A contribution to current conversations in memory studies and spectrality studies, Mind the Ghost is an experiment in reading ghosts otherwise. It explores through contemporary fiction in French sites of textual haunting that take the form of names lists, objects, photographs, and stains. The book turns to Jacques Derrida and Hélène Cixous to rethink what constitutes and functions as a ghost, proposing that this figure solicits readers' investment in mnemonic practices. Considering the memories and legacies of violence that have marked the greater part of the twentieth century in Algeria, Bosnia, Croatia, France, and Rwanda, this book traces absences, disappearances, and reappearances, textual omissions, and untimely interruptions to posit literature's power to both remember and communicate beyond the bounds of chronological time. Through close readings of recent fiction by Kaouther Adimi, Jakub Alikavazovic, Gal Faye, Jérôme Ferrari, Patrick Modiano, Lydie Salvayre, Leïla Sebbar, and Cécile Wajsbrot, Mind the Ghost articulates the mechanisms through which readers themselves become haunted. The Ghost Host: Episode 1 DelSheree Gladden, 2023-12-27 Everyone thinks Echo Simmons is crazy, but being The Ghost Host isn't just a YouTube hoax.

The Traces of Jacques Derrida's Cinema Timothy Holland,2024 Situated at the intersection of film and media studies literary theory and continental philosophy The Traces of Jacques Derrida s Cinema provides a trenchant account of the role of cinema in the oeuvre of one of the most influential philosophers of the twentieth century Jacques Derrida 1930 2004 The book is animated by Derrida s self confessed passion for the movies his reluctance to write about film despite the range of his corpus and the generative encounters arising between his legacy and the field of film and media studies as a result Given the expanse of its references interdisciplinarity and consideration of Derrida s approach to the experience of both spectatorship and the act of being filmed The Traces of Jacques Derrida s Cinema contributes to the ongoing close analyses of the philosopher's work while also providing a rigorous introduction to deconstruction. Author Timothy Holland interweaves historical and speculative modes of research and writing to articulate the peripheral yet surprisingly crucial place of the cinematic medium for Derrida and his philosophical enterprise. The outcome is a meticulously detailed survey of the centers and margins of Derrida's oeuvre that include forays into such terrain as his notable appearances in films, an unrealized project on cinema, and belief that Derrida proposed in a 2001 interview the correspondences between the strategies of deconstruction and the traditions, homecomings, and wordplay of David Lynch's cinematic media and the questions wedded to the future of film studies amid the vicissitudes of the modern virtual university. Ultimately, Holland pursues the thinking activated by the flickering of Derrida's cinema: not only the absence and presence of film in Derrida's professional and personal life but also the rigor of academic discourse and the pleasures of the movies, ghosts, and technology, religious faith, and scientific knowledge, and ruination and survival as a critical chance for reflection.

Popular Ghosts Maria del Pilar Blanco, Esther Peeren, 2010-04-01 Located in the ambivalent realm between life and death, ghosts have always inspired cultural fascination as well as theoretical consideration.

Apart from Modernism Robin Peel, 2005 The study emphasizes the crucial role that Wharton's contact with Europe had on her writing and the significance, intellectually and politically, of her relationship with Morton Fullerton and her reading of his books on politics. It locates Wharton in her period, surrounded as she was by discourses which called for political and social change, change which an outlook that Peel calls American Toryism made her reluctant to embrace. Her love of motorcars and her excitement about other technological developments, such as aeroplanes, was inspired by a feeling of exclusivity and not the democratization of culture which she feared and condemned. France, England, Italy, and America formed the quartet of countries that contained the best and worst of culture, and Peel emphasizes how ironical it was that a writer whose ideological beliefs endorsed the importance of home roots and tradition should have spent so much of her life as a restless, apparently rootless traveler.
