Contesting Earth's History in Transatlantic Literary Culture, 1860-1935 Richard Fallon, 2025-02-14 By the mid nineteenth century geologists and palaeontologists had reconstructed an authoritative narrative of Earth s deep history from the planet s molten origins to the rise of humanity Many figures in transatlantic science across subsequent decades however had problems with this narrative it was too secular inhuman and evolutionary or controlled too exclusively by elite scientists Speaking from palaeoscience's unevenly professionalized and controversy racked borders Christian fundamentalists charismatic psychics and respected scholars alike voiced their objections Until now no study has brought their work together for detailed comparative analysis Spanning from the 1860s to the interwar decades Contesting Earth's History examines the fascinating stories of five significant examples of fringe or borderline palaeoscience old and young earth creationism hollow earth theory clairvoyant time travel and sunken continent catastrophism Innovatively combining methods from literary studies with the history of science this book attends not just to the conceptual content of these strange sciences but also to their proponents communication of truth claims through diverse genres ranging from the scientific textbook and the technical monograph to the lost world romance and the epic poem By paying close attention to the hitherto overlooked textual forms and literary strategies of these works of pseudoscience this volume throws into relief the variant conceptions of audience evidence and method that jostled and competed in wider scientific culture during this period It also demonstrates that for all their diversity authors of borderline palaeoscience shared the desire to shift the balance of power creating textual spaces where exclusive hierarchies of scientific expertise could be levelled away These conjurors of lost worlds often captivated wide audiences and many of their bizarre astonishing and iconoclastic ideas remain with us to this day Some even inspired early science fiction by the likes of H P Lovecraft and Edgar Rice Burroughs Hijacking geologists and palaeontologists longstanding effort at making the prehistoric past visible authors on the borderlines of palaeoscience asserted their right to scientific authority and encouraged readers to gaze into time's abyss with bold new eyes

The Image of the Feminine in the Poetry of W.B. Yeats and Angelos Sikelianos Anastasia Psoni, 2018-12-19 Modernism as a powerful movement saw the literary and artistic traditions as well as pure science starting to evolve radically creating a crisis even chaos in culture and society Within this chaos myth offered an ordered picture of that world employing symbolic and poetic images Both W B Yeats and Angelos Sikelianos embraced myth and symbols because they liberate imagination and raise human consciousness bringing together humans and the cosmos Being opposed to the rigidity of scientific materialism that inhibits spiritual development the two poets were waiting for a new age and a new religion expecting that they themselves would inspire their community and usher in the change In their longing for a new age archaeology was a magnetic field for Yeats and Sikelianos as it was for many writers and thinkers After Sir Arthur Evans's discovery of the Minoan Civilization where women appeared so peacefully prominent the dream of re-creating a gynocentric mythology was no longer a fantasy In Yeats's and Sikelianos's gynocentric mythology the feminine figure appears in various forms and like in a drama it plays different roles Significantly a gynocentric mythology permeates the work of the two poets and this mythology is of pivotal importance in their poetry their poetics and even in their life as the intensity of their creative desire brought to them female personalities to inspire and guide them Indeed in Yeats's and Sikelianos's gynocentric mythology the image of the feminine holds a place within a historical context taking the reader into a larger social political and religious space
