New Dimensions of Diversity in Nordic Culture and Society Jenny Björklund, Ursula Lindqvist, 2016-04-26 In the new millennium categories of identity have become particularly destabilized with the emergence of a new generation of people in the Nordic region who demand more dynamic and fluid identities New Dimensions of Diversity in Nordic Culture and Society reinvestigates the tired concept of diversity to make room for dynamic new realities as well as the ample new questions to which they give rise This volume assumes diversity to be a fundamental feature of Nordic modernity Given that the Nordic countries consistently rank among the world's wealthiest, most educated and most egalitarian, these case studies provide important counter narratives to prevailing local and global discourses of Nordicness The contributors not only interrogate historical categories of diversity in a Nordic context including gender, sex, class, ethnicity and race, they also show how these categories intersect They examine new forms of and platforms for diverse ideas and creative expression including fluid masculinities, digital cultures, new media and fashion They question the terms on which the Nordic region's indigenous peoples, the Sami and the Greenlandic Inuit, as well as stateless people such as the Kurds, are brought into Nordic discussions of diversity, citizenship and agency and analyze the implications of particular neo-nationalist and patriarchal discourses that have emerged since the turn of the century The book draws from a variety of disciplinary perspectives and interdisciplinary fields and will spark productive and critical conversations among all with an interest in the national and regional cultures, subcultures and social dynamics that inform modern life in the Nordic region

Decolonizing Our Names in the 21st Century Lauren Beck, Grace A. Gomashie, 2025-09-10 This book combines different decolonial approaches from around the world to offer a roadmap for updating names and naming practices, restoring and protecting precolonial ones and reimagining or recontextualizing the relationship between place, identity and names In a postcolonial context, naming often serves as a bitter reminder of past harms through commemorative naming practices, whether through a system of baptismal names or a former colony's approach to dealing with the names that the colonizer left behind This volume assembles authors who hail from formerly colonized regions of the Americas, Europe, Africa and Asia to engage with this problem of decolonizing names in the twenty-first century from a global perspective The book also points to what strategies have had more success than others while envisioning the tools needed for progress in the future Offering a useful framework with approaches that can easily be used across other geographical contexts, this volume is suitable for scholars and students interested in decolonization, identity and naming practices

Arctic Abstractive Industry Arthur Mason, 2022-04-08 Through diverse engagements with natural resource extraction and ecological vulnerability in the contemporary Arctic, contributors to this volume apprehend Arctic resource regimes through the concept of abstraction Abstraction refers to the creation of new material substances and cultural values by detaching parts from existing substances and values The abstractive process differs from the activity of extractive industries by its focus on the conceptual resources that conceal processes of exploitation associated with extraction The study of abstraction can thus help us attune to the formal operations that make appropriations of value possible while disclosing the politics of extraction and of its representation
