Sustainable Events Management Razaq Raj, Kevin A. Griffin, 2024-05-14 This book introduces the reader to sustainable events management theory and practice based on academic research and illustrated with empirical case studies. The book provides a comprehensive view of sustainable management and how it relates to the many sectors within the events industry. It emphasises the fundamental importance of local communities, businesses, and stakeholders to events organisation in regional, national, and international locations. It brings into focus international governing bodies and national government strategic objectives as the corner stones for sustainable development in the events sector. The relationship between strategic objectives and on the ground operational responsibilities are presented using research by contributing authors and accredited organisations to add scope and depth. Best practice case studies are used throughout the book to highlight and explain particular sustainable management issues and practices. The scope of the book is international and designed to educate undergraduate and postgraduate students and to support practitioners in their operational and administrative duties within their industry sectors.

Reconceptualising the Learning Crisis in Africa Kwame Akyeampong, Sean Higgins, 2025-06-16 This book offers a powerful post colonial rejection of the so called global learning crisis that offers deficit models of the experiences, knowledges, identities, and relationships of African children eroding their agency and dignity and undermining their learning opportunities and potential. Three case studies of three accelerated learning programmes (ALPs) for out of school and lower achieving children in Ethiopia, Liberia, and Ghana illustrate multi dimensional models that re envision the purposes and pedagogies of basic education, reconnect with the lived experiences of African children and teachers, and promote the role of communities in improving children's learning. Drawing on diverse social theory, the chapters reveal the use of children's funds of identity and knowledge, a material engagement with their natural environment, and highlight the transformative use of local languages. This book ultimately proves that a holistic approach to learning based on the relational and community rooted African philosophy of Ubuntu produces vital personal and academic benefits for African children. This book will be of great interest to academics, researchers, and postgraduate students in the fields of international and comparative education, postcolonial studies, African education, education policy, and transformative pedagogy. It will also appeal to development strategists and NGOs working with the Education for All agenda.

The Sandbox Investment David L. Kirp, 2009-06-30 Listen to a short interview with David L. Kirp. Host: Chris Gondek, Producer: Heron Crane. The rich have always valued early education, and for the past forty years, millions of poor kids have had Head Start. Now more and more middle class parents have realized that a good preschool is the smartest investment they can make in their children's future in a competitive world. As The Sandbox Investment shows, their needs are key to the growing call for universal preschool. Writing with the verve of a magazine journalist and the authority of a scholar, David L.

Kirp makes the ideal guide to this quiet movement. He crouches in classrooms where committed teachers engage lively four year olds and reveals the findings of an extraordinary longitudinal study that shows the life changing impact of preschool. He talks with cutting edge researchers from neuroscience and genetics to economics whose findings increasingly show how powerfully early childhood shapes the arc of children's lives. Kids first politics is smart economics: paying for preschool now can help save us from paying for unemployment, crime and emergency rooms later. As Kirp reports from the inside, activists and political leaders have turned this potent idea into campaigns and policies in red and blue states alike. The Sandbox Investment is the first full story of a campaign that asks Americans to endorse a vision of society that does well by doing good. For anyone who is interested in politics or the social uses of research for anyone who's interested in the children's futures, it is a compelling read.

Haiti International Monetary Fund. Western Hemisphere Dept., 2015-01-05. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY. Haiti's 2006 and 2010 Fund supported programs started under very different circumstances but shared the main objectives of preserving macroeconomic stability and creating the conditions for a sustained growth takeoff through structural reform. The 2006 program started as Haiti was making progress toward macroeconomic stabilization. Reducing inflation and avoiding fiscal dominance of monetary policy were top priorities. The 2010 program started in the aftermath of a devastating earthquake. It faced the challenges of dealing with a huge inflow of aid and scaling up public investment. Both programs aimed to foster reforms to address long standing governance and transparency concerns as well as improving revenue mobilization to increase fiscal space and reduce fiscal vulnerabilities. Growth was to rise to 4.6 percent, an ambitious objective given Haiti's long history of serious fragility with near zero or negative growth. There were notable successes during the two programs. Despite a series of shocks, inflation remained in single digits and international reserves increased by more than expected, which helped to limit exchange rate volatility in the context of the large aid inflow. Program performance criteria effectively eliminated central bank credit to the government, thus reducing risks of fiscal dominance. Structural reforms also advanced, particularly during the 2006 program which coincided with the HIPC process. Revenue administration improved with tax revenue rising steadily over the two programs. These achievements were not negligible given Haiti's history.
