Architectural Regionalism Vincent B. Canizaro,2012-03-20 In this rapidly globalizing world any investigation of architecture inevitably leads to considerations of regionalism But despite its omnipresence in contemporary practice and theory architectural regionalism remains a fluid concept its historical development and current influence largely undocumented This comprehensive reader brings together over 40 key essays illustrating the full range of ideas embodied by the term Authored by important critics historians and architects such as Kenneth Frampton Lewis Mumford Sigfried Giedion and Alan Colquhoun Architectural Regionalism represents the history of regionalist thinking in architecture from the early twentieth century to today

Research Anthology on Rehabilitation Practices and Therapy Management Association, Information Resources,2020-08-21 The availability of practical applications techniques and case studies by international therapists is limited despite expansions to the fields of clinical psychology rehabilitation and counseling As dialogues surrounding mental health grow it is important to maintain therapeutic modalities that ensure the highest level of patient centered rehabilitation and care are met across global networks Research Anthology on Rehabilitation Practices and Therapy is a vital reference source that examines the latest scholarly material on trends and techniques in counseling and therapy and provides innovative insights into contemporary and future issues within the field. Highlighting a range of topics such as psychotherapy, anger management and psychodynamics, this multi-volume book is ideally designed for mental health professionals, counselors, therapists, clinical psychologists, sociologists, social workers, researchers, students and social science academicians seeking coverage on significant advances in rehabilitation and therapy.

Cultural Influences on Architecture Koç, Gülşah, Claes, Marie-Therese, Christiansen, Bryan, 2016-10-19. A society's culture is a contributing factor to the structure and design of its architecture. As contemporary globalism brings about the evolution of the world, architectural style evolves along with it, which can be observed on an international scale. Cultural Influences on Architecture is a pivotal reference source for the latest research on the impact of culture on architecture through the aspects of planning and production and highlights the importance of communicative dimension in design. Featuring exhaustive coverage on a variety of relevant perspectives and topics such as the evolution of construction systems, benefits of nature-based architecture and fundamentals of social capital, this publication is ideally designed for researchers, scholars and students seeking current research on the connection between culture and architecture on a global level.

Identity by Design Georgia Butina-Watson, Ian Bentley, 2007-06-07. In a world of increasing globalisation where one high street becomes interchangeable with the next, Identity by Design addresses the idea of place making and the concept of identity, looking at how these things can be considered as an integral part of the design process. Structured around a series of case studies including Prague, Mexico, Malaysia and Boston, the authors discuss an array of design approaches to explain and define the complex interrelated concepts. The concluding sections of the book suggest ideas for practical application in future design processes. With full colour images throughout, this book takes the discussion of place identity to the next level and will be valuable reading for all architects, urban designers, planners and landscape architects.
