A Question Of Identity Women Science And Literature:

A Question of Identity Marina Benjamin, 1993 Women Science and Literature Through a Glass Darkly. Women in the Scientific Elite Izolda Takács, 2022 The primary goal of this book is to present the career paths of female academics and doctors of science to show gender stereotypes that still exist among scientists and to explore the factors that have helped and hindered them in their careers In addition the aim is to show whether any inhibitory factors had aspects that can be traced back to gender discrimination as well as how doctors of science and or academics of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences have managed to overcome the obstacles posed by traditional gender roles Furthermore the book also deals with general issues relating to the role of women in society Therefore a chapter is included which examines the equalities between women and men as fundamental human rights and highlights the general philosophical issues of gender inequality and the origins of binary oppositions as well as the problems of gender bias in the workplace and organisational climate The book is addressed to both professional audiences as well as anyone wishing to have an overview of new approaches to the questions and problems mentioned above Geography, Science and National Identity Charles W. J. Withers, 2001-10-04 Charles Withers book brings together work on the history of geography and the history of science with extensive archival analysis to explore how geographical knowledge has been used to shape an understanding of the nation Using Scotland as an exemplar the author places geographical knowledge in its wider intellectual context to afford insights into perspectives of empire national identity and the geographies of science In so doing he advances a new area of geographical enquiry the historical geography of geographical knowledge and demonstrates how and why different forms of geographical knowledge have been used in the past to constitute national identity and where those forms were constructed and received The book will make an important contribution to the study of nationhood and empire and will therefore interest historians as well as students of historical geography and historians of science It is theoretically engaging empirically rich and beautifully illustrated Literature and Science, 1660-1834, Part I. Volume 1 Judith Hawley, 2024-10-28 This volume reproduces primary texts which embody the polymathic nature of the literature of science and provides editorial overviews and extensive references to provide a resource for specialized academics and researchers with a broad cultural interest in the long 18th century Representations of the Post/human Elaine L. Graham, 2002 This work draws together a wide range of literature on contemporary technologies and their ethical implications It focuses on advances in medical reproductive genetic and information technologies Seduction Lee Quinby, 2018-09-05 Who among us still thinks the year 2000 is just an arbitrary turn of a calendar page Why does its approach bring both fear of apocalyptic destruction and the promise of millennial salvation Lee Quinby investigates how anxiety about the arrival of the new century casts everything from El Ni o to sheep cloning in apocalyptic terms simultaneously fueling panic and fostering unfounded hope for a perfect world Millennial rhetoric is both pervasive and persuasive Quinby argues because it operates with mutually reinforcing doses of fear and hope Religious and secular anxiety erupts over charged issues such as sex education the regulation of cyberspace and the Christian masculinity of the Promise Keepers Quinby exposes the dangers of millennialist solutions which link misogyny homophobia and racism with absolutist claims about truth morality sexuality and technology It is the absolutism of apocalyptic thought not an impending apocalypse that poses the more serious threat to our society Quinby maintains Millennial Seduction advocates a form of skepticism that challenges absolutism and encourages democratic participation Picture World Rachel Teukolsky, 2020 Explores the ways in which new forms of visual culture such as such as the illustrated newspaper the cheap caricature cartoon the affordable illustrated book the portrait photograph and the advertising poster worked to shape key Victorian aesthetic Centuries' Ends, Narrative Means Interdisciplinary Group for Historical Literary Study, 1996 This pathbreaking work uses the approaching conclusion of the second millennium as a context for discussing questions concerning temporal division and narrative continuity It investigates assumptions about teleology and eschatology while exploring the ways in which temporal division affects the creation and production of cultural texts and reciprocally the ways in which narrative techniques forms and conventions shape explain and justify history Through this exploration the volume examines how temporal thresholds tend simultaneously to reinforce and to disrupt conceptual boundaries. The sixteen essays use the significance typically invested in historical junctures marked by a centenary advance to investigate perceived paradigm shifts and the consequent reactions to these implicit and explicit transitions By doing so they also seek to illuminate the relations between narrative and history and to enhance understanding of our present historical moment Looking for Longitude Katy Barrett, 2022-11-17 Why make a joke out of a niche and complex scientific problem That is the question at the heart of this book which unearths the rich and surprising history of trying to find longitude at sea in the eighteenth century Not simply a history on water this is the story of longitude on paper of the discussions satires diagrams engravings novels plays poems and social anxieties that shaped how people understood longitude in William Hogarth's London We start from a figure in one of Hogarth's prints a lunatic incarcerated in the madhouse of A Rake's Progress in 1735 to unpick the visual mental and social concerns which entwined around the national concern to find a solution to longitude Why does longitude appear in novels smutty stories political critiques copyright cases religious tracts and dictionaries as much as in government papers This sheds new light on the first government scientific funding body the Board of Longitude established to administer vast reward money for anyone who found a means of accurately measuring longitude at sea Meet the cast of characters involved in the search for longitude from famous novelists and artists to almost unknown pamphleteers and inventors and see how their interactions informed the fate of longitude s most famous pursuer the clockmaker John Harrison In Lady Audley's Shadow Saverio Tomaiuolo, 2010-10-05 This book is devoted to Mary Elizabeth Braddon's complex relationship with the three main Victorian literary genres the Gothic the Detective and the Realist novel Using Braddon's bestselling sensation fiction Lady Audley's Secret as a paradigmatic novel and as a haunting textual presence across her literary career this study provides a fertile critical reading of a wide range of Braddon's novels and short stories Through an analysis of Braddon's negotiations with Victorian narrative ideological and cultural issues this monograph offers readers a refreshing view of gender female identity and subjectivity the treatment of insanity questions related to technology and progress the impact of evolutionism and Darwinism the intersemiotic dialogue between pictorial art and novel writing the role of the female writer in the new literary market and the changing notion of capital in an increasingly fluid social context Braddon's manipulation of Victorian literary codes and conventions proves that she was something more than a mere sensation writer and that her primary role in the nineteenth century literary scene has to be reaffirmed Drawing on a wide range of textual materials and literary sources the book foregrounds Braddon's constant and sometimes ambivalent dialogue with her times and with ours Mother Without Child Elaine Tuttle Hansen, 1997-01-01 This is a conceptually innovative book which expands the as well meaning of motherhood to include mothers without child it is also a compassionate political book which refuses the boundary between good enough and bad mothers Mother Without Child is an engaging witty and provocative literary study which should fascinate anyone who is interested in mothering or in looking for new ways to talk about motherhood without erasing some women s experience or dividing mothers from each other Sara Ruddick author of Maternal Thinking Toward a Politics of Peace Hansen positions her study in a genuinely new space taboo ground which demands not only a great deal of courage to address but also enormous intelligence and insight Hansen is up to this task hers is a pioneer study that will have a significant impact on the ways that non procreative motherhood is discussed and understood Madelon Sprengnether author of The Spectral Mother Freud Feminism and Psychoanalysis Since the beginnings of the second wave of feminism in the 1960s feminist scholars have been obsessed with motherhood Mother Without Child takes us to the next stage in this fascinated and fascinating exploration Through illuminating readings of contemporary stories of thwarted motherhood Hansen challenges the persistent and constraining definitions of the good and even the good enough mother She enjoins us to listen to the moving devastating and often inspiring stories of mothers who survive the loss of their children and she urges us to find there not the angry voices of feminist daughters who cannot forgive their patriarchal mothers but alternative stories of a different maternity that can lead us to alternative plots and visions of women s lives We need this book Marianne Hirsch author of The Mother Daughter Plot Narrative Psychoanalysis Feminism A careful committed and freshly clarifying voice Hansen's graceful prose and finely interwoven explorations are much needed at this time Through readings of contemporary fiction she enriches our vocabulary for discussing the overdetermined topic of motherhood and deepens our understanding of both its psychological and contemporary political dimensions Mother Without Child is a book for historians and social scientists as well as literary scholars Laura Doyle author of Bordering on the Body The Racial Matrix of Modern Fiction and Culture The Victorian Freak Show Lillian Craton, 2009 The Victorian freak show was at once mainstream and subversive Spectacles of strange exotic and titillating bodies drew large middle class audiences in England throughout much of the nineteenth century and souvenir portraits of performing freaks even found their way into Victorian family albums At the same time the imagery and practices of the freak show shocked Victorian sensibilities and sparked controversy about both the boundaries of physical normalcy and morality in entertainment Marketing tactics for the freak show often made use of common ideological assumptions compulsory female domesticity and British imperial authority for instance but reflected these ideas with the surreal distortion of a fun house mirror Not surprisingly the popular fiction written for middle class Victorian readers also calls upon imagery of extreme physical difference and the odd bodied characters that people nineteenth century fiction raise meaningful questions about the relationships between physical difference and the social expectations that shaped Victorian life This book is primarily an aesthetic analysis of freak show imagery as it appears in Victorian popular fiction including the works of Charles Dickens Wilkie Collins Guy de Maupassant Florence Marryat and Lewis Carroll It argues that in spite of a strong nineteenth century impulse to define and defend normalcy images of radical physical difference are often framed in surprisingly positive ways in Victorian fiction. The dwarves fat people and bearded ladies who intrude on the more conventional imagery of Victorian novels serve to shift the meaning of those works main plots and characters sometimes sharpening satires of the nineteenth century treatment of the poor or disabled sometimes offering new traits and behaviors as supplements for restrictive social norms Book Jacket Reader's Guide to the History of Science Arne Hessenbruch, 2013-12-16 The Reader's Guide to the History of Science looks at the literature of science in some 550 entries on individuals Einstein institutions and disciplines Mathematics general themes Romantic Science and central concepts Paradigm and Fact The history of science is construed widely to include the history of medicine and technology as is reflected in the range of disciplines from which the international team of 200 contributors are drawn

Nervous Reactions Joel Faflak, Julia M. Wright, 2012-02-01 Nervous Reactions considers Victorian responses to Romanticism particularly the way in which the Romantic period was frequently constructed in Victorian era texts as a time of nervous or excitable authors and readers at odds with Victorian values of self restraint moderation and stolidity Represented in various ways as a threat to social order as a desirable freedom of feeling as a pathological weakness that must be cured this nervousness both about and of the Romantics is an important though as yet unaddressed concern in Victorian responses to Romantic texts By attending to this nervousness the essays in this volume offer a new consideration not only of the relationship between the Victorian and Romantic periods but also of the ways in which our own responses to Romanticism have been mediated by this Victorian attention to Romantic excitability Considering editions and biographies as well as literary and critical responses to Romantic writers the volume addresses a variety of discursive modes and genres and brings to light a number of authors not normally included in the longstanding category of Victorian Romanticism on the Romantic side not just Wordsworth Keats and P B Shelley but also Byron S T Coleridge Thomas De Quincey Mary Shelley and Mary Wollstonecraft and on the Victorian side not just Thomas Carlyle and the Brownings but also Sara Coleridge George Eliot

Elizabeth Gaskell Archibald Lampman and J S Mill Contributors include D M R Bentley Kristen Guest Joel Faflak Grace Kehler Donelle Ruwe Alan Vardy Lisa Vargo Timothy J Wandling Joanne Wilkes and Julia M Wright Hysterical Men Mark S MICALE, Mark S Micale, 2009-06-30 Over the course of several centuries Western masculinity has successfully established itself as the voice of reason knowledge and sanity he basis for patriarchal rule in the face of massive testimony to the contrary This book boldly challenges this triumphant vision of the stable and secure male by examining the central role played by modern science and medicine in constructing and sustaining it Frankenstein's Science Christa Knellwolf King, Jane R. Goodall, 2008 Frankenstein's Science contextualizes this widely taught novel in contemporary scientific and literary debates providing new historical scholarship into areas of science and pseudo science that generated fierce controversy in Mary Shelley's time anatomy A Companion to the History of Science Bernard Lightman, 2019-11-12 The Wiley Blackwell Companion to the History of Science is a single volume companion that discusses the history of science as it is done today providing a survey of the debates and issues that dominate current scholarly discussion with contributions from leading international scholars Provides a single volume overview of current scholarship in the history of science edited by one of the leading figures in the field Features forty essays by leading international scholars providing an overview of the key debates and developments in the history of science Reflects the shift towards deeper historical contextualization within the field Helps communicate and integrate perspectives from the history of science with other areas of historical inquiry Includes discussion of non Western themes which are integrated throughout the chapters Divided into four sections based on key analytic categories that reflect new approaches in the field Memorious Discourse Christian Moraru, 2005 While other types of discourse cover up gloss over or play down what they have borrowed and therefore owe the postmodern eagerly acknowledges its textual and cultural debt Moreover it turns this indebtedness into an unexpected source of creativity and originality In his wide ranging discussion of contemporary writers and theorists Moraru notes that postmodernism characteristically represents That is it actively remembers and to use a musical term reprises former representations These need not be infinite in number as in Borges but must be and usually are retrieved with sufficient obviousness Jacket Marriage of Minds Rachel Ablow, 2007 The Marriage of Minds examines the implications of the common Victorian claim that novel reading can achieve the psychic ethical and affective benefits also commonly associated with sympathy in married life Through close readings of canonical texts in relation to the histories of sympathy marriage and reading The Marriage of Minds begins to fill a long standing gap between eighteenth century philosophical notions of sympathy and twentieth century psychoanalytic concepts of identification It examines the wide variety of ways in which novels were understood to educate or reform readers in the mid nineteenth century Finally it demonstrates how both the form of the Victorian novel and the experience supposed to result from that form were implicated in ongoing debates about the nature purpose and law of marriage Monstrous Anatomies Raul Calzoni, Greta Perletti, 2015-09-16 The book explores the significance and

dissemination of monstrous anatomies in British and German culture by investigating how and why scientific and literary representations and descriptions of abnormal bodies were proposed in the late Enlightenment during the Romantic and the Victorian Age Since the investigations of late 18th Century natural sciences the fascination with monstrous anatomies has proved crucial to the study of human physiology and pathology Featuring essays by a number of scholars focusing on a wide range of literary texts from the long nineteenth century and foregrounding the most important monstrous anatomies of the time this book intends to offer a significant contribution to the study of the representations of the abnormal body in modern culture
