Helping Women Recover has set the standard for best practice in the field of women's treatment. Helping Women Recover is a manualized treatment intervention based on Dr. Covington's Women's Integrated Treatment (WIT) model, offering a program developed to meet the unique needs of women addicted to alcohol, other drugs, and those with co-occurring disorders. Included in SAMHSA's National Registry of Evidence-based Programs and Practices, the Helping Women Recover program offers counselors, mental health professionals, and program administrators the tools they need to implement a gender-responsive, trauma-informed treatment program in group settings or with individual women in criminal justice settings. Now in its third edition, this binder set includes a hands-on participant's journal that has been updated with new material on opioid addictions, how to become trauma-informed and gender-responsive, LGBTQ issues, and more. Updated references, further reading suggestions, and a chapter for facilitators which includes the challenges of working in the criminal justice system help practitioners to effectively implement the program in daily practice. A vital tool for all mental health and addiction treatment professionals, Helping Women Recover draws from the most up-to-date theory and practical applications in the fields of addiction and trauma. It covers the historical background and fundamental principles of gender-responsive services, provides guidance for facilitating an effective woman's treatment program, offers real-world insights on the role of the facilitator, and includes an appendix of additional recovery resources such as The Sixteen Steps for Discovery, Empowerment, and Women for Sobriety, New Life Program, and Acceptance Statements. Helping Women Recover is essential for mental health and addiction treatment professionals, including counselors, therapists, social workers, psychologists, and psychiatrists who work with women. In HWR, it is essential for anyone providing services to women in criminal justice settings.

A Man's Workbook
Stephanie S. Covington, Dan Griffin, Rick Dauer, 2011-01-18. A Man's Workbook offers a companion product that is tied seamlessly to the Helping Men Recover Facilitator's Guide. This participant workbook has four modules: self-relationships, sexuality, and spirituality, and allows men to process and record the therapeutic experience. It contains exercises for use in group sessions, summaries of information presented from the facilitator's guide, and reflection questions and activities for use after group sessions. There is also a criminal justice version of the workbook which is designed specifically for men in criminal justice settings.
