A Guide To The New Ruins Of Great Britain Owen Hatherley:

A Guide to the New Ruins of Great Britain Owen Hatherley, 2011-07-01 Back in 1997 New Labour came to power amid much talk of regenerating the inner cities left to rot under successive Conservative governments Over the next decade British cities became the laboratories of the new enterprise economy glowing monuments to finance property speculation and the service industry until the crash In A Guide to the New Ruins of Great Britain Owen Hatherley sets out to explore the wreckage the buildings that epitomized an age of greed and aspiration From Greenwich to Glasgow Milton Keynes to Manchester Hatherley maps the derelict Britain of the 2010s from riverside apartment complexes art galleries and amorphous interactive centers to shopping malls call centers and factories turned into expensive lofts In doing so he provides a mordant commentary on the urban environment in which we live work and consume Scathing forensic bleakly humorous A Guide to the New Ruins of Great Britain is a coruscating autopsy of a get rich quick aspirational politics a brilliant architectural state we're in

A New Kind of Bleak Owen Hatherley, 2012-07-31 In A Guide to the New Ruins of Great Britain Owen Hatherley skewered New Labour's architectural legacy in all its witless swagger Now in the year of the Diamond Jubilee and the London Olympics he sets out to describe what the Coalition's altogether different approach to economic mismanagement and civic irresponsibility is doing to the places where the British live In a journey that begins and ends in the capital Hatherley takes us from Plymouth and Brighton to Belfast and Aberdeen by way of the eerie urbanism of the Welsh valleys and the much mocked splendour of modernist Coventry Everywhere outside the unreal Southeast the building has stopped in towns and cities which languish as they wait for the next bout of self-defeating austerity Hatherley writes with unrivalled aggression about the disarray of modern Britain and yet this remains a book about possibilities remembered about unlikely successes in the midst of seemingly inexorable failure For as well as trash ancient and modern Hatherley finds signs of the hopeful country Britain once was and hints of what it might become

Wiseman,2019-06-19 This study considers how British literature from the late Victorian era to the 1930s draws upon Gothic and supernatural narrative and imagery in its representations of place whether metropolitan suburban or rural it argues that this period of dramatic socio cultural change is shadowed by a corresponding evolution in Gothic literary representation

Topothesia Ameeth Vijay,2023-05-02 SHORTLISTED 2024 MSA FIRST BOOK PRIZE Topothesia reads urban planning as a mode of speculative fiction one inextricably linked to histories of British colonialism and liberalism through a particular understanding of place The book focuses on town planning from the late nineteenth century to the present day showing how the contemporary geography of Britain sharply unequal and marked by racial division continues ideologies of place established in colonial contexts Specifically planning allows for the speculative construction of future places that are both utopian in their ability to resolve political disagreement and at the same tantalizingly realizable able to be produced in concrete reality This speculative imaginary I argue is only possible within the ideological framework of colonialism and the history of empire within which it developed Topothesia refers to a rhetorical device employing the vivid depiction of an often imaginary place This device Vijay shows helps us understand urban planning as a narrative genre one that even in its most mundane documents is compelled to produce elaborate fantasies of future places The book examines specific planning movements over time to understand the form and the stakes of their speculative worlds In building these worlds the book shows planners continually coopted literary critiques of the present and reveries of the future retaining literature's aesthetics while eschewing its politics At the same time Vijay shows writers and artists have dwelled within and against these colonial imaginaries to seek other means of representing place

The Contemporaneity of Modernism Michael D'Arcy, Mathias Nilges, 2015-10-23 At a juncture in which art and culture are saturated with the forces of commodification this book argues that problems, forms and positions that defined modernism are crucially relevant to the condition of contemporary art and culture The volume is attuned to the central concerns of recent scholarship on modernism and contemporary culture: the problems of aesthetic autonomy and the specific role of art in preserving a critical standpoint for cultural production; the relationship between politics and the category of the aesthetic; the problems of temporality and contemporaneity; literary transnationalism and the questions of medium and medium specificity Ranging across art forms, mediums, disciplines and geographical locations, essays address the foundational questions that fuse modernism and the contemporary moment: What is art? What is the relation between art and the economy? How do art and technology interpenetrate and transform each other? What is modernism's logic of time and contemporaneity and how might it speak to the problem of thinking genuine novelty or the possibility of an alternative to the current stage of neo-liberal capitalism? What is modernism and what is its history? The book is thus committed to revising our understanding of what modernism was in its earlier instantiations and in accounting for the current moment, addressing the problems raised by modernism's afterlives and reverberations in the 20th and 21st centuries The volume includes essays that consider literature, sociology, philosophy, visual art, music, architecture, digital culture, television and other artistic media It synthesizes the most recent thinking on modernism and contemporary culture and presents a compelling case for what happens to literature, art and culture in the wake of the exhaustion of postmodernism This book will be of interest to those studying literature, visual art, media studies, architecture, literary theory, modernism and twentieth century and contemporary culture more generally

A History of Council Housing in 100 Estates John Boughton,2022-11-01 It was like heaven It was like a palace even without anything in it We d got this lovely lovely house In 1980 there were well over 5 million council homes in Britain housing around one third of the population The right of all to adequate housing had been recognised in the 1948 Universal Declaration of Human Rights but long before that popular notions of what constituted a moral economy had advanced the idea that everyone was entitled to adequate shelter At its best council housing has been at the vanguard of housing progress an example to the private sector and a lifeline for working class and vulnerable people However with the emergence of Thatcherism the veneration of the free market and a desire to curtail public spending council housing became seen as a problem not a solution We are now in the midst of a housing crisis with 1.4 million fewer social homes at affordable rent than in 1980 In this highly illustrated survey eminent social historian John Boughton author of Municipal Dreams examines the remarkable history of social housing in the UK He presents 100 examples from the almshouses of the 16th century to Goldsmith Street the 2019 winner of the RIBA Stirling Prize Through the various political aesthetic and ideological changes the well being of community and environment demands that good housing for all must prevail Features 100 examples of social housing from all over the UK illustrated with over 250 images including photographs and sketches A complete history dating from early charitable provision to homes for heroes garden villages to new towns multi storey tower blocks and modernist developments to contemporary sustainable housing Iconic estates including Alton East and West Becontree Dawson s Heights Donnybrook Quarter Dunboyne Road and Park Hill Projects from leading architects and practices including Peter Barber Neave Brown Karakusevic Carson Kate Macintosh and Mikhail Riches
