In your hands, O Lord,
we humbly entrust our brothers and sisters.

In this life you embraced them
with your tender love;
deliver them now from every
evil

and bid them eternal rest.
The old order has passed away:
welcome them into paradise,
where there will be no sorrow,
no weeping or pain,
but fullness of peace and joy with your Son and the Holy Spirit forever and ever.
Amen.

Volume 4 (2013)* ,2013-11-21 Prayer is a phenomenon which seems to be characteristic not only of participants in every religion but also men and women who do not identify with traditional religions It can be practised even by those who do not believe either in a God or transcendent force In this sense therefore we may assert that the prayer is a typically human activity that has accompanied the development of different civilizations over the course of the centuries Both the material issues of concrete daily life as well as more symbolic elements expressed through words gestures body positions and community celebration are brought together in the act of praying     Bubbe Meises Ronald H. Isaacs,2008 Jews have had a long and illustrious history and it is not surprising that over the centuries many misunderstandings myths misconceptions and bubbe meises have been circulated and handed down from generation to generation The process has continued through our own day     On Prayers to the Dead Joseph Gayle Hurd Barry,1922     Prayers of Jewish Women Markus H. McDowell,2006 Markus McDowell examines how the literature of the Second Temple period portrays women at prayer through an examination of the literary context and character of those prayers The goal of this work is a greater understanding of how women were portrayed in literary sources and an offering of some fresh insights for the study of women s religious and social roles in the ancient world The texts are analyzed and categorized within five areas social location content form occasion and gender perspective The prayers are also compared and contrasted with men s prayers in the same sources The analysis includes locating as much as possible the historical literary and cultic context of each document in which these prayers appear By examining all prayers in these texts uttered by women not just prayers of named or prominent women and then comparing them with all the prayers of men in those same texts certain patterns appear This study adds to our knowledge of women and religion in Second Temple Judaism by primarily exploring patterns that appear among the prayers in the literature of the Second Temple period While there are fewer prayers by women than men in this literature the prayers of women are not portrayed as significantly different from those of men in terms of social location content form or occasion At the same time the prayers of women exhibit other patterns of language and in a minor way form and occasion that differ from the prayers of men      The People's Work Frank C. Senn, 2010-08-10 Frank Senn ventures behind the liturgical screen behind the texts and behind the rubrics to reconstruct the everyday religious expression in Christian history Senn's magisterial Christian Liturgy Catholic and Evangelical 1997 has been widely hailed for its appreciation of the dynamic role of culture in shaping liturgical expression In The People's Work Senn delves further into the cultural home of liturgy looking at processions and pilgrimage communion practices and spiritual reading fasting and feasting all the myriad liturgical practices that have been the concrete life and primary work of the body of Christ      *The Garden of the Soul ...
