink George Elliott Clarke David Dabydeen Ralph Ellison Bessie Head Seamus Heaney Tomson Highway Isaac Julien Daniel David Moses Paul Muldoon Albert Murray Jean Rhys Sir Walter Scott Robert Louis Stevenson Richard Wright and W B Yeats

Poverty Knowledge in South Africa Grace Davie, 2015-02-05 Poverty is South Africa's greatest challenge But what is poverty How can it be measured And how can it be reduced if not eliminated In South Africa human science knowledge about the cost of living grew out of colonialism industrialization apartheid and civil resistance campaigns which makes this knowledge far from neutral or apolitical South Africans have used the Poverty Datum Line PDL Gini coefficients and other poverty thresholds to petition the state to chip away at the pillars of white supremacy and more recently to criticize the postapartheid government's failures to deliver on some of its promises Rather than promoting one particular policy solution this book argues that poverty knowledge teaches us about the dynamics of historical change the power of racism in white settler societies and the role of grassroots protest movements in shaping state policies and scientific categories Readers will gain new perspectives on today's debates about social welfare redistribution and human rights and will ultimately find reasons to rethink conventional approaches to advocacy

Connecting South-South Communities Muhammed Haron, 2019-01-03 In addition to offering a comprehensive overview and fair insight over more than twenty five years into the relations between two South Middle Powers namely South Africa and Malaysia this book also discusses them within their respective regional structures and evaluates their respective diplomatic and commercial connections It also explores issues that have generally be neglected by International Relations specialists and in this regard it gives attention to cultural contacts that bring to the fore the critical role of non state actors in international affairs Since the ideas espoused by South Africa and Malaysia s political leaders are rooted in their specific national and broad regional philosophies the study also unpacks the notions of the African ways vis vis the Asian ways in maintaining and sustaining state to state relations within the two regions This book which uses Critical Theory as an appropriate framework that takes full cognisance of various developments in International Relations will be of interest to scholars and researchers in both the Social Sciences and the Humanities The WholeWorld is Texting Irving Epstein,2015-06-26 The authors of this volume address multiple questions involving the nature of youth protest in the twenty first century Through their use of a case study approach they comment upon the ways in which youth protest has been influenced by the electronic and social media and evaluate the effectiveness of protest activities many of which were framed in reaction to neo liberalism and state authoritarianism A number of the authors further comment upon the utility of employing social movement theory to analyze the nature and character of protest actions while others situate such events within specific political social and cultural contexts The case studies focus upon protest activities in Bahrain Turkey Iran Cambodia South Africa China Russia Chile Spain and the U S and together they offer a comparative analysis of an important global phenomenon In so doing the authors further address issues involving the changing nature of globalized protest participation its immediate and long term consequences and the ways in which protests have encouraged a re evaluation of the nature of inequality as constructed within educational social and political spheres

Political Science in South Africa Peter Vale,Pieter Fourie,2016-01-13 In 2013 and in 2014 respectively the South African Association of Political Studies SAAPS and Politikon the South African Journal of Political Studies celebrate their 40th anniversary Also in April 2014 South Africa celebrates twenty years since the advent of the post Apartheid democracy and the birth of the rainbow nation This book provides a timely account of the birth and evolution of South African politics over the past four decades but also of the study of Political Science and International Relations in this country Fourteen political scientists contribute chapters to this volume situating the study of politics within its global context and recounting the development of politics as a field of study at South African universities The fourteen contributions evaluate the state of the discipline s and suggest conclusions that are surprising and in many instances unsettling not only with regards to what and how politics is taught but also how its study has variously gained and lost pertinence for South Africans understanding of their own polity as well as its place in the world The implications are uncomfortable and pose interesting challenges for South African scholarship pedagogy and national self reflection This book was published as a special issue of Politikon
