Fifty Essays Samuel S. Cohen, 2004 The End of Prisons. Mechthild E. Nagel, Anthony J. Nocella, 2013-05-01 This book brings together a collection of social justice scholars and activists who take Foucault's concept of discipline and punishment to explain how prisons are constructed in society from nursing homes to zoos This book expands the concept of prison to include any institution that dominates oppresses and controls Criminologists and others who have been concerned with reforming or dismantling the criminal justice system have mostly avoided to look at larger carceral structures in society In this book for example scholars and activists question the way patriarchy has incapacitated women and imagine the deinstitutionalization of people with disabilities In a time when popular sentiment critiques the dominant role of the elites the one percenters the state's role in policing dissenting voices school children LGBTQ persons people of color and American Indian Nations needs to be investigated A prison as defined in this book is an institution or system that oppresses and does not allow freedom for a particular group Within this definition we include the imprisonment of nonhuman animals and plants which are too often overlooked On History and Memory in Arab Literature and Western Poetics Bootheina Majoul, Yosra Amraoui, 2020-10-06 Texts act like receptacles for an ever present remembered past or what the French philosopher Paul Ricœur calls the present representation of an absent thing They might embody an efficient remedy to forgetting but could also become a vivid testimony for exorcised traumas This volume focuses on Ricœur's phenomenology of memory epistemology of history and hermeneutics of forgetting A special emphasis is laid on the dissension between individual and collective institutional memory Teaching U.S.-Educated Multilingual Writers Mark Roberge, Kay M. Losey, Margi Wald, 2015-06-04 This volume was born to address the lack of classroom oriented scholarship regarding U.S. educated multilingual writers Unlike prior volumes about U.S. educated multilinguals this book focuses solely on pedagogy from classroom activities and writing assignments to course curricula and pedagogical support programs outside the immediate classroom Unlike many pedagogical volumes that are written in the voice of an expert researcher theorist this volume is based on the notion of teachers sharing practices with teachers All of the contributors are teachers who are writing about and reflecting on their own experiences and outcomes and interweaving those experiences and outcomes with current theory and research in the field The volume thus portrays teachers as active reflective participants engaged in critical inquiry Contributors represent community college college and university contexts academic ESL developmental writing and first year composition classes and face to face hybrid and online contexts This book was developed primarily to meet the needs of practicing writing teachers in college level ESL basic writing and college composition classrooms but will also be useful to pre-service teachers in TESOL Composition and Education graduate programs 50 Essays Samuel Cohen, 2006-11-06 50 Essays A Portable Anthology directly addresses students and instructors concerns that composition readers are too expensive and too large At less than half the size and price of comparable readers 50 Essays meets the needs of a wide variety of classrooms The carefully chosen table of contents presents enough familiarity to reassure instructors enough novelty to keep things interesting and enough variety to accommodate many different teaching needs The editorial apparatus has been designed to support that variety of needs without being intrusive In its second edition 50 Essays continues to offer selections that instructors love to teach with even more flexibility and more support for academic writing

Kann,1998-04-01 What role did manhood play in early American Politics In A Republic of Men Mark E Kann argues that the American founders aspired to create a republic of men but feared that disorderly men threatened its birth health and longevity Kann demonstrates how hegemonic norms of manhood exemplified by the Family Man for instance were deployed as a means of stigmatizing unworthy men rewarding responsible men with citizenship and empowering exceptional men with positions of leadership and authority while excluding women from public life Kann suggests that the founders committed themselves in theory to the democratic proposition that all men were created free and equal and could not be governed without their own consent but that they in no way believed that all men could be trusted with equal liberty equal citizenship or equal authority The founders developed a grammar of manhood to address some difficult questions about public order Were America s disorderly men qualified for citizenship Were they likely to recognize manly leaders consent to their authority and defer to their wisdom A Republic of Men compellingly analyzes the ways in which the founders used a rhetoric of manhood to stabilize American politics The Evolution ,1877 Library Journal Melvil Dewey,Karl Brown,Bertine Emma Weston,Helen E. Courage,2011-08-27 The Muse in Bronzeville a dynamic reappraisal of a neglected period in African American cultural history is the first comprehensive critical study of the creative awakening that occurred on Chicago s South Side from the early 1930s to the cold war Coming of age during the hard Depression years and in the wake of the Great Migration this generation of Black creative artists produced works of literature music and visual art fully comparable in distinction and scope to the achievements of the Harlem Renaissance This highly informative and accessible work enhanced with reproductions of paintings of the same period examines Black Chicago s Renaissance through richly anecdotal profiles of such figures as Richard Wright Gwendolyn Brooks Margaret Walker Charles White Gordon Parks Horace Cayton Muddy Waters Mahalia Jackson and Katherine Dunham

Robert Bone and Richard A. Courage make a powerful case for moving Chicago's Bronzeville long overshadowed by New York's Harlem from a peripheral to a central position within African American and American studies Athenaeum and Literary Chronicle James Silk Buckingham, John Sterling, Frederick Denison Maurice, Henry Stebbing, Charles Wentworth Dilke, Thomas Kibble Hervey, William Hepworth Dixon, Norman Maccoll, Vernon Horace Rendall, John Middleton Murry, 1833
